Alexandria Hit Hard As Storms Kill 12 Persons

ALEXANDRIA, La., Nov. 8 (AP) — Tornadoes lashed out at four Southern states last night and today, leaving 12 dead, more than a hundred injured, hundreds homeless.

The damages easily will reach several million dollars.

Alexandria, a city of 40,000 in central Louisiana, absorbed most of the fury. Three died in that area. Louisiana recorded four other deaths, Texas had three and Mississippi two.

A baby twister also struck Selma, Ala., but no one was injured.

Eyewitnesses agreed that the tornadoes were similar in one detail: they were sudden. Heavy thunderstorms muffled their roars of warning. They were swift.

Sweeps 10 Blocks

In Alexandria, the tornado struck out for only six seconds. But much of a 10-block residential section was destroyed or heavily damaged.

In Orange, Tex., Mrs. W. R. Barrett, 35, drove home about 9 p.m. and found that her 15-year-old daughter was frightened.

"As I tried to comfort her, a door blew open and threw us to the floor," Mrs. Barrett said. "I thought lightning had hit. We jumped and ran and crawled under the bed.

"Then we heard people screaming. We looked out the back door and we could see that people were buried under their houses. My daughter fainted."

Rescuers found an 86-year-old blind woman sitting in the wreckage of her daughter's home this morning in Alexandria. The daughter, Mrs. B. M. Williams, said of her blind mother:

Only Calm One

"She was the only calm one in the house when the tornado struck. She comforted us and urged us to keep calm through it all. She never complained as we waded in water above our ankles all night."

The dead in the Alexandria area were Mrs. Sam Giacinto, about 65; Dolores Harrison, 2, a Negro girl; and Pearl Rideau, of nearby Boyce.

The other Louisiana dead were Mr. and Mrs. Ovey Melancoln, 56 and 52, of Carencro, and Homer Richard, 54, and Lucius Courville, 88, of Higginbotham.

Three persons died in Texas as their homes fell apart, trapping them. They were Clay Zeringue, 82, of Groves, R. T. Smith, 70, Groves, and Mrs. Annebell Peck, a 40-year-old expectant mother, of Orange.

Searchers in Greenwood, Miss., found the clasped bodies of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Parker some distance from their home. It appeared that Parker had tried to shield his wife from a twister.

Alexandria Damage High From Storm

ALEXANDRIA, La., Nov. 8 (AP)— "I came to under the kitchen sink. There was wreckage all around. I don't know how I got there. If I was to crawl under there now, I couldn't do it."

The words came slowly. More than 12 hours after a tornado levelled his restaurant, S. M. Mitchell still was stunned.

As he talked, he drank a soft drink from one of the shattered refrigerators. The bottle shook as he tilted it.

Mitchell was closing up shortly after 9 p.m. "I was in the kitchen when I heard it come. It was like a runaway freight train. After that I don't know what happened."

The slender, dark-haired restaurant owner suffered from shock, but otherwise was not injured seriously. He estimated his loss at about $5,000 in restaurant fixtures.

No Insurance

"I haven't got any insurance," Mitchell said, "but I don't care about the money. I'm very thankful to be alive."

An adjoining grocery store also was demolished, with only three or four feet of brick walls left standing.

Across the street diagonally from the restaurant a Negro church had been lifted up and dropped on a house, leaving twist-

Senate Picks Attorney For Missile Probe

WASHINGTON, Nov. (UP)— The Senate Preparedness Subcommittee appointed a special attorney today to direct its big investigation of the U.S. missile-satellite program.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson, subcommttee chairman, said the attorney, Edwin L. Weisl of New York, had accepted the post of special counsel "as a patriotic duty." He said Weisl would begin at once to prepare for the hearings which will get under way later this month.

Weisl, a native of Chicago, once served as a special assistant attorney general in the Justice Department. He also has handled assignments for the Treasury Department and the old War Production Board.

Mixed Reaction

Meanwhile, President Esenhower's speech Thursday night, in which he appointed Dr. James R. Killian as his special scientific adviser, continued to draw mixed reacton.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), a member of the Senate Armed Services committee, praised Killian's appointment but said "we still need and we still do not have a full-time boss for the missiles program at the presidential level."

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said in a speech at Reno, Nev., that the administration's inability to meet the new scientific challenge was "frighteningly revealed" by Russia's two satellites.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) called for "more egg-heads and fewer fat heads" and an end to "anti-intellectualism."

Mississippi Areas Struck By Tornadoes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tornadoes twisted into four Mississippi counties late Thursday and early Friday, leaving two persons dead and three others injured and destroying whatever buildings were in their paths.

The twisters hit near Cruger, Greenwood, Philadelphia and Grenada. The same weather conditions that sired the tornadoes brought high winds and lashing rains to most of western Mississippi.

A funneling wind sucked up the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Parker near Cruger, south of Greenwood, Thursday and dropped it some 250 yards away. The Parkers, clutching each other for protection, died in the debris.

Crumples Tower

The tornado skipped several miles and dropped onto Greenwood, crumpling the steel highway safety patrol radio tower and bringing street-flooding rains to the city.

Another tornado sledge-hammered its way through the Bond community near Philadelphia, shattering houses and buildings and injuring three Negroes, none seriously.

They were Mattie Lee Harris, 57, Edna Marie Davis, her 4-year-old granddaughter, and Savannah Handord, her 2-year-old niece.

At Grenada, the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Davis was damaged severely when a third tornado slammed into the building just after the Davis family had retired for the night.

High winds howled through Vicksburg, toppling 50 feet of brick wall constructed as part of a walkway between the new Mercy Hospital and the chapel.

Found Parker Dying

At Greenwood, searchers found the 47-year-old Parker dying. He was clutching his 35-year-old wife as though to protect her. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Witnesses said the Cruger tornado destroyed the home, two barns and a cotton gin, strewing the pieces around the area as though a child has kicked his toy house apart.

Protestants Acting To Support Infirm

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)— Protestant leaders have taken the first important step to overcome a long neglect by local churches in meeting the spiritual needs of handicapped persons.

Jesus Christ in his early ministry displayed a special concern for the blind, deaf, crippled and mentally disturbed.

But Protestant leaders have long been aware that most local churches were not meeting their Lord's example. The first important step toward remedying his situation was taken last month.

Representatives of major denominations met at Green Lake, Wis., under the auspices of the National Council of Churches, and agreed to work together "to arouse churches to their responsibility" to provide suitable Christian educational programs for all types of handicapped persons.

Provide Services

There are several million people in this country who suffer from mental or physical handicaps which make it difficult or impossible for them to participate in regular church programs. A comparatively few churches already provide special worship services and religious education classes for them.

At the Green Lake meeting, however, conferees recommended a long-range, co-operative program of training special teachers, preparing special Sunday School curriculum materials, and advising local churches and pastors on specific ways in which they can minister more effectively to the handicapped. They asked that a

Army Gets Clearance For Satellite Launching

Army Voices Confidence In New Mission

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Nov. 8 (UP)—The Army, which has had an earth satellite gathering dust for six months, said today it is "confident" it can carry out the assignment.

In a brief statement which concealed the satisfaction obviously shared by all at the Army's Redstone arsenal missile and rocket center, Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris head of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, said:

"We appreciate opportunity to undertake this challenging assignment and are confident of our ability to carry it out."

Fired 650 Miles Up

The Jupiter-C, an improved version of the Jupiter intermediate range missile, is known to have been fired at least 650 miles up It was a nose cone from the Jupiter-C which President Eisenhower displayed to the nation Thursday night as one which had successfully been fired and returned to earth intact.

Von Braun's satellite was a small one of about 20 pounds and about 20 inches in diameter. It was put together with available parts within limitations of the Jupiter-C project, a high velocity test weapon.

The Jupiter-C satellite assembly has been at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., the missile test site, for at least six months while the Army tried five times in vain to undertake the launching, it was learned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)— Assistant Budget Director Robert E. Merriman said today the U.S. missile program lacked neither money nor manpower and "most certainly is not bogging down."

He said the government was "putting a great deal more resources into missiles than it did into the initial stages" of the World War II atomic bomb project.

Merriman told a House subcommittee investigating alleged manpower waste that U.S. missile procurement had trebeled during the past 3½ years.

Although conceding Russia got off to a head start, he said this country will have spent $6,529,000,000 on missiles from fiscal 1955 through fiscal 1958 which ends next June 30.

After questioning Merriman, the

'Flying Object' Photographed By California Man

ANAHEIM, Calif., Nov. 8 (UP) — A blimp-like "unidentified flying object" that glowed like a railroad flare has been photographed by an amateur cameraman who reported today he had turned the picture over to Air Force investigators.

The picture was taken Wednesday by Ed Leadford of Anaheim at 12:10 a.m. after he sighted the object while driving home.

"It was a weird, strange object, with vivid pinkish red light — just like a railroad flare. It was like gaseous mass," Leadford reported.

Leaford had a camera with him. He set the graphic at a 4.5 setting and shot the object at about 1-10 of a second.

The object for a time seemed to hover over Disneyland Park but officials there said they had not balloons or other airborne objects over the park at any time this week.

The Garden Grove, Calif., Daily News reported that on the night Leadford took his picture the paper received about a dozen calls from persons who said they observed flying objects in the same area.

Padlocks Put On Loan Firms In Mississippi

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP) — Padlocks went on the doors of eight Jackson loan companies today as Mississippi cracked down, under both criminal and civil laws, on what it called usurious money lenders.

Four of the firms are headed by out-of-state men.

State tax collector William F. Winter filed chancery court suits to collect $358,000 from 21 money lenders and loan companies. He acted under laws setting a "privilege tax" for violation of the states 8 per cent ceiling on interest.

At the same time, Dist. Atty. Bob Nichols filed criminal affidavits against 35 persons, identified as owners and operators of loan companies. Most were the same named by Winter.

Writs Served

To back up Winter's action, sheriff's deputies served writs of attachment which had the effect of tieing up all funds of the firms, including bank accounts.

Winter said loan firms have been "draining . thousands of dollars of hard-earned money from the paychecks of Mississippi citizens each year by means of usurious and illegal loans."

The tax collector's suits named and amounts asked:

Ken W. Doehring, St. Charles, Mo., doing business as Modern Finance Co. and Calhoun Loan Brokers, both of Jackson; suit seeks 72,800.

J. L. Bennett Jr., Waycross, Ga., doing business as Service Finance Co., Royal Brokerage Co., and Bell Brokerage Co., of Jackson, $39,200.

Selman Property Restriction Eased

The federal government has opened the door for the City of Monroe to use over 1,000 acres at Selman Field for long-term leases, Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard announced yesterday.

Howard said the move would allow the city to develop the area for either industry, recreation or education. He made the announcement late yesterday.

The City Council had requested a clear title to Selman Field, but Howard said the government's grant was "just as good or better for our purposes."

However, Howard pointed out that the city, prior to granting a long-term lease, will have to first submit a request to the government, stating what the property will be used for.

In return, the government will remove its restriction clauses on the property, provided the city request is approved, and the negotiations on the long-term leases will follow.

Useful Element

"This move will certainly put Monroe in a fine position and especially will it be useful in our drive to attract new industry," Howard commented.

"With this land the city will be able to enter into long term leases with industries at a very nominal rate for a reasonable amount per acre," he stated.

Howard said he would like to publicly thank Congressman Otto E. Passman "for his valuable assistance in working out this arrangement with the federal government."

The move by the government opened the door for the city to use all of Selman Field with the exception of the air strip and its adjoining buildings.

Selman Field property was turned over to the city following World War II, but a "recapture" clause in the contract gave the government the authority to reclaim the field within 30 days.

It was because of this clause that the city has been unable to

Jupiter C Missile To Be Vehicle

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy told the Army tonight to "proceed with preparations" for launching an earth satellite.

McElroy's directive, a thumping victory for the Army's efforts to get into a field that has been strictly Navy up until now, came amid criticism of the Eisenhower administration for being beaten by Russian space scientists.

The Navy-directed satellite effort will continue.

The Soviets already have two earth satellites circling the globe, including one with a dog aboard.

Dramatic Shift

The dramatic shift in U.S. policy was disclosed in an announcement that McElroy has directed the Army to go ahead with preparations for "launching a scientific satellite by use of a modified Jupiter-C test vehicle."

This is the monster rocket used by the Army a year ago in hurling a test device more than 600 miles into the air and 3,500 miles in distance.

It is composed of three elements —a first stage rocket like that used in the Army's 200-mile range Redstone ballistic missile, utilizing liquid fuels; a cluster of solid fuel rockets to fire when the first stage is burned out, and another numerically smaller cluster of solid rockets for the third and final stage.

The planned altitude of the Army satellite is between 200 and 300 miles with the speed for orbit estimated at 18,000 m.p.h.

At Least 6 Ready

The Army is reported to have at least half a dozen of the Jupiter-C devices at the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Ala.

At Redstone Arsenal, Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, said "we appreciate the opportunity to undertake this challenging assignment and are confident of our ability to carry it out."

Earlier, Medaris had announced that the Army Ballistic Missile Agency was hiring 400 more persons, mostly technicians, for work

Long Responds To Resolution From Tallulah

TALLULAH, La., Nov. 8 (AP)— Sen. Russell Long (D-La) today described a statement prepared by top political leaders in northeastern Louisiana as "completely untrue."

The resolution released yesterday accused Long of "appeashing the opponents of the South" on th question of voter disqualification." It was signed by more than 90 per cent of the elected officials in the Sixth Judicial District.

Long had said there was no defense of the voters registration purge in north Louisiana. The resolution said Long's statement "undoubtedly is based upon his ignorance of the facts connected with the purging from the rolls of persons illegally registered."

In his answer to the resolution, Long said he was strongly in favor of segregation for three reasons:

1. He believes in it.
2. Practically every white Southerner wants it.
3. The great majority of Negroes want it.

Editor's Note: The following dispatch was written by a United Press reporter who covered the court martial of Col. John C. Nickerson, Jr., last summer at Huntsville, Ala., on charges of breaking security

By WILLIAM TUCKER
United Press Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Nov. 8 (UP)—The man who publicly warned the U. S. government last June it was making a $100 million mistake must be smiling sardonically tonight under a hot Panama moon.

No man can wear such a smile more effectively than Col. John C. Nickerson Jr., the one-time trouble shooter for the Army's intermediate range ballistic missile program.

Almost six months after his court martial and "exile" to the Canal Zone, Nickerson today won partial vindication for his all-out fight to keep the Army in the IRBM field over defense department objections.

In this respect, he went the late Billy Mitchell one better. Mitchell, who was cashiered for championing air power, did not find his place in history until after his death.

Army Will Do Launching

The Army was directed today to prepare to launch an earth satellite using a modified form of the "Jupiter C" test vehicle, an outgrowth of the Army's Jupiter IRBM program for which Nickerson fought. A year ago, then Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson assigned the Air Force, which had the rival Thor, to take charge of IRBM's and the Jupiter appeared doomed.

Then Nickerson swung into action, firing off memos to highly

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)—Protestant leaders have taken the first important step to overcome a long neglect by local churches in meeting the spiritual needs of handicapped persons.

Jesus Christ in his early ministry displayed a special concern for the blind, deaf, crippled and mentally disturbed.

But Protestant leaders have long been aware that most local churches were not meeting their Lord's example. The first important step toward remedying his situation was taken last month.

Representatives of major denominations met at Green Lake, Wis., under the auspices of the National Council of Churches, and agreed to work together "to arouse churches to their responsibility" to provide suitable Christian educational programs for all types of handicapped persons.

Provide Services

There are several million people in this country who suffer from mental or physical handicaps which make it difficult or impossible for them to participate in regular church programs. A comparatively few churches already provide special worship services and religious education classes for them.

At the Green Lake meeting, however, conferees recommended a long-range, co-operative program of training special teachers, preparing special Sunday School curriculum materials, and advising local churches and pastors on specific ways in which they can minister more effectively to the handicapped. They asked that a

Army Voices Confidence In New Mission

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Nov. 8 (UP)—The Army, which has had an earth satellite gathering dust for six months, said today it is "confident" it can carry out the assignment.

In a brief statement which concealed the satisfaction obviously shared by all at the Army's Redstone arsenal missile and rocket center, Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris head of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, said:

"We appreciate opportunity to undertake this challenging assignment and are confident of our ability to carry it out."

Fired 650 Miles Up

The Jupiter-C, an improved version of the Jupiter intermediate range missile, is known to have been fired at least 650 miles up It was a nose cone from the Jupiter-C which President Eisenhower displayed to the nation Thursday night as one which had successfully been fired and returned to earth intact.

Von Braun's satellite was a small one of about 20 pounds and about 20 inches in diameter. It was put together with available parts within limitations of the Jupiter-C project, a high velocity test weapon.

The Jupiter-C satellite assembly has been at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., the missile test site, for at least six months while the Army tried five times in vain to undertake the launching, it was learned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)—Assistant Budget Director Robert E. Merriman said today the U.S. missile program lacked neither money nor manpower and "most certainly is not bogging down."

He said the government was "putting a great deal more resources into missiles than it did into the initial stages" of the World War II atomic bomb project.

Merriman told a House subcommittee investigating alleged manpower waste that U.S. missile procurement had trebeled during the past 3½ years.

Although conceding Russia got off to a head start, he said this country will have spent $6,529,000,000 on missiles from fiscal 1955 through fiscal 1958 which ends next June 30.

'Flying Object' Photographed By California Man

ANAHEIM, Calif., Nov. 8 (UP) — A blimp-like "unidentified flying object" that glowed like a railroad flare has been photographed by an amateur cameraman who reported today he had turned the picture over to Air Force investigators.

The picture was taken Wednesday by Ed Leadford of Anaheim at 12:10 a.m. after he sighted the object while driving home.

"It was a weird, strange object, with vivid pinkish red light – just like a railroad flare. It was like gaseous mass," Leadford reported.

Leaford had a camera with him. He set the graphic at a 4.5 setting and shot the object at about 1-10 of a second.

The object for a time seemed to hover over Disneyland Park but officials there said they had not balloons or other airborne objects over the park at any time this week.

The Garden Grove, Calif., Daily News reported that on the night Leadford took his picture the paper received about a dozen calls from persons who said they observed flying objects in the same area.

Padlocks Put On Loan Firms In Mississippi

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP) — Padlocks went on the doors of eight Jackson loan companies today as Mississippi cracked down, under both criminal and civil laws, on what it called usurious money lenders.

Four of the firms are headed by out-of-state men.

State tax collector William F. Winter filed chancery court suits to collect $358,000 from 21 money lenders and loan companies. He acted under laws setting a "privilege tax" for violation of the states 8 per cent ceiling on interest.

At the same time, Dist. Atty. Bob Nichols filed criminal affidavits against 35 persons, identified as owners and operators of loan companies. Most were the same named by Winter.

Writs Served

To back up Winter's action, sheriff's deputies served writs of attachment which had the effect of tieing up all funds of the firms, including bank accounts.

Winter said loan firms have been "draining thousands of dollars of hard-earned money from the paychecks of Mississippi citizens each year by means of usurious and illegal loans."

The tax collector's suits named and amounts asked:

Ken W. Doehring, St. Charles, Mo., doing business as Modern Finance Co. and Calhoun Loan Brokers, both of Jackson; suit seeks 72,800.

J. L. Bennett Jr., Waycross, Ga., doing business as Service Finance Co., Royal Brokerage Co., and Bell Brokerage Co., of Jackson, $39,200.

J. G. Nash, Birmingham, Ala., doing business as Nash Finance Co., Jackson, $11,200.

Murdoch Acceptance Corp., a national organization operating in Meridian, Jackson, Tupelo and Columbus, Miss., $93,850.

J. S. Bussell, San Francisco, Calif., doing business as Stanley Loan Brokers, Stanley Loan Co., Personal Loan Service and Acme Loan Service, all of Jackson, $84,200.

J. C. Williams and Mrs. Ella Mae Williams, both of Jackson, doing business as Dixie Brokerage and Guaranty Co., Dixie Finance Corp. and Local Loan Co., all of Jackson, $140,000.

Selman Property Restriction Eased

The federal government has opened the door for the City of Monroe to use over 1,000 acres at Selman Field for long-term leases, Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard announced yesterday.

Howard said the move would allow the city to develop the area for either industry, recreation or education. He made the announcement late yesterday.

The City Council had requested a clear title to Selman Field, but Howard said the government's grant was "just as good or better for our purposes."

However, Howard pointed out that the city, prior to granting a long-term lease, will have to first submit a request to the government, stating what the property will be used for.

In return, the government will remove its restriction clauses on the property, provided the city request is approved, and the negotiations on the long-term leases will follow.

Useful Element

"This move will certainly put Monroe in a fine position and especially will it be useful in our drive to attract new industry," Howard commented.

"With this land the city will be able to enter into long term leases with industries at a very nominal rate for a reasonable amount per acre," he stated.

Howard said he would like to publicly thank Congressman Otto E. Passman "for his valuable assistance in working out this arrangement with the federal government."

The move by the government opened the door for the city to use all of Selman Field with the exception of the air strip and its adjoining buildings.

Selman Field property was turned over to the city following World War II, but a "recapture" clause in the contract gave the government the authority to reclaim the field within 30 days.

It was because of this clause that the city has been unable to

Colonel Vindicated Partially By Order

Editor's Note: The following dispatch was written by a United Press reporter who covered the court martial of Col. John C. Nickerson, Jr., last summer at Huntsville, Ala., on charges of breaking security

By WILLIAM TUCKER
United Press Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Nov. 8 (UP)—The man who publicly warned the U. S. government last June it was making a $100 million mistake must be smiling sardonically tonight under a hot Panama moon.

No man can wear such a smile more effectively than Col. John C. Nickerson Jr., the one-time trouble shooter for the Army's intermediate range ballistic missile program.

Almost six months after his court martial and "exile" to the Canal Zone, Nickerson today won partial vindication for his all-out fight to keep the Army in the IRBM field over defense department objections.

In this respect, he went the late Billy Mitchell one better. Mitchell, who was cashiered for championing air power, did not find his place in history until after his death.

Army Will Do Launching

The Army was directed today to prepare to launch an earth satellite using a modified form of the "Jupiter C" test vehicle, an outgrowth of the Army's Jupiter IRBM program for which Nickerson fought. A year ago, then Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson assigned the Air Force, which had the rival Thor, to take charge of IRBM's and the Jupiter appeared doomed.

Jupiter C Missile To Be Vehicle

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy told the Army tonight to "proceed with preparations" for launching an earth satellite.

McElroy's directive, a thumping victory for the Army's efforts to get into a field that has been strictly Navy up until now, came amid criticism of the Eisenhower administration for being beaten by Russian space scientists.

The Navy-directed satellite effort will continue.

The Soviets already have two earth satellites circling the globe, including one with a dog aboard.

Dramatic Shift

The dramatic shift in U.S. policy was disclosed in an announcement that McElroy has directed the Army to go ahead with preparations for "launching a scientific satellite by use of a modified Jupiter-C test vehicle."

This is the monster rocket used by the Army a year ago in hurling a test device more than 600 miles into the air and 3,500 miles in distance.

It is composed of three elements —a first stage rocket like that used in the Army's 200-mile range Redstone ballistic missile, utilizing liquid fuels; a cluster of solid fuel rockets to fire when the first stage is burned out, and another numerically smaller cluster of solid rockets for the third and final stage.

The planned altitude of the Army satellite is between 200 and 300 miles with the speed for orbit estimated at 18,000 m.p.h.

At Least 6 Ready

The Army is reported to have at least half a dozen of the Jupiter-C devices at the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Ala.

At Redstone Arsenal, Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, said "we appreciate the opportunity to undertake this challenging assignment and are confident of our ability to carry it out."

Earlier, Medaris had announced that the Army Ballistic Missile Agency was hiring 400 more persons, mostly technicians, for work

Long Responds To Resolution From Tallulah

TALLULAH, La., Nov. 8 (AP)—Sen. Russell Long (D-La) today described a statement prepared by top political leaders in northeastern Louisiana as "completely untrue."

The resolution released yesterday accused Long of "appeashing the opponents of the South" on th question of voter disqualification." It was signed by more than 90 per cent of the elected officials in the Sixth Judicial District.

Long had said there was no defense of the voters registration purge in north Louisiana. The resolution said Long's statement "undoubtedly is based upon his ignorance of the facts connected with the purging from the rolls of persons illegally registered."

In his answer to the resolution, Long said he was strongly in favor of segregation for three reasons:

1. He believes in it.
2. Practically every white Southerner wants it.
3. The great majority of Negroes want it.

new unit be set up within the Christian education division of the national council to oversee the effort.

The Rev. W. Randolph Thornton, administration director of the Christian education division, told the United Press that it is now up to local churches and to denominational headquarters to decide how swiftly these recommendations are carried out.

Money Big Problem

The big problem, as usual, is money. One hope is that some wealthy philanthropist, or foundation, may see fit to underwrite the cost (about $20,000 a year) of setting up the proposed new council unit, or the considerably larger costs of establishing a national workshop to train teachers for the handicapped.

Meanwhile, Thornton said, there is plenty that local churches dan do on their own to begin serving neglected groups.

They can pool their resources on a community basis, as churches in Evanston, Ill., are doing to provide Christian education classes for the mentally retarded; as churches in Pittsburgh and several Connecticut towns have done for the blind; and as churches in Syracuse, N. Y., have done for youths in a detention school.

The tornado picked up a smokehouse and slammed it into Stokes' bedroom, but he was uninjured.

Three occupants were injured and hospitalized at Philadelphia.

Skipping about three miles, the tornado picked up a house, "pretty high," according to owner Clark Burt, and dropped it about 15 feet away.

He said the house would have to be rebuilt.

High winds and rains in other areas left municipalities and communities with a gigantic cleaning job as tree limbs and water blocked streets.

D. L. Minor, Jackson, doing business as Grand Loan Brokers, $5,600.

Doehring, Bussell, Bennett and Nash were among those named in the criminal affidavits. Most of the others are employes or officers of Jackson-based firms. Loan firms padlocked included ABC Loan Service, Acme Loan Service, Dixie Brokerage and Guaranty Co., Grand Loan Brokers, Local Loan Co., Modern Finance Co., and Stanley Loan Brokers.

Winter said the action "will serve to discourage the continuation of a pattern of usurious money-lending practices which have been used against a great many citizens of this state."

Many of the firms, he said, are operated by non-residents whose offices "have become the mere channels for the draining from the state of many thousands of dollars of hard-earned money from the paychecks of Mississippi citizens each year by means of usurious and illegal loans."

Winter said most of the firms operate on the pretense they are not money-lenders themselves but are brokers representing out-of-state firms which are the actual lender. He called this "a sham and subterfuge" intended to free the companies from state laws governing money lenders.

on the Jupiter-C and the Jupiter missile weapon.

Some Washington sources said that under the original priority assigned to the Jupiter-C project the device could have been converted for use as a launcher in about six weeks. However, if the new order means higher priority, the source said, the conversion of a Jupiter-C could be done much more rapidly.

Second Means

The Pentagon announcement said the "decision to proceed with an additional program was made to provide a second means of putting into orbit" a satellite carrying scientific instruments.

The Pentagon said this would supplement the Vanguard Project directed by the Navy, and added:

"All the Vanguard test firings to date have met or exceeded the predicted performance and there is every reason to believe that Project Vanguard will meet the announced schedule to launch a small test satellite later this year and a fully instrumented scientific satellite in March."

The Vanguard earth satellite project was organized as part of the International Geophysical Year, which continues through 1958.

Delay Cited

The Navy had shipped a first stage rocket engine to the Cape Canaveral, Fla., Missile Test Center last summer for a flight test. But it was not until Oct. 23 that the first stage was fired.

The device reached an altitude of 109 miles, with a peak velocity of 4,250 m.p.h., falling into the sea 328 miles off the Florida coast.

At Redstone Arsenal tonight there was a hurried huddle of Dr. Werner von Braun, the former German V2 expert who has pioneered the Army's ballistic missile work, Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger, and the whole missile staff of the arsenal. Stuhlinger is the second ranking civilian after Von Braun and is a nuclear physicist.

The Defense Department announcement said William M. Holaday, assistant to the secretary of defense for guided missiles, will be "responsible for co-ordinating the Army project as a part of the U.S. scientific satellite program."

Holaday said in a statement it was decided to use a "second approach" to the satellite program to provide "added assurance of keeping our commitments to the international scientific community."

Holaday said the Vanguard program, administered by the Navy, is progressing well.

"However," he added, "this added program not only supplements the Vanguard program but permits us to obtain increase scintific data."

Holaday said that satellite launchings by the Army as well as by the Navy will be "regulated in keeping with the desires of the National Academy of Sciences."

The academy has from the start been the civilian agency behind the American satellite project.

Howard said the city has not decided definitely what the property will be used for.

"However, it gives us a good chance to develop industry, or perhaps build recreation facilities or for school purposes," he said. "It'll all work out in time to come."

The government, through the U. S. Department of Commerce, notified Howard that it would "consider any request from the City of Monroe for the release of certain areas from the National Emergency Use Provision of the Instrument of Transfer as the need arises and we believe that such release will be sufficient to permit the city to develop unused areas for purposes other than aviation."

Under the present set - up, the city has not been able to use the grounds becaus of the National Emergency provision.

Negroes Sent To Prison For Raping Girl

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP)—A jury tonight convicted five Negro youths on charges of raping and beating a teen-age white girl in a South Philadelphia schoolyard.

A sixth defendant pleaded guilty.

Judge Louis E. Levanthal immediately sentenced all six to terms in Eastern State Penitentiary ranging up to 15 years.

The girl, Katherine Heckart, who was 17 at the time of the attack, testified her attackers dragged her into a deserted schoolyard the night of Sept. 18. There, she said, they beat her and held her down while she was being raped. A 16-year-old white boy heard her screams and came to her aid. Three of the attackers fought with him, enabling the girl to get away.

The jury of nine women and three men deliberated about three hours in reaching the verdict.

The charges aganst the six included rape, aggravated assault and battery, and assault with intent to ravish. Those convicted and their sentences are:

Gaillard And Pflimlin Work On Finances

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP) — Premier Felix Gaillard and Finance Minister Pierre Pflimlin worked today on urgent measures to halt France's runaway inflation.

Their bill asking special financial and economic powers will be studied by the Cabinet tomorrow and presented to the National Assembly Wednesday. A vote is likely by the end of the next week.

The Finance Ministry maintained a strict blackout on the government's intentions but it was considered almost certain Frenchmen would be hit for at least 100 billion francs—238 million dollars—in new taxes.

The taxes are expected on semi-luxury goods, gasoline — already priced higher than anywhere else in the western world—and wine, the average Frenchman's daily drink.

New economies are expected to cut state subsidies to such nationalized industries as railroads and coal mines. Resulting fare and price increases will set off a new round of demands for higher wages.

The young Premier has affirmed his intention to "defend the housewife's shoppng basket." To do this he might revive old powers, used just after the war, under which shops ignoring price controls can be closed for several months and their owners fined heavily.

placed figures in an effort to get the Wilson decision overturned. But he used secret documents in the process and, as he admitted at his trial, an "explosion" resulted when his actions became public.

Nickerson was court-martialed on charges of leaking security. He admitted at the outset of his trial he had failed to safeguard classified material. In exchange for this, the Army dropped charges of treason and false swearing.

Full-Dress Airing

But Nickerson then turned his "mitigating" testimony into a full-dress airing of the whole inter-service rivalry. He championed the Army's missiles role in a stem - winding address to the court.

Nickerson said that the government could save $100,000,000 if it went ahead with the Jupiter program instead of scrapping it in favor of the Air Force Thor or some other IRBM.

With 20 years experience on the part of its German scientists, the Army was "bound" to put a successful IRBM into operation "years ahead" of any other agency, Nickerson said.

Taking the Rap?

His defense, led by special counsel Ray H. Jenkins, tried to indicate that Nickerson was taking the rap for Army brass who felt as he did from Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chief of staff, on down.

But Nickerson's commanding officer, Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, then and now head of the Army ballistic missile agency at Redstone Arsenal in Alabama, where the trial was held, repudiated him.

Medaris testified that Nickerson had "lost his value" to the service because of the security leak and he did not want him back on his staff.

The court martial didn't quite go along with Medaris. It sentenced Nickerson to suspension of rank privileges for a year, a $1,500 fine and rebrimand. The outspoken colonel later was transferred to the Canal Zone to serve out his term in the doghouse.

Although the IRBM and not the satellite was the direct issue in Nickerson's trial, the same methods and equipment are involved. At the court martial, "Moon Talk" was freely exchanged in the corridors, especially among the German scientists.

That was before the Russians fired their first Sputnik and satellites came under security wraps. And before the nation decided it needed the Army team for its reach into space.

Skipping about three miles, the tornado picked up a house, "pretty high," according to owner Clark Burt, and dropped it about 15 feet away.

He said the house would have to be rebuilt.

High winds and rains in other areas left municipalities and communities with a gigantic cleaning job as tree limbs and water blocked streets.

Television antennas bowed in the direction of the winds as if grateful to its passing.

business as Seabrook Finance Co., $5,600.

D. L. Minor, Jackson, doing business as Grand Loan Brokers, $5,600.

Doehring, Bussell, Bennett and Nash were among those named in the criminal affidavits. Most of the others are employes or officers of Jackson-based firms. Loan firms padlocked included ABC Loan Service, Acme Loan Service, Dixie Brokerage and Guaranty Co., Grand Loan Brokers, Local Loan Co., Modern Finance Co., and Stanley Loan Brokers.

Winter said the action "will serve to discourage the continuation of a pattern of usurious money-lending practices which have been used against a great many citizens of this state."

Many of the firms, he said, are operated by non-residents whose offices "have become the mere channels for the draining from the state of many thousands of dollars of hard-earned money from the paychecks of Mississippi citizens each year by means of usurious and illegal loans."

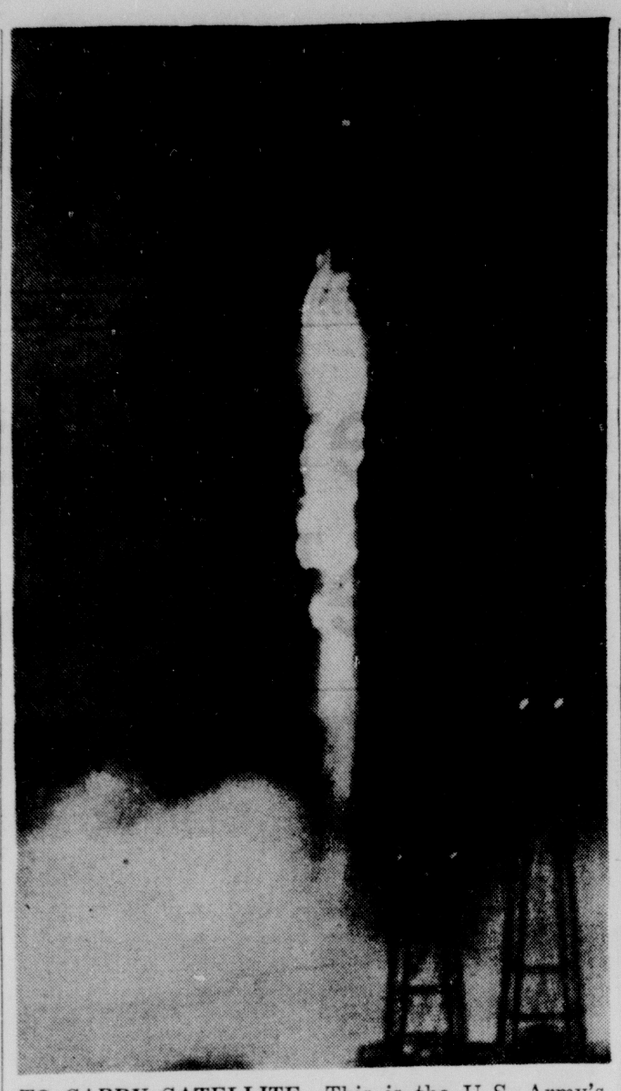

Winter said most of the firms operate on the pretense they are not money-lenders themselves but are brokers representing out-of-state firms which are the actual lender. He called this "a sham and subterfuge" intended to free the companies from state laws governing money lenders.

subcommittee went to the pentagon for a private briefing to try to determine whether any waste of scientific talent has hurt missile development.

The budget official said steps already taken, including those announced by President Eisenhower Thursday night, "will go a long way" toward meeting problems on the use of scientific manpower for missile development.

on the Jupiter-C and the Jupiter missile weapon.

Some Washington sources said that under the original priority assigned to the Jupiter-C project the device could have been converted for use as a launcher in about six weeks. However, if the new order means higher priority, the source said, the conversion of a Jupiter-C could be done much more rapidly.

Second Means

The Pentagon announcement said the "decision to proceed with an additional program was made to provide a second means of putting into orbit" a satellite carrying scientific instruments.

The Pentagon said this would supplement the Vanguard Project directed by the Navy, and added:

"All the Vanguard test firings to date have met or exceeded the predicted performance and there is every reason to believe that Project Vanguard will meet the announced schedule to launch a small test satellite later this year and a fully instrumented scientific satellite in March."

The Vanguard earth satellite project was organized as part of the International Geophysical Year, which continues through 1958.

Delay Cited

The Navy had shipped a first stage rocket engine to the Cape Canaveral, Fla., Missile Test Center last summer for a flight test. But it was not until Oct. 23 that the first stage was fired.

The device reached an altitude of 109 miles, with a peak velocity of 4,250 m.p.h., falling into the sea 328 miles off the Florida coast.

At Redstone Arsenal tonight there was a hurried huddle of Dr. Werner von Braun, the former German V2 expert who has pioneered the Army's ballistic missile work, Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger, and the whole missile staff of the arsenal. Stuhlinger is the second ranking civilian after Von Braun and is a nuclear physicist.

The Defense Department announcement said William M. Holaday, assistant to the secretary of defense for guided missiles, will be "responsible for co-ordinating the Army project as a part of the U.S. scientific satellite program."

Holaday said in a statement it was decided to use a "second approach" to the satellite program to provide "added assurance of keeping our commitments to the international scientific community."

Holaday said the Vanguard program, administered by the Navy, is progressing well.

"However," he added, "this added program not only supplements the Vanguard program but permits us to obtain increase scintific data."

Holaday said that satellite launchings by the Army as well as by the Navy will be "regulated in keeping with the desires of the National Academy of Sciences."

The academy has from the start been the civilian agency behind the American satellite project.

develop the field for local purposes, it has been pointed out.

However, the City Council asked for a clear title in August and in return promised the government a tract of land should it ever decide to build another base here.

Undecided

Howard said the city has not decided definitely what the property will be used for.

"However, it gives us a good chance to develop industry, or perhaps build recreation facilities or for school purposes," he said. "It'll all work out in time to come."

The government, through the U. S. Department of Commerce, notified Howard that it would "consider any request from the City of Monroe for the release of certain areas from the National Emergency Use Provision of the Instrument of Transfer as the need arises and we believe that such release will be sufficient to permit the city to develop unused areas for purposes other than aviation."

Under the present set - up, the city has not been able to use the grounds becaus of the National Emergency provision.

Howard said the use of the grounds would put the city in a good position "competitively with other cities."

Negroes Sent To Prison For Raping Girl

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP)—A jury tonight convicted five Negro youths on charges of raping and beating a teen-age white girl in a South Philadelphia schoolyard.

A sixth defendant pleaded guilty.

Judge Louis E. Levanthal immediately sentenced all six to terms in Eastern State Penitentiary ranging up to 15 years.

The girl, Katherine Heckart, who was 17 at the time of the attack, testifed her attackers dragged her into a deserted schoolyard the night of Sept. 18. There, she said, they beat her and held her down while she was being raped. A 16-year-old white boy heard her screams and came to her aid. Three of the attackers fought with him, enabling the girl to get away.

The jury of nine women and three men deliberated about three hours in reaching the verdict.

The charges aganst the six included rape, aggravated assault and battery, and assault with intent to ravish. Those convicted and their sentences are:

Gaillard And Pflimlin Work On Finances

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP) — Premier Felix Gaillard and Finance Minister Pierre Pflimlin worked today on urgent measures to halt France's runaway inflation.

Their bill asking special financial and economic powers will be studied by the Cabinet tomorrow and presented to the National Assembly Wednesday. A vote is likely by the end of the next week.

The Finance Ministry maintained a strict blackout on the government's intentions but it was considered almost certain Frenchmen would be hit for at least 100 billion francs—238 million dollars—in new taxes.

The taxes are expected on semi-luxury goods, gasoline — already priced higher than anywhere else in the western world—and wine, the average Frenchman's daily drink.

New economies are expected to cut state subsidies to such nationalized industries as railroads and coal mines. Resulting fare and price increases will set off a new round of demands for higher wages.

The young Premier has affirmed his intention to "defend the housewife's shoppng basket." To do this he might revive old powers, used just after the war, under which shops ignoring price controls can be closed for several months and their owners fined heavily.

Colonel Vindicated Partially By Order

placed figures in an effort to get the Wilson decision overturned. But he used secret documents in the process and, as he admitted at his trial, an "explosion" resulted when his actions became public.

Nickerson was court-martialed on charges of leaking security. He admitted at the outset of his trial he had failed to safeguard classified material. In exchange for this, the Army dropped charges of treason and false swearing.

Full-Dress Airing

But Nickerson then turned his "mitigating" testimony into a full-dress airing of the whole inter-service rivalry. He championed the Army's missiles role in a stem - winding address to the court.

Nickerson said that the government could save $100,000,000 if it went ahead with the Jupiter program instead of scrapping it in favor of the Air Force Thor or some other IRBM.

With 20 years experience on the part of its German scientists, the Army was "bound" to put a successful IRBM into operation "years ahead" of any other agency, Nickerson said.

Taking the Rap?

His defense, led by special counsel Ray H. Jenkins, tried to indicate that Nickerson was taking the rap for Army brass who felt as he did from Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chief of staff, on down.

But Nickerson's commanding officer, Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, then and now head of the Army ballistic missile agency at Redstone Arsenal in Alabama, where the trial was held, repudiated him.

Medaris testified that Nickerson had "lost his value" to the service because of the security leak and he did not want him back on his staff.

The court martial didn't quite go along with Medaris. It sentenced Nickerson to suspension of rank privileges for a year, a $1,500 fine and rebrimand. The outspoken colonel later was transferred to the Canal Zone to serve out his term in the doghouse.

Although the IRBM and not the satellite was the direct issue in Nickerson's trial, the same methods and equipment are involved. At the court martial, "Moon Talk" was freely exchanged in the corridors, especially among the German scientists.

That was before the Russians fired their first Sputnik and satellites came under security wraps. And before the nation decided it needed the Army team for its reach into space.

State To Name Six For Visit To Brussels

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 8 (AP) — Gov. Earl Long today asked Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar to select six young Louisianians between 19 and 25 to represent the state at the Brussels World Fair in 1958.

They will work in the United States pavilion and auditorium theater April 10 through Oct. 20 next year.

Frazar said he will name a committee in the next several days to work out final details in making the selections.

The lieutenant governor said Howard S. Cullman, commissioner general of the U.S. Department of State, suggested appointment of four young women and two young men. Qualifications for the appointments will be announced later.

DRUG STORE DEMOLISHED BY TORNADO—Merchandise lies scattered amid debris after the walls and ceiling of this drug store collapsed when a tornado ripped through Groves, Texas. (AP Wirephoto)

Alexandria Damage High From Storm

ed and torn wreckage piled nearly 30 feet high.

A front end of a house across the street was ripped off.

A lot of people were thankful they were alive today as they cleaned up the rubble of a tornado that killed two persons and hospitalized 28.

But most of the city went about its normal routine.

Gutted Hill Street

The twister gutted four blocks on Hill St., resulting in one death, many injuries, a dozen homes demolished and practically every house on the street damaged.

One block away, Bolton High School held classes as usual. The parking lot was crowded. On the athletic field a girl's gym class held a lively volley ball game.

Hill St. was blocked off for four blocks, and the street was littered by tree limbs, fallen wires and debris.

Residents talked quietly about the disaster. Children played in the wreckage. Sightseers took pictures.

City, parish, and telephone company workmen sought to clean up the wreckage. Telephone poles leaned crazily with the power lines scattered about like so much spaghetti. Wreckage, sections of roofs hung from trees and wires.

A stately two-story white house stood with no roof, two pillars standing and two lying shattered i nthe yard. Debris littered the spacious lawn and several large trees were splintered by the twisters.

Just Remodeled

"That was Mrs. Johnny Bush's," a neighbor said. "She just finished remodeling it. She spent $14,000."

Further down the street, M. Sgt. Charles P. De Vanie Jr., England Air Force Base, said he was at home last night with his wife and four children when the tornado hit.

"I heard it coming and went to the front door," he said. "Something told me to get away from that door—it's made of beveled glass. I just about got to the other side of the room when it hit. I grabbed my two girls and ducked down by the fireplace.

"I thought, 'Lord, the house is gone,' " he added. "But the house was still there when it was over."

De Vanie said his 20-month-old daughter was in the front room. Windows were smashed and glass strewn about the room. But the little girl "wasn't even scratched."

None of De Vanie's family was injured, although they found slivers of glass driven into wooden furniture "like bullets."

a few blocks from Bolton High School, where a civic opera company was performing Puccini's "Madame Butterfly." The tornado cut off the power, plunging the auditorium into darkness. The opera halted but there was no panic.

The district civil defense director, W. W. Wilson of Denton, said about 300 homes were damaged in Alexandria. The city's hospitals treated 28 injured persons.

The storm tossed trees, autos and power lines over the area struck. One station wagon was driving down a street when the tornado struck. The driver jumped out and ran away. He did not return for the car today.

The home of Mrs. Juanita Basile was not damaged seriously but the wife of an England Air Force Base airman described her experience this way:

"The first thing I thought of when it struck was 'Jesus, let me be ready.' It was like the house was going to pieces. It seemed like the floor had taken off and we were being hurled through the air."

Stafford J. Rich, police chief of Alexandria, was at home with his wife and four children when the tornado demolished the house.

"My wife wanted a new house," he said. "Now I guess she'll get one."

No one in the Rich family was injured.

Before hitting Alexandria, the tornado struck nearby Boyce, damaging about 100 homes and stores. The Red Cross took care of 50 homeless. After lashing at Alexandria, the tornado crossed the Red River and hit Wardville, destroying a dozen homes.

The damage estimates in Texas mounted. George Gary, civil defense director for Jefferson County, said the loss in Groves was five million dollars. Police Chief Raymond Sanders estimated damage in Orange at one million dollars.

In Groves, a community of 15,000, the twister slashed through a shopping center and an adjacent residential area. About 160 homes were destroyed or damaged heavily.

The tornado smashed a housing development in Orange, a southeast Texas city of 35,000. Twenty-five duplex homes were demolished, 300 damaged, and 100 families dispossessed. The injured in Orange totaled 81.

Nine of 130 mothballed Navy ships were whipped from their moorings in Orange. There were blown across the Sabine River and three others, all large landing craft, were swept to midstream. Navy personnel escaped injury.

Typical of the injured in the Orange housing project was Travis Virgil, 43. He received a neck cut and his wife a leg injury when their duplex apartment caved in. Their two children were uninjured.

Roof Ripped Off

"We started to bed and turned off the TV set," Virgil said. "As we walked to the bedrooms we heard a roar and the house shook. Then the roof came off. That's all I remember. It's a miracle we got out."

In the other half of the Virgil duplex, 18-year-old Mike Birmingham, a draftsman, said:

"I opened the door to come into the room and zingo! the whole house exploded. I had 500 records, all the way from Elvis Presley to Fats Domino. They're all over Texas now."

In Mississippi, a tornado dipped into the Tie Plant community near Grenada and caused severe damage to one home and several television antennas. There were no injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Davis said they had just retired for the night when the twisting winds "roared like a freight train" and buffeted the building.

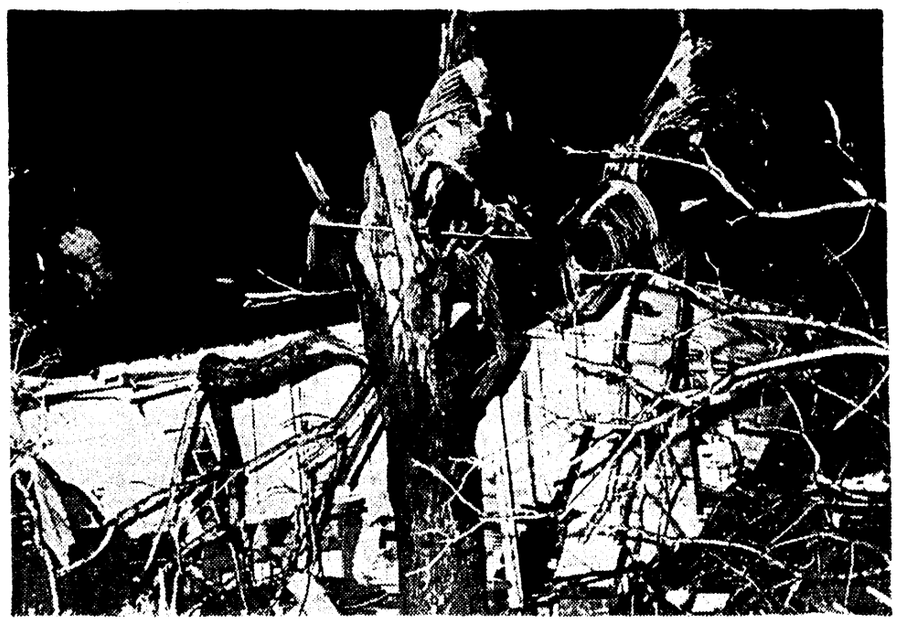

Three persons were injured today when a tornado twisted its way into their home in the Bond community near Philadelphia, Miss. None were seriously hurt.

In Greenwood, where the two Mississippi deaths were reported, the city hall was flooded by a two-inch downpour that accompanied the tornado.

Red Cross representatives in Monroe last night provided the following Alexandria tornado facts and figures: 87 homes were totally destroyed, 135 received major damage and 307 were damaged to a minor extent. Five hundred and twenty-nine persons have registered for Red Cross aid, with 250 persons being fed by the agency yesterday. Nine houses were totally destroyed at Boyce, 14 miles from Alexandria.

GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL

3 From Twin Cities Will Attend Confab

Three Twin Cities representatives will attend the 34th convention of the National Council of Girl Scouts of the USA, starting Monday in Convention Hall, Philadelphia, Pa.

Leaving today for the convention, which will continue until 1 p.m. Friday, are Mrs. Leroy Smith, vice - president of the Silver Waters Girl Scout Council, and Miss Annis Kile, executive secretary and professional worker.

Scout president Mrs. George Forman will leave Monroe on the 4 p.m. flight tomorrow, and arrive at the convention city six hours later.

The national council is the coordinating unit of the nationwide Girl Scout movement. It elects officers, members of the board of directors and the national nominating committee; establishes requirements for certificates of membership issued to individuals and for credentials issued to groups, and amends the constitution of the Scouts.

Broad Powers

In addition, the council has broad powers to coordinate and direct the entire Girl Scout movement.

Revision of the Girl Scout constitution will be discussed for the delegates by Joseph N. Welch, famous nationwide for his narration and interpretation of an "Omnibus" TV series on the story of the U. S. Constitution.

Theme of the convention, "You Can Count on Her - Can She Count on You?" will be stressed in the opening session Monday night, as National Scout President Mrs. Roy F. Layton pays tribute to all Girl Scouts and challenges delegates with the question of whether the Scouts under their leadership can actually count on them.

The council coverage plan, the result of 10 years of revision and organization, will be presented during the sessions. The project, worked out by the board of directors, involves plans for promoting strong councils throughout the nation, so that interested girls in any part of the country may have the chance at Scout activities.

Report Progress

The board will report progress and achievements of areas which have already started working according to the plan. Future expansion of the program will also under scrutiny of the delegates.

Results of a survey, made to determine how well the program in troops and camps is meeting Scout purposes, will be revealed by Dr. Stephen B. Withey, director of the survey research center at the University of Michigan.

The group's findings are important for all leaders working with groups of girls age 11-18, and involve survey information based on interviews to determine the girl's interests, hopes and ambitions.

The place of Girl Scouts of the USA in the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts will be evaluated by Dame Leslie Whately, DBE, director of the World Bureau and a U.S. delegate to the World Conference in Brazil recently.

Gallup Poll

A report made by the Gallup poll in 1956, to learn the public's opinion and knowledge of Scouting activities, will be presented by Dr. George Gallup.

During a meeting on local financing, means of developing adequate support in the community and of convincing the public that Girl Scouting is a program that merits its whole - hearted support, will take top priority.

Expectant Mother Dies In Accident

VILLE PLATTE, La., Nov. 8 (AP) —A 20-year-old expectant mothre died today in the crash of her automobile and a truck about 4½ miles east of here on the Opelousas highway.

Mrs. James H. Shelton died within minutes of the crash.

Investigating police said the car being driven by Mrs. Shelton's husband, ploughed through some muddy water which splashed on the windshield and obscured his vision.

The car veered into the path of the half loaded truck driven by James B. Thibodaux, an employe of a Church Point wholesaler. The automobile virtually was demolished.

Shelton, also 20, and formerly of Madison, Ill., was hospitalized and believed in critical condition.

Thibodaux and his companion, Valentine Broussard, received only minor scratches.

House Damaged By Blaze Here

Fire originating apparently in the kitchen of a small frame dwelling occupied by a West Monroe Negro woman, caused considerable damage before it was stopped by fireman early last night.

Zula Lee, occupant, escaped uninjured and cause of the fire had not been determined late last night. Damage, according to firemen, was confined mostly to the kitchen.

Trucks 5, 6, and 7, and Car 5 of the West Monroe Fire Department answered the call at Tom Cat Alley near Cypress street about 7:40 p.m.

The storm tossed trees, autos and power lines over the area struck. One station wagon was driving down a street when the tornado struck. The driver jumped out and ran away. He did not return for the car today.

The home of Mrs. Juanita Basile was not damaged seriously but the wife of an England Air Force Base airman described her experience this way:

"The first thing I thought of when it struck was 'Jesus, let me be ready.' It was like the house was going to pieces. It seemed like the floor had taken off and we were being hurled through the air."

Stafford J. Rich, police chief of Alexandria, was at home with his wife and four children when the tornado demolished the house.

"My wife wanted a new house," he said. "Now I guess she'll get one."

No one in the Rich family was injured.

Before hitting Alexandria, the tornado struck nearby Boyce, damaging about 100 homes and stores. The Red Cross took care of 50 homeless. After lashing at Alexandria, the tornado crossed the Red River and hit Wardville, destroying a dozen homes.

The damage estimates in Texas mounted. George Gary, civil defense director for Jefferson County, said the loss in Groves was five million dollars. Police Chief Raymond Sanders estimated damage in Orange at one million dollars.

In Groves, a community of 15,000, the twister slashed through a shopping center and an adjacent residential area. About 160 homes were destroyed or damaged heavily.

The tornado smashed a housing development in Orange, a southeast Texas city of 35,000. Twenty-five duplex homes were demolished, 300 damaged, and 100 families dispossessed. The injured in Orange totaled 81.

Nine of 130 mothballed Navy ships were whipped from their moorings in Orange. There were blown across the Sabine River and three others, all large landing craft, were swept to midstream. Navy personnel escaped injury.

Typical of the injured in the Orange housing project was Travis Virgil, 43. He received a neck cut and his wife a leg injury when their duplex apartment caved in. Their two children were uninjured.

Roof Ripped Off

"We started to bed and turned off the TV set," Virgil said. "As we walked to the bedrooms we heard a roar and the house shook. Then the roof came off. That's all I remember. It's a miracle we got out."

In the other half of the Virgil duplex, 18-year-old Mike Birmingham, a draftsman, said:

"I opened the door to come into the room and zingo! the whole house exploded. I had 500 records, all the way from Elvis Presley to Fats Domino. They're all over Texas now."

In Mississippi, a tornado dipped into the Tie Plant community near Grenada and caused severe damage to one home and several television antennas. There were no injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Davis said they had just retired for the night when the twisting winds "roared like a freight train" and buffeted the building.

Three persons were injured today when a tornado twisted its way into their home in the Bond community near Philadelphia, Miss. None were seriously hurt.

In Greenwood, where the two Mississippi deaths were reported, the city hall was flooded by a two-inch downpour that accompanied the tornado.

Red Cross representatives in Monroe last night provided the following Alexandria tornado facts and figures: 87 homes were totally destroyed, 135 received major damage and 307 were damaged to a minor extent. Five hundred and twenty-nine persons have registered for Red Cross aid, with 250 persons being fed by the agency yesterday Nine houses were totally destroyed at Boyce, 14 miles from Alexandria.

GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL

3 From Twin Cities Will Attend Confab

Three Twin Cities representatives will attend the 34th convention of the National Council of Girl Scouts of the USA, starting Monday in Convention Hall, Philadelphia, Pa.

Leaving today for the convention, which will continue until 1 p.m. Friday, are Mrs. Leroy Smith, vice - president of the Silver Waters Girl Scout Council, and Miss Annis Kile, executive secretary and professional worker.

Scout president Mrs. George Forman will leave Monroe on the 4 p.m. flight tomorrow, and arrive at the convention city six hours later.

The national council is the coordinating unit of the nationwide Girl Scout movement. It elects officers, members of the board of directors and the national nominating committee; establishes requirements for certificates of membership issued to individuals and for credentials issued to groups, and amends the constitution of the Scouts.

Broad Powers

In addition, the council has broad powers to coordinate and direct the entire Girl Scout movement.

Revision of the Girl Scout constitution will be discussed for the delegates by Joseph N. Welch, famous nationwide for his narration and interpretation of an "Omnibus" TV series on the story of the U. S. Constitution.

Theme of the convention, "You Can Count on Her - Can She Count on You?" will be stressed in the opening session Monday night, as National Scout President Mrs. Roy F. Layton pays tribute to all Girl Scouts and challenges delegates with the question of whether the Scouts under their leadership can actually count on them.

The council coverage plan, the result of 10 years of revision and organization, will be presented during the sessions. The project, worked out by the board of directors, involves plans for promoting strong councils throughout the nation, so that interested girls in any part of the country may have the chance at Scout activities.

Report Progress

The board will report progress and achievements of areas which have already started working according to the plan. Future expansion of the program will also under scrutiny of the delegates.

Results of a survey, made to determine how well the program in troops and camps is meeting Scout purposes, will be revealed by Dr. Stephen B. Withey, director of the survey research center at the University of Michigan.

The group's findings are important for all leaders working with groups of girls age 11-18, and involve survey information based on interviews to determine the girl's interests, hopes and ambitions.

The place of Girl Scouts of the USA in the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts will be evaluated by Dame Leslie Whately, DBE, director of the World Bureau and a U.S. delegate to the World Conference in Brazil recently.

Gallup Poll

A report made by the Gallup poll in 1956, to learn the public's opinion and knowledge of Scouting activities, will be presented by Dr. George Gallup.

During a meeting on local financing, means of developing adequate support in the community and of convincing the public that Girl Scouting is a program that merits its whole - hearted support, will take top priority.

Mrs. James H. Shelton died within minutes of the crash.

Investigating police said the car being driven by Mrs. Shelton's husband, ploughed through some muddy water which splashed on the windshield and obscured his vision.

The car veered into the path of the half loaded truck driven by James B. Thibodaux, an employe of a Church Point wholesaler. The automobile virtually was demolished.

Ike's Move Wise

The first positive and constructive move shown by President Eisenhower in some time was taken when he appointed a scientific chief of staff to rush development of the weapons of the future.

The president appointed Dr. James R. Killian, president of the world-famous Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to take command. Killian was empowered to crack down on any rivalry among the military services, to prevent needless delays and to give high priority to certain secret projects the president only hinted at.

In making the appointment, President Eisenhower acknowledged that surging Russian power could damage the United States seriously if war came.

Before acting, Eisenhower had reached the point at which further delay was considered virtually an impossibility. Members of both the Republican and Democratic parties who at times are able to place the good of this country above their political ambitions were calling upon the president to take some action that would assure the people of the United States that our government had not decided to allow Russia to become the dominant power of the world. There was a crying need for showing that this country had not dropped out of the running and was not to be allowed to become a second-rate power.

Among those calling on the president to present a positive program was Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas, Democratic wheelhorse, who has sometimes been called "Mr. Democrat." Rayburn promised that if Eisenhower would present a plan that promised to be effective he would receive the wholehearted support of the Democratic members of congress.

For once there is an indication that President Eisenhower did not rely upon the advice of the pint-sized politicans who have been directing a good many of his moves recently. In this vitally important matter he may have had the advice of some real statesmen.

The United States has undertaken the role of a sort of guardian-protector of other nations which might be brought under the domination of Russia. It has undertaken to block the forceful communization of nations wishing to retain their freedom and their own forms of government. It has set itself up as the only nation in the world able to withstand Russia's force and to prevent the conquest of the world.

Our country also has taken the position that it has been ahead of all other nations in scientific development. On this contention rested much of the influence of the United States. It was this apparent power, more than gifts of money, that kept a good many nations of the world on our side. They believed we could give them the protection they needed through the use of our scientific advancement and our war weapons.

Russia has launched a "crash program" intended to convince the world that it has passed the United States in scientific advancement and that it possesses the weapons necessary for the destruction of any nation. If Russia could succeed in convincing the world that these things are true it would mean that the influence of the United States would be on the wane.

One thing can offset Russia's propaganda program. That one thing is the establishment of enough power to destroy Russia or any other nation, even though that nation might attack first and might have the power to wipe out this country. If two or more nations possess the power for utter destruction, no matter what another country might do to them, the most powerful war deterrent in history will have been established. It seems likely that both the United States and Russia have reached that point.

It is now up to the United States to demonstrate that it is not lagging behind Russia and that the known forces of science are at its command.

Eisenhower's appointment of a chief of staff to rush weapons development is a step in the right direction. It should receive strong support.

Land Values Rise

Louisiana property owners who may have been fearful that they might be damaged if their property is acquired for the construction of super highways can well be cheered by a study made in California.

Because the value of property along super highways is likely to increase, rather than decrease, most property owners stand a chance to gain, rather than to lose, when the big highways are constructed. This was shown in the California study.

New state highways will require extensive rights of way. There have been a good many instances of opposition to sale of property for these highways because of the feeling that remaining property adjoining the roads would lose in value, particularly in value for homes. The evidence of a study by the California highway department does not bear this out. Rather, it indicates property values tend to rise along the freeways.

In some cases in which property owners have objected to selling part of their property for fear the remainder would decline in value, the highway departments have purchased the entire property. Later the state agencies have been able to sell the part not needed for the highway at such good prices that they not only obtained the right of way free but actually made profits.

It is certain that property along major highways is considered more valuable even for homes than those on secondary or smaller roads, despite the fact that there is more noise and less seclusion. Most people place convenience far above seclusion and when they want to build a home they consider easy access to a highway that can be expected to be kept in first class condition a distinct advantage.

Sputnik And Little Rock May Stymie Legislation On Labor

Two wholly unrelated subjects — Suptnik and Little Rock — and one somewhat related, an off - year Congressional election, now seems likely to stymie any real legislation dealing with labor-management issues during the second session of the 85th Congress.

Despite sensational disclosures of racketeering and other abuses by officials of some large unions by the Senate Investigating committee headed by Senator John McClellan, Dem. Of Ark., which have led to wide public resentment, prospects for enactment of laws dealing specifically with organized labor during the coming session appear dim.

There is a chance that Congress will enact laws dealing with a closer government scrutiny of expenditure of union dues' funds and the operations of the huge persion and welfare funds that have been built up by the unions during recent years. Such proposals, it appears now, as a result of the McClellan committee investigation, would not meet with too great opposition in the Congress.

But the really controversial labor legislation, such as major amendments to the Taft - Hartley labor - management law; a federal "right-to-work" bill; tighter curbs on secondary boycotts; restrictions on the use of union funds for political campaign purposes; and denial of union executives to propose new contract terms without approval of the rank - and - file of the union itself; are likely to be submerged by the three above mentioned factors.

Congress, past experience has shown, dislikes legislating on controversial labor measures in an election year, even though there is not too much else on the calendar. This, alone, could almost insure against enactment of some if not all of these latter proposals.

The Congressional calendar, however, is going to be an overfilled one. Russia's recently disclosed leadership over the United States in the development of space satellites, rockets, and missiles, will unquesionably be the major topic of debate and action by Congress when it returns.

Occupying almost as much attention will be the civil rights issue, raised again since Congress adjourned by the segregation battle in Little Rock, into which city President Eisenhower sent federal troops in an effort to force school integration. Northern civil right's advocates, looking toward the 1958 and 1960 elections, have promised an all - out fight for legislation strengthening the law enacted at the last session. Southern members are equally determined to make the fight against such proposals.

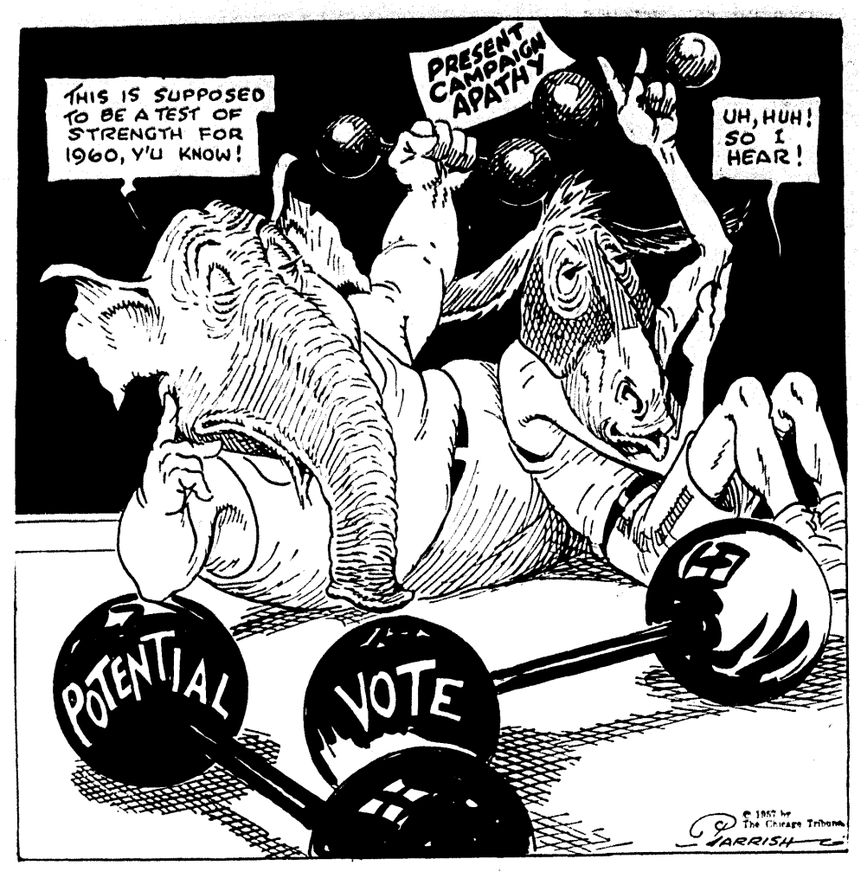

As a result, labor legislation which normally would seem almost certain as the result of the McClellan probe scores well down on the list.

There is one unknown factor, however, whi h could conceivably change this situation, though it will not develop early in the new session.

That is what will happen in May when negotiations on a new contract between General Motor Corporation and the United Automobile Workers reach a point of conclusion. While GM officials have, for obvious reasons, refused to tip off their plans in advance, Walter Reuther, president of UAW, has made it clear that it will demand even greater benefits than the liberal ones granted almost without protest by General Motors more than two years ago.

There are reliable reports in Washington, however, that GM officials are ready to call a halt to the increases in wages and other financial benefits which have been granted union workers steadily since the end of World War II.

Fierce Offensive Against Russia Favored By Some

It is incomprehensible that a government with all the facilities that are available to the United States should have made such an incorrect evaluation of the place of Marshal Zhukov in the Russian government. The same error was made at the time of Stalin's death in a misappraisal of the relative positions of Malenkov and Khrushchev and of the ultimate role of Zhukov. The same error has been made in the upgrading of Chou En-lai in Red China, ignoring the primacy of Mao Tze-tung.

Whoever does this evaluating of the data that come into the State Department and the CIA and other agencies of government apparently cannot distinguish between wishful thinking and facts. It is not merely an incorrect understanding of data — of that we might all be guilty. It is a wilful ignoring of demonstrable data — a pushing away of the inevitable to satisfy an egotistic vestment in a position previously held and stated.

In a struggle between Zhukov and Khrushchev, it was impossible for Zhukov to win and this column has so stated for more than a year despite Washington opinion to the contrary. The reason why Zhukov could not win is inherent in the Soviet system, namely that the party — the Communist Party — must be over and above everything in the state. The legitimate successor to the czar, according to this doctrine, is not an individual but the Communist Party.

The downgrading of Stalin must be viewed in this perspective: Stalin was dead; if the cult of personality persisted, the Communist Party would be split widely between pro-Stalinists and anti-Stalinists; that is between orthodox Communists and revisionist Communists. Such a quarrel could revive all the conflicts of the 1920s which seriously weakened Russia and which Stalin ended by his frightful purges.

Khrushchev brilliantly choked off the possibility of a revival of an ideological quarrel within the party which could have been devastating. He downgraded Stalin; he elevated Lenin. He heaped all the errors of nearly 40 years upon the dead Stalin and he established a category of Communists, namely, those who are "anti-party." For being "anti-party" even a great man may be exiled from Moscow.

Khrushchev makes no pretentions of being a great man. He is, in fact, an ordinary man. He gets drunk in public; he talks off the cuff; he even makes foolish statements. But all the time he is building power and building it on what, in Russia, is absolutely sound ground, namely that the party must prevail. Each country has its own way.

Zhukov is being accused of "Napoleonism." My readers may recall that I have often suggested that he would be accused of "Napoleonism." It was inevitable because of his popularity, the plethora of medals on his breast, the praise for him out of London and Washington. In France, the same fear exists and although there are Frenchmen who believe that General Boulanger and General De Gaulle might have saved France from its present disasters, the French were taking no chances. They will attribute their misfortunes to the campaigns of Napoleon Bonaparte and although there was a moment of glorious splendor between the French Revolution and the Congress of Vienna, France has suffered ever since.

The Russian people want no "Napoleonism." And Khrushchev hurls a second sputnik in the air—this one containing a live dog—and the people see that it is the party and not the army that produces sputniks. And therefore Zhukov's day is done, at least until Russia has to go to war again when all reserves are called out, of course.

The Russians will do things their way just as we shall do as we do. The assumption that the Russians must be like us or we must be like them is nonsense because it will not happen that way. When Khruschev likens the dismissal of Zhukov to the resignation of Charles Wilson, even humorously, he is either mistaken or misinformed or confused. Our governments are not alike in any respect. When we shall have learned that lesson, we will have made tremendous progress in our relations with other countries. All human beings are not alike and their responses to challenges are not alike.

Greatest Spending Surge Reaches End

The greatest business spending surge in all history — the surge economy to dazzling peaks in 1955, 1956 and early 1957 — has ended.

The rise in spending is not just petering out, slowing down.

The rise has ended.

For in 1958, according to the latest annual McGraw-Hill survey of industry's spending intentions, released today, business spending on new plants and equipment will be down 7 per cent from 1957's record, down a little from 1956 too.

And most corporations now plan to hold their spending to the reduced levels in 1959.

The extent of the scheduled reduction is not as severe as many worried men in Wall Street and top centers throughout the country have been discussing in the past few weeks. Although the 1958 total will be down, it still will be 20 per cent ahead of actual spending in 1955.

But even the most Pollyanna-minded observer cannot miss the message being flashed by these preliminary findings — which over the years have turned out impressively accurate forecasts of trends.

The American economy cannot expect a new boom to be sparked by business spending on plants and equipment in the next 12 to 18 months.

If our economy is to get a lift out of the current doldrums, it will have to come from increased spending by us, American's consumers, or increased spending by government — the other two basic areas of spending.

If increases do develop in either or both of these other areas on a sufficient scale to offset the decrease in business spending, we'll be back on an uptrend after a short letdown. If the increases do not develop and weaknesses emerge in these other spending areas as well, there is simply no doubt about it. "Recession" will be on.

In three massive waves, business has poured billions into the building of new plants and equipment since the end of World War II.

The first wave of spending came right after the end of World War II. As we clamored for every type of product, industry spurred construction of the factories that could turn out the goods at the fastest rate possible. By 1948, business spending on plants was up to an annual rate of $22 billion.

Then, corporations decided to take a breathing spell. Spending on factories and equipment was cut to the $19.2 billion level in 1949 and this coincided with the 1948-49 recession.

The second wave of spending swept over our land following the outbreak of the Korean war. This time, corporations went into an intense drive to build factories that could turn out goods for war as well as for us, and by 1953 they were spending at an annual rate of $23 billion.

Then again, industry decided to take a breathing spell. In 1954, this type of spending was cut to $26.8 billion and this coincided with the 1953-54 recession.

The third wave developed with an almost unbelievable roar in 1955. The polls early that year disclosed that business planned to hike spending a lusty 22 per cent. They did — and they tumbled over each other to get money, materials and manpower to build the new capacity. By 1956, this type of spending was up to $35 billion and at the start of 1957, to $37 billion.

Since the spring, though, the spending has been leveling off. And now the forecast for 1958 is a drop from $37 billion to $34.5 billion. The companies figure they have more than enough spare capacity for a while.

Yes, most corporations will maintain or increase their spending on research and development of new products, and later — by 1960, say — they epect to be building new plants at a peak pace again. Most figure that over the longer - term they must continuously invest vast sums in modern factories, cost-cutting equipment.

The signal of the McGraw-Hill survey to us is clear: The power is out of one of the most vital forces behind the 1955-57 boom.

"I don't think we have a right to ask God to be a magician—just to solve our problems the way we think they should be solved."

DR. CRANE SAYS

Outdoor Editor Is Happy Influence

Chuck has given me some ideas that I hadn't thought about before, so I presume you readers will likewise enjoy them. It is high time we spoke up about the great defenders of America, of which the newspaper is tops Thus, contrary to the usual modesty of editors, I am exposing some of their virtues so you can better appreciate them.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I always read your column and like your slant when you call the newspaper the 'University in Print.'

"So I wonder if you couldn't remind readers of still another helpful service that newspapers render via the Outdoor Editor.

"He is not to be confused with the Sports Editor, who deals primarily with professional and amateur athletics.

"The Outdoor Editor encourages Nature Study, the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, Conservation Clubs, etc.

"He stresses summer camps and the proper handling of guns and fishing tackle. He stresses principles of good sportsmanship as they pertain to the kind treatment of animals.

"Actually, the Outdoor Editors of America write for the greatest assortment of sportsmen in our land, for fishing and hunting far overshadow all other sports.

"We also stress the conservation of our natural resources, such as land and forests, lakes and streams. We help prevent the killing of fish by contamination of streams.

"So how about giving us a 'plug' before the millions of readers of your column from coast to coast?"

Salute to Outdoor Editors

Well, Chuck, I am happy to salute you and all your fellow faculty members on our great "University in Print," namely, the daily newspaper.

In fact, I had hardly realized all the splendid work which you perform, so I am personally indebted to you for giving us those facts.

And I know millions of readers will be more appreciative of your efforts to conserve the wildlife and natural resources of this great America.

Newspapermen are noted for their modesty so the usual editor leans over backwards to keep himself from being named in the columns of his own paper

Which is all the more reason why an outside colmunist should go to bat for the educators who comprise the faculty of this great "University in Print."

Speak Up

"If you want to be seen, stand up," runs an old story.

"If you wish to be heard, speak up."

"But if you wish to be appreciated, shut up!"

Alas, that is not always good advice. We are belatedly realizing that our people need to be told in every new generation about the great virtues of our "free enterprise" system.

And editors, too, have modestly "shut up" about their own tremendous educational contributions to human society.

So the average citizen fails to realize that in the 5 cents to 7 cents newspaper charge, he is really obtaining a "book-of-the-day" in actual word length.

And the newspaper reporters help the police ferret out crime and dig up hidden culprits.

They also place the spotlight on local corruption in government and misappropriation of funds.

Actually, the greatest protection of our American heritage of freedom is not our military forces, great though they be, but is our press.

As a lifelong university teacher, I now see that the newspaper is the greatest educational force we possess.

That's why I am glad to salute all my fellow "faculty" members who help contribute to this influential "University in Print," the newspaper.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

Two Ideas Struggle For Dominant Spot

PEARL HARBOR, T. H. —Two ideas are struggling here at Pearl Harbor. Perhaps they are struggling everywhere in the American mind. One idea is for defense, defense against a second lightning-strike like the one we suffered on December 7, 1941. The other idea is for offense, offense like the furious indignation which flew with our banners from the sneak-attack defeat by the Japs until the grandiose surrender scene on the deck of the battleship Missouri.

These ideas are struggling for supremacy in the minds of our military planners, and perhaps of all our people. How shall we meet the Russian military threat? By strong defense that will warn of the expected sneak-attack and thwart it? Or by fierce offense, born of national idignation, which will strew the wreck of the Russian Empire on the same waters that saw the finish of Jap imperialism in the 1940's?

The defense idea is exemplified in a huge $5.5 million radar patrol plane which is the basic instrument of the Air-borne Early Warning Wing, Pacific. The plane's official designation is WV-2, a Lockheed Constellation modified with external radar domes on top and below, carrying a crew of 22 men. I spent some time in the plane and more time at a briefing by Rear Admiral Southerland and his staff. One thing I remember above all else — this is a plane without a name. The Admiral and officers sometimes called it the "monster" or the "beast." These are not terms of affection. I think this must be the only plane, in war and peace, which is not loved enough by its commanders and crews to have a name of its own.

Is this the American attitude, perhaps a subconscious one, toward the idea of hit-him-back defense? Do we dislike what we're doing, and dislike ourselves for doing it? Mind, it may be the right thing to do, considering the thermonuclear consequences of doing anything else. And mind, too, the WV-2's are just what we need to do electronic sentry duty between Midway and the Aleutian Islands.

Russian planes or missiles are very apt to come off the Siberian coast and follow the great circle course, which is also a jet stream, across the Pacific to our West coast. The WV-2's are typical products of American enterprise. Lockheed built the plane for $2 million. But the other $3.5 million of its cost are represented by General Electric, Philco, Radio Corporation of America, Texas Instrument, Kearfott, Dalmo - Victor and Hazeltine Electronics Corp.

The capability of spotting enemy air vehicles at better than 2000 miles away, of computing all the pertinent data and transmitting it to Continental Defense Command, Colorado Springs, in a matter of minutes, is a feat by the American way of business that may save the American way of life. But this plane not only has no name; it has no guns or bombs, only its gadgets. And somehow the armed forces especially the combat - traditioned Navy, do not seem to relish the emphasis on defense.

But the idea of offense is by no means absent from this place. No service did more to lay Japan low in World War II than the Submarine Force. Today, led in the Pacific by an engaging and undersea-dog, Rear Admiral E. W. Grenfell, the submariners are poised to fight. They were the "silent service" of the last war, not willing to tell much about their exploits and thereby give unknown information to the enemy.

Ike's Move Wise

The first positive and constructive move shown by President Eisenhower in some time was taken when he appointed a scientific chief of staff to rush development of the weapons of the future.

The president appointed Dr. James R. Killian, president of the world-famous Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to take command. Killian was empowered to crack down on any rivalry among the military services, to prevent needless delays and to give high priority to certain secret projects the president only hinted at.

In making the appointment, President Eisenhower acknowledged that surging Russian power could damage the United States seriously if war came.

Before acting, Eisenhower had reached the point at which further delay was considered virtually an impossibility. Members of both the Republican and Democratic parties who at times are able to place the good of this country above their political ambitions were calling upon the president to take some action that would assure the people of the United States that our government had not decided to allow Russia to become the dominant power of the world. There was a crying need for showing that this country had not dropped out of the running and was not to be allowed to become a second-rate power.

Among those calling on the president to present a positive program was Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas, Democratic wheelhorse, who has sometimes been called "Mr. Democrat." Rayburn promised that if Eisenhower would present a plan that promised to be effective he would receive the wholehearted support of the Democratic members of congress.

For once there is an indication that President Eisenhower did not rely upon the advice of the pint-sized politicans who have been directing a good many of his moves recently. In this vitally important matter he may have had the advice of some real statesmen.

The United States has undertaken the role of a sort of guardian-protector of other nations which might be brought under the domination of Russia. It has undertaken to block the forceful communization of nations wishing to retain their freedom and their own forms of government. It has set itself up as the only nation in the world able to withstand Russia's force and to prevent the conquest of the world.

Our country also has taken the position that it has been ahead of all other nations in scientific development. On this contention rested much of the influence of the United States. It was this apparent power, more than gifts of money, that kept a good many nations of the world on our side. They believed we could give them the protection they needed through the use of our scientific advancement and our war weapons.

Russia has launched a "crash program" intended to convince the world that it has passed the United States in scientific advancement and that it possesses the weapons necessary for the destruction of any nation. If Russia could succeed in convincing the world that these things are true it would mean that the influence of the United States would be on the wane.

One thing can offset Russia's propaganda program. That one thing is the establishment of enough power to destroy Russia or any other nation, even though that nation might attack first and might have the power to wipe out this country. If two or more nations possess the power for utter destruction, no matter what another country might do to them, the most powerful war deterrent in history will have been established. It seems likely that both the United States and Russia have reached that point.

It is now up to the United States to demonstrate that it is not lagging behind Russia and that the known forces of science are at its command.

Eisenhower's appointment of a chief of staff to rush weapons development is a step in the right direction. It should receive strong support.

Land Values Rise

Louisiana property owners who may have been fearful that they might be damaged if their property is acquired for the construction of super highways can well be cheered by a study made in California.

Because the value of property along super highways is likely to increase, rather than decrease, most property owners stand a chance to gain, rather than to lose, when the big highways are constructed. This was shown in the California study.

New state highways will require extensive rights of way. There have been a good many instances of opposition to sale of property for these highways because of the feeling that remaining property adjoining the roads would lose in value, particularly in value for homes. The evidence of a study by the California highway department does not bear this out. Rather, it indicates property values tend to rise along the freeways.

In some cases in which property owners have objected to selling part of their property for fear the remainder would decline in value, the highway departments have purchased the entire property. Later the state agencies have been able to sell the part not needed for the highway at such good prices that they not only obtained the right of way free but actually made profits.

It is certain that property along major highways is considered more valuable even for homes than those on secondary or smaller roads, despite the fact that there is more noise and less seclusion. Most people place convenience far above seclusion and when they want to build a home they consider easy access to a highway that can be expected to be kept in first class condition a distinct advantage.

Sputnik And Little Rock May Stymie Legislation On Labor

Two wholly unrelated subjects — Suptnik and Little Rock — and one somewhat related, an off - year Congressional election, now seems likely to stymie any real legislation dealing with labor-management issues during the second session of the 85th Congress.

Despite sensational disclosures of racketeering and other abuses by officials of some large unions by the Senate Investigating committee headed by Senator John McClellan, Dem. Of Ark., which have led to wide public resentment, prospects for enactment of laws dealing specifically with organized labor during the coming session appear dim.

There is a chance that Congress will enact laws dealing with a closer government scrutiny of expenditure of union dues' funds and the operations of the huge persion and welfare funds that have been built up by the unions during recent years. Such proposals, it appears now, as a result of the McClellan committee investigation, would not meet with too great opposition in the Congress.

But the really controversial labor legislation, such as major amendments to the Taft - Hartley labor - management law; a federal "right-to-work" bill; tighter curbs on secondary boycotts; restrictions on the use of union funds for political campaign purposes; and denial of union executives to propose new contract terms without approval of the rank - and - file of the union itself; are likely to be submerged by the three above mentioned factors.

Congress, past experience has shown, dislikes legislating on controversial labor measures in an election year, even though there is not too much else on the calendar. This, alone, could almost insure against enactment of some if not all of these latter proposals.

The Congressional calendar, however, is going to be an over-filled one. Russia's recently disclosed leadership over the United States in the development of space satellites, rockets, and missiles, will unquesionably be the major topic of debate and action by Congress when it returns.

Occupying almost as much attention will be the civil rights issue, raised again since Congress adjourned by the segregation battle in Little Rock, into which city President Eisenhower sent federal troops in an effort to force school integration. Northern civil right's advocates, looking toward the 1958 and 1960 elections, have promised an all - out fight for legislation strengthening the law enacted at the last session. Southern members are equally determined to make the fight against such proposals.

As a result, labor legislation which normally would seem almost certain as the result of the McClellan probe seems well down on the list.

There is one unknown factor, however, whi h could conceivably change this situation, though it will not develop early in the new session.

That is what will happen in May when negotiations on a new contract between General Motor Corporation and the United Automobile Workers reach a point of conclusion. While GM officials have, for obvious reasons, refused to tip off their plans in advance, Walter Reuther, president of UAW, has made it clear that it will demand even greater benefits than the liberal ones granted almost without protest by General Motors more than two years ago.

There are reliable reports in Washington, however, that GM officials are ready to call a halt to the increases in wages and other financial benefits which have been granted union workers steadily since the end of World War II.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Fierce Offensive Against Russia Favored By Some

It is incomprehensible that a government with all the facilities that are available to the United States should have made such an incorrect evaluation of the place of Marshal Zhukov in the Russian government. The same error was made at the time of Stalin's death in a misappraisal of the relative positions of Malenkov and Khrushchev and of the ultimate role of Zhukov. The same error has been made in the upgrading of Chou En-lai in Red China, ignoring the primacy of Mao Tze-tung.

Whoever does this evaluating of the data that come into the State Department and the CIA and other agencies of government apparently cannot distinguish between wishful thinking and facts. It is not merely an incorrect understanding of data — of that we might all be guilty. It is a wilful ignoring of demonstrable data — a pushing away of the inevitable to satisfy an egotistic vestment in a position previously held and stated.

In a struggle between Zhukov and Khrushchev, it was impossible for Zhukov to win and this column has so stated for more than a year despite Washington opinion to the contrary. The reason why Zhukov could not win is inherent in the Soviet system, namely that the party — the Communist Party — must be over and above everything in the state. The legitimate successor to the czar, according to this doctrine, is not an individual but the Communist Party.

The downgrading of Stalin must be viewed in this perspective: Stalin was dead; if the cult of personality persisted, the Communist Party would be split widely between pro-Stalinists and anti-Stalinists; that is between orthodox Communists and revisionist Communists. Such a quarrel could revive all the conflicts of the 1920s which seriously weakened Russia and which Stalin ended by his frightful purges.

Khrushchev brilliantly choked off the possibility of a revival of an ideological quarrel within the party which could have been devastating. He downgraded Stalin; he elevated Lenin. He heaped all the errors of nearly 40 years upon the dead Stalin and he established a category of Communists, namely, those who are "anti-party." For being "anti-party" even a great man may be exiled from Moscow.

Khrushchev makes no pretentions of being a great man. He is, in fact, an ordinary man. He gets drunk in public; he talks off the cuff; he even makes foolish statements. But all the time he is building power and building it on what, in Russia, is absolutely sound ground, namely that the party must prevail. Each country has its own way.

Zhukov is being accused of "Napoleonism." My readers may recall that I have often suggested that he would be accused of "Napoleonism." It was inevitable because of his popularity, the plethora of medals on his breast, the praise for him out of London and Washington. In France, the same fear exists and although there are Frenchmen who believe that General Boulanger and General De Gaulle might have saved France from its present disasters, the French were taking no chances. They will attribute their misfortunes to the campaigns of Napoleon Bonaparte and although there was a moment of glorious splendor between the French Revolution and the Congress of Vienna, France has suffered ever since.

The Russian people want no "Napoleonism." And Khrushchev hurls a second sputnik in the air—this one containing a live dog—and the people see that it is the party and not the army that produces sputniks. And therefore Zhukov's day is done, at least until Russia has to go to war again when all reserves are called out, of course.

The Russians will do things their way just as we shall do as we do. The assumption that the Russians must be like us or we must be like them is nonsense because it will not happen that way. When Khruschev likens the dismissal of Zhukov to the resignation of Charles Wilson, even humorously, he is either mistaken or misinformed or confused. Our governments are not alike in any respect. When we shall have learned that lesson, we will have made tremendous progress in our relations with other countries. All human beings are not alike and their responses to challenges are not alike.

Greatest Spending Surge Reaches End

The greatest business spending surge in all history — the surge economy to dazzling peaks in 1955, 1956 and early 1957 — has ended.

The rise in spending is not just petering out, slowing down.

The rise has ended.

For in 1958, according to the latest annual McGraw-Hill survey of industry's spending intentions, released today, business spending on new plants and equipment will be down 7 per cent from 1957's record, down a little from 1956 too.

And most corporations now plan to hold their spending to the reduced levels in 1959.

The extent of the scheduled reduction is not as severe as many worried men in Wall Street and top centers throughout the country have been discussing in the past few weeks. Although the 1958 total will be down, it still will be 20 per cent ahead of actual spending in 1955.

But even the most Pollyanna-minded observer cannot miss the message being flashed by these preliminary findings — which over the years have turned out impressively accurate forecasts of trends.

The American economy cannot expect a new boom to be sparked by business spending on plants and equipment in the next 12 to 18 months.

If our economy is to get a lift out of the current doldrums, it will have to come from increased spending by us, American's consumers, or increased spending by government — the other two basic areas of spending.

If increases do develop in either or both of these other areas on a sufficient scale to offset the decrease in business spending, we'll be back on an uptrend after a short letdown. If the increases do not develop and weaknesses emerge in these other spending areas as well, there is simply no doubt about it. "Recession" will be on.

In three massive waves, business has poured billions into the building of new plants and equipment since the end of World War II.

The first wave of spending came right after the end of World War II. As we clamored for every type of product, industry spurred construction of the factories that could turn out the goods at the fastest rate possible. By 1948, business spending on plants was up to an annual rate of $22 billion.

Then, corporations decided to take a breathing spell. Spending on factories and equipment was cut to the $19.2 billion level in 1949 and this coincided with the 1948-49 recession.

The second wave of spending swept over our land following the outbreak of the Korean war. This time, corporations went into an intense drive to build factories that could turn out goods for war as well as for us, and by 1953 they were spending at an annual rate of $23 billion.

Then again, industry decided to take a breathing spell. In 1954, this type of spending was cut to $26.8 billion and this coincided with the 1953-54 recession.

The third wave developed with an almost unbelievable roar in 1955. The polls early that year disclosed that business planned to hike spending a lusty 22 per cent. They did — and they tumbled over each other to get money, materials and manpower to build the new capacity. By 1956, this type of spending was up to $35 billion and at the start of 1957, to $37 billion.

Since the spring, though, the spending has been leveling off. And now the forecast for 1958 is a drop from $37 billion to $34.5 billion. The companies figure they have more than enough spare capacity for a while.

Yes, most corporations will maintain or increase their spending on research and development of new products, and later — by 1960, say — they epect to be building new plants at a peak pace again. Most figure that over the longer - term they must continuously invest vast sums in modern factories, cost-cutting equipment.

Outdoor Editor Is Happy Influence

Chuck has given me some ideas that I hadn't thought about before, so I presume you readers will likewise enjoy them. It is high time we spoke up about the great defenders of America, of which the newspaper is tops Thus, contrary to the usual modesty of editors, I am exposing some of their virtues so you can better appreciate them.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I always read your column and like your slant when you call the newspaper the 'University in Print.'

"So I wonder if you couldn't remind readers of still another helpful service that newspapers render via the Outdoor Editor.

"He is not to be confused with the Sports Editor, who deals primarily with professional and amateur athletics.

"The Outdoor Editor encourages Nature Study, the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, Conservation Clubs, etc.

"He stresses summer camps and the proper handling of guns and fishing tackle. He stresses principles of good sportsmanship as they pertain to the kind treatment of animals.

"Actually, the Outdoor Editors of America write for the greatest assortment of sportsmen in our land, for fishing and hunting far overshadow all other sports.

"We also stress the conservation of our natural resources, such as land and forests, lakes and streams. We help prevent the killing of fish by contamination of streams.

"So how about giving us a 'plug' before the millions of readers of your column from coast to coast?"

Salute to Outdoor Editors

Well, Chuck, I am happy to salute you and all your fellow faculty members on our great "University in Print," namely, the daily newspaper.

In fact, I had hardly realized all the splendid work which you perform, so I am personally indebted to you for giving us those facts.

And I know millions of readers will be more appreciative of your efforts to conserve the wildlife and natural resources of this great America.

Newspapermen are noted for their modesty so the usual editor leans over backwards to keep himself from being named in the columns of his own paper

Which is all the more reason why an outside colmunist should go to bat for the educators who comprise the faculty of this great "University in Print."

Speak Up

"If you want to be seen, stand up," runs an old story.

"If you wish to be heard, speak up."

"But if you wish to be appreciated, shut up!"

Alas, that is not always good advice. We are belatedly realizing that our people need to be told in every new generation about the great virtues of our "free enterprise" system.

And editors, too, have modestly "shut up" about their own tremendous educational contributions to human society.

So the average citizen fails to realize that in the 5 cents to 7 cents newspaper charge, he is really obtaining a "book-of-the-day" in actual word length.

And the newspaper reporters help the police ferret out crime and dig up hidden culprits.

They also place the spotlight on local corruption in government and misappropriation of funds.

Actually, the greatest protection of our American heritage of freedom is not our military forces, great though they be, but is our press.

As a lifelong university teacher, I now see that the newspaper is the greatest educational force we possess.

That's why I am glad to salute all my fellow "faculty" members who help contribute to this influential "University in Print," the newspaper.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to coyer typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Two Ideas Struggle For Dominant Spot

PEARL HARBOR, T. H. —Two ideas are struggling here at Pearl Harbor. Perhaps they are struggling everywhere in the American mind. One idea is for defense, defense against a second lightning-strike like the one we suffered on December 7, 1941. The other idea is for offense, offense like the furious indignation which flew with our banners from the sneak-attack defeat by the Japs until the grandiose surrender scene on the deck of the battleship Missouri.

These ideas are struggling for supremacy in the minds of our military planners, and perhaps of all our people. How shall we meet the Russian military threat? By strong defense that will warn of the expected sneak-attack and thwart it? Or by fierce offense, born of national idignation, which will strew the wreck of the Russian Empire on the same waters that saw the finish of Jap imperialism in the 1940's?

The defense idea is exemplified in a huge $5.5 million radar patrol plane which is the basic instrument of the Air-borne Early Warning Wing, Pacific. The plane's official designation is WV-2, a Lockheed Constellation modified with external radar domes on top and below, carrying a crew of 22 men. I spent some time in the plane and more time at a briefing by Rear Admiral Southerland and his staff. One thing I remember above all else — this is a plane without a name. The Admiral and officers sometimes called it the "monster" or the "beast." These are not terms of affection. I think this must be the only plane, in war and peace, which is not loved enough by its commanders and crews to have a name of its own.

Is this the American attitude, perhaps a subconscious one, toward the idea of hit-him-back defense? Do we dislike what we're doing, and dislike ourselves for doing it? Mind, it may be the right thing to do, considering the thermonuclear consequences of doing anything else. And mind, too, the WV-2's are just what we need to do electronic sentry duty between Midway and the Aleutian Islands.

Russian planes or missiles are very apt to come off the Siberian coast and follow the great circle course, which is also a jet stream, across the Pacific to our West coast. The WV-2's are typical products of American enterprise. Lockheed built the plane for $2 million. But the other $3.5 million of its cost are represented by General Electric, Philco, Radio Corporation of America, Texas Instrument, Kearfott, Dalmo - Victor and Hazeltine Electronics Corp.

The capability of spotting enemy air vehicles at better than 200 miles away, of computing all the pertinent data and transmitting it to Continental Defense Command, Colorado Springs, in a matter of minutes, is a feat by the American way of business that may save the American way of life. But this plane not only has no name; it has no guns or bombs, only its gadgets. And somehow the armed forces especially the combat - traditioned Navy, do not seem to relish the emphasis on defense.

But the idea of offense is by no means absent from this place. No service did more to lay Japan low in World War II than the Submarine Force. AIR FORCE TALK — T/Sgt. Oyd W. Johnson talks with A/3c Alfred Howe, 1506 Myers street, Monroe, as M/Sgt. Henry G. Robertson, supervisor of Sector two, and S/Sgt. Kay Wardlow, WAF recruiter from Shreveport, listen to Howe's description of basic training. The youth is home on leave after basic, before continuing on to his new duties as aircraft mechanic student at Travis A.F.B., Calif. He stopped in the recruiting office yesterday to talk with M/Sgt. Charles W. Boyd, who signed him up for the service. (Staff photo by John Oldenburg)

RECRUITING STATION

Air Force's Monroe Setup Highly Rated

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

The highly attractive appearance, central location, and record of enlistments has won the Air Force Recruiting Station in Monroe an award as the most outstanding office in all Northeast Louisiana and 12 counties in Texas.

M-Sgt. Charles H. Boyd and T-Sgt. Oyd W. Johnson are recruiters at the station which is now in competition for the position as outstanding A. F. recruiting office in the nation.

Capt. William D. Compton made the award, which resulted from extra time and effort put in by the local recruiters to secure a top - notch Recruiting Station.

"Actually, the office is also available for any community project," Boyd stated yesterday, and revealed that any non-profit organization which lacks a meeting place may make arrangements to use the office, located at 221 Grammont street.

Work to procure the office began several months before the Air Force moved into it in March of this year.

"We had been located at 621 Louisville, when we noticed that this building was under construction" Boyd said, adding that the other recruiter at that time was M-Sgt. Henry G. Robertson, currently supervisor of the Monroe, Alexandria and Lake Charles stations, with headquarters in Shreveport.

"We really had to work to get the office - it required approval from Group headquarters, in charge of all stations in Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The Air Force even flew a man in from Wing headquarters at Wright-Patterson A. F.B. in Ohio before we received permission" Boyd mentioned.

The recruiters moved into their office as the first occupants of the building. "The Air Force recruiting service pays the rent - and money paid for utilities benefits the community. Usually recruiting stations are in post officers or other rent - free places," the sergeants commented.

Spacious, Well - Lighted

In the spacious, well - lighted office, every type of Air Force information and interesting poster is on view, available for those who desire to learn more about a possible career with Uncle Sam's flight groups.

Even full - sized mannequins in Air Force blues are "on the job" for young men and women to get an idea of how they can look in uniform... and just how the uniforms are tailored.

Pastel - painted walls add to the appearance of the station, which is kept in top - notch condition by the recruiters, who also cover several nearby parishes on their recruiting duty.

T-Sgt. Johnson works Morehouse, West Carroll, Richland, East Carroll, Madison, and Caldwell parishes, plus the east half of Ouachita parish. M-Sgt. Boyd recruits from the western section of Ouachita, and Union, Jackson and Lincoln parishes.

They are jointly responsible for the office, since everyone on recruiting duty with the Air Force is on an equal basis.

It was their initiative which won them the recent honor, and which resulted in Sgt. Boyd being selected as the most outstanding Air Force Recruiter in the United States for the months of January through March of this year.

In the past, Boy Scout troops have met in the recruiting station, which is divided into two large rooms. Sgt., Boyd's wife, Mrs. Margaret Boyd, who is first aid instructor at Highland and Ki-Ro-Li Woods schools, intends to conduct first aid classes for two groups of West Monroe Girl Scouts in the office.

"As the only Air Force representatives in the Twin Cities, we are also working for the benefit of the community, in addition to our duties. The office is available for any community project, and any school clubs which need a meeting place should get in touch with the station," the recruiters added.

Sub-Freezing Air Cuts Into Texas

By UNITED PRESS

Sub-freezing weather headed toward the Southwest Friday night after a week of rainy weather, and in Northeast Texas and western Louisiana rivers were out of ther banks.

The cold front set off a series of tornadoes late Thursday night and early Friday that caused at least 13 deaths in the three-state area of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, millions of dollars in property damage and injuries to hundreds.

The weather bureau at Shreveport said additional rains in the past 24 hours will raise crests on all rivers, but flooding will be confined to the Sabine River above Logansport, La., and the Sulphur River above the Texarkana Reservoir.

New Crests Expected

New crests were predicted for about 32 to 33 feet at Naples, Tex., late Saturday or Sunday. Flood stage at Naples is 22 feet.

On the Sabine River, the crest at Mineola, Tex., has been raised to 18 feet by late Saturday or Sunday and 32 to 33 feet at Gladewater, Tex., about Nov. 16. Flood stage at Gladewater is 26 feet.

All interests having property affected by these stages should take immediate action, the weather bureau warned.

Low Temperatures

The cold front will plunge the mercury to the 25-to- 35- degree nange in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains by Saturday morning, the weather bureau said. A low of 20 to 25 was forecast for northwest Oklahoma.

Allies Cheer Ike's Speech On Close Ties

LONDON, Nov. 8 (UP) — Free western nations today cheered President Eisenhower's declaration of closer American cooperation with the United States' European allies.

First reactions in Allied nations indicated the President's speech Thursday night had relieved the gloom spreading through Europe under the shadow of Russia's earth satellites and intercontinental ballistics missiles development.

Most European reports on the speech gave emphasis to the decision to expand U. S. cooperation in scientifc research with the allies. European nations long have hoped to share in U. S. nuclear secrets.

Italy Notes Announcement

Italian newspapers particularly noted Mr. Eisenhower's announcement that the West maintains military superiority over the Communist bloc despite the lag in its missiles program.

Government spokesmen withheld official comment until they had given the President's speech close study.

However, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was understood to consider the President's pronouncement a milestone in Anglo-American and allied cooperation. A French foreign office source called the declaration "reassuring" for all allies.

Doesn't Report Speech

Pravda, the only Russian newspaper publishing today, did not report the President's speech. It gave most of its space to the celebration of the 40th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

In The Hague, Dutch government circles considered the projected closer cooperation between the United States and its allies the "big gain" for the West from the Soviet Sputnik success.

AIR FORCE TALK — T/Sgt. Oyd W. Johnson talks with A/3c Alfred Howe, 1506 Myers street, Monroe, as M/Sgt. Henry G. Robertson, supervisor of Sector two, and S/Sgt. Kay Wardlow, WAF recruiter from Shreveport, listen to Howe's description of basic training. The youth is home on leave after basic, before continuing on to his new duties as aircraft mechanic student at Travis A.F.B., Calif. He stopped in the recruiting office yesterday to talk with M/Sgt. Charles W. Boyd, who signed him up for the service. (Staff photo by John Oldenburg)

Air Force's Monroe Setup Highly Rated

Staff Writer

The highly attractive appearance, central location, and record of enlistments has won the Air Force Recruiting Station in Monroe an award as the most outstanding office in all Northeast Louisiana and 12 counties in Texas.

M-Sgt. Charles H. Boyd and T-Sgt. Oyd W. Johnson are recruiters at the station which is now in competition for the position as outstanding A. F. recruiting office in the nation.

Capt. William D. Compton made the award, which resulted from extra time and effort put in by the local recruiters to secure a top - notch Recruiting Station.

"Actually, the office is also available for any community project," Boyd stated yesterday, and revealed that any non-profit organization which lacks a meeting place may make arrangements to use the office, located at 221 Grammont street.

Work to procure the office began several months before the Air Force moved into it in March of this year.

"We had been located at 621 Louisville, when we noticed that this building was under construction" Boyd said, adding that the other recruiter at that time was M-Sgt. Henry G. Robertson, currently supervisor of the Monroe, Alexandria and Lake Charles stations, with headquarters in Shreveport.

"We really had to work to get the office - it required approval from Group headquarters, in charge of all stations in Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The Air Force even flew a man in from Wing headquarters at Wright-Patterson A. F.B. in Ohio before we received permission" Boyd mentioned.

The recruiters moved into their office as the first occupants of the building. "The Air Force recruiting service pays the rent - and money paid for utilities benefits the community. Usually recruiting stations are in post officers or other rent - free places," the sergeants commented.

Spacious, Well - Lighted

In the spacious, well - lighted office, every type of Air Force information and interesting poster is on view, available for those who desire to learn more about a possible career with Uncle Sam's flight groups.

Even full - sized mannequins in Air Force blues are "on the job" for young men and women to get an idea of how they can look in uniform... and just how the uniforms are tailored.

Pastel - painted walls add to the appearance of the station, which is kept in top - notch condition by the recruiters, who also cover several nearby parishes on their recruiting duty.

T-Sgt. Johnson works Morehouse, West Carroll, Richland, East Carroll, Madison, and Caldwell parishes, plus the east half of Ouachita parish. M-Sgt. Boyd recruits from the western section of Ouachita, and Union, Jackson and Lincoln parishes.

They are jointly responsible for the office, since everyone on recruiting duty with the Air Force is on an equal basis.

It was their initiative which won them the recent honor, and which resulted in Sgt. Boyd being selected as the most outstanding Air Force Recruiter in the United States for the months of January through March of this year.

In the past, Boy Scout troops have met in the recruiting station, which is divided into two large rooms. Sgt., Boyd's wife, Mrs. Margaret Boyd, who is first aid instructor at Highland and Ki-Ro-Li Woods schools, intends to conduct first aid classes for two groups of West Monroe Girl Scouts in the office.

"As the only Air Force representatives in the Twin Cities, we are also working for the benefit of the community, in addition to our duties. The office is available for any community project, and any school clubs which need a meeting place should get in touch with the station," the recruiters added.

Sub-Freezing Air Cuts Into Texas

By UNITED PRESS

Sub-freezing weather headed toward the Southwest Friday night after a week of rainy weather, and in Northeast Texas and western Louisiana rivers were out of their banks.

The cold front set off a series of tornadoes late Thursday night and early Friday that caused at least 13 deaths in the three-state area of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, millions of dollars in property damage and injuries to hundreds.

The weather bureau at Shreveport said additional rains in the past 24 hours will raise crests on all rivers, but flooding will be confined to the Sabine River above Logansport, La., and the Sulphur River above the Texarkana Reservoir.

New Crests Expected

New crests were predicted for about 32 to 33 feet at Naples, Tex., late Saturday or Sunday. Flood stage at Naples is 22 feet.

On the Sabine River, the crest at Mineola, Tex., has been raised to 18 feet by late Saturday or Sunday and 32 to 33 feet at Gladewater, Tex., about Nov. 16. Flood stage at Gladewater is 26 feet.

All interests having property affected by these stages should take immediate action, the weather bureau warned.

Low Temperatures

The cold front will plunge the mercury to the 25-to- 35- degree nange in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains by Saturday morning, the weather bureau said. A low of 20 to 25 was forecast for northwest Oklahoma.

Coleman To Show Pontiac Today

Coleman Pontiac, Monroe dealer for Pontiac, will combine a grand opening of a new building on Louisville avenue and the first showing of the 1958 Pontiac at 1901 Louisville.

Joe and T. R. Coleman said the grand opening would feature 16 different Pontiac models which will be on display.

Sixteen all - new models in four series — headed by a "dream car' series of two family sports - type cars — are presented by Pontiac in 1958, General Motors' Golden Jubilee year.

A new body, new chassis, new "Tempest 395" V-8 engine, new optional equipment and a new Bonneville series of family size "dream cars" mark what the division calls "the boldest advance in 50 years."

"These bold new cars are both a tribute to GM's Golden Jubilee and our own 50th Anniversary," S. E. Knudsen, GM Vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, said in announcing the new cars.

"Fifty years ago America's pioneer motorists welcomed the new Oakland, predecessor car to Pontiac. But outside of having wheels, engine and a body of sorts, the 1908 Oakland bore no resemblance to the sleek 1958 Pontiacs we will present in our dealers' showrooms November 9. These cars are lower, longer, wider and combine high performance and comfort with high style and luxurious interiors," Knudsen said.

In addition to the top - of - the-line Bonneville convertible and sport coupe, Pontiac offers other new innovations for '58. Among them are a convertible in the lowes priced Chieftain line, air ride suspension as an option on all models, along with improved fuel injection, introduced by Pontiac last year.

The new "Tempest 395" V-8 engine is bigger than ever, with displacement increased from 347 to 370 cubic inches, and designed to deliver power where most needed — in the traffic range.

Striking "New Direction" styling accentuates the car's longer, lower, wide look. The low, horizontal grille is topped by dual twin head lamps and rises above the heavy bumper, which incorporates massive parking and signal lamps. A new gold, rectangular crest featuring a "V" on a grooved background above the name, PONTIAC, in block - style lettering, is positioned in the left side of the grille. Delta wing ornaments ride atop each front fender with twin windsplits continuing along the fender.

The missile - type side mouldings sweep back to concave flares in the rear fender and frame distinctive series markings. The Bonneville has, in addition, four simulated front fender louvers.

From the rear the 1958 Pontiacs will be immediately recognizable by dual twin tail lamps above oval, chromed back - up lamp ports, and the simply styled trunk lid bears chrome handles on each side of the superbly fashioned name plate.

In addition to the five - passenger Bonneville convertible and the sport coupe, Pontiac has for 1958, the Star Chief series consisting of two and four - door Catalinas, a four - door sedan with slim center pillar, and a custom Safarai station wagon. The Super Chief line includes two and four - door Catalinas and r slim pillar, four-door sedan. The Chieftain series is led by the convertible, new in this line; two and four-door Catalinas, two and four-door slim pillar sedans, and a two-seat and a three-seat, four - door station wagon.

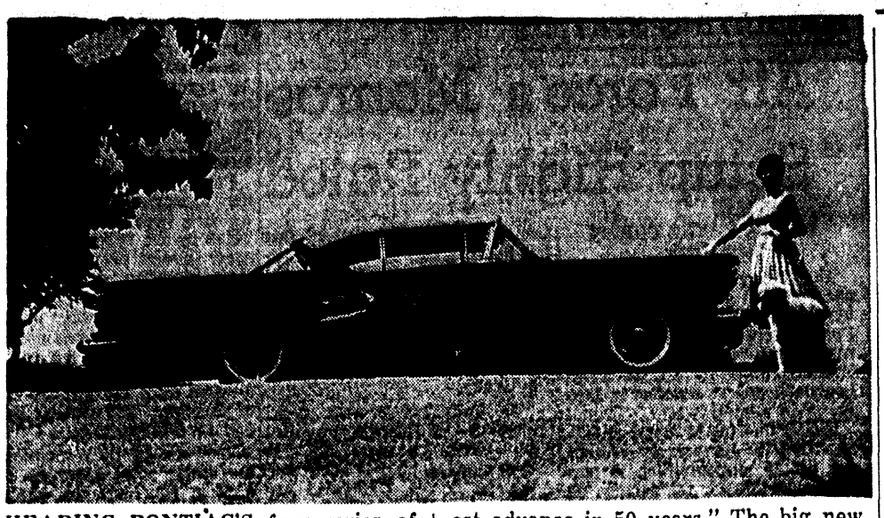

A total of 21 solid colors and 56 recommended two - tone paint combinations are offered, some in the new acrylic lacquers, while interiors are color - matched in fabric and leather.

On 122" and 124" wheelbases, the new Pontiacs are as much as 4.5 inches lower in height, are 2.2 inches wider and as much as 8.7 inches longer overall. Passenger leg room has been increased by 4.5 inches, ample head room is retained and luggage space is enlarged.

A new sculptured instrument panel has key instruments grouped before the driver for quick, safe reading through the deeply recessed, two spoke steering wheel. A non-glare instrument panel paint protects against glare.

Leading an exceptional parade of optional equipment for the new cars is air ride suspension, new for passenger cars in the middle price range, which gives an ever-level ride regardless of load or road conditions. Pontiac's fuel injection, introduced last year, has been improved and tailored for the new, bigger engine. Super Hydra-Matic transmission, power brakes, power steering, power - operated windows, four - way power seat with a new "memo-matic" control device, which returns it to a preselected setting, are other extras, as is a new "safeguard" speedometer, which buzzes when a set speed is exceeded; a new "safe-t-track" differential, which eliminates rear wheel slip; a new split front seat back lock to prevent seat tilt on sudden stops; a new door lock warning lamp, and a new combination car and portable transistorized radio.

Notable too, is the availability of radio rear seat speakers on convertibles as well as station wagons, a special decor option on Chieftain model. and a new adjustable inside sun visor. Clearly identified accessory controls are conveniently arranged on the instrument panel within easy reach.

HEADING PONTIAC'S four series of superbly styled cars for 1958 are the five passenger Bonneville sport coupe (above) and the Bonneville convertible. These two family size "dream cars" mark what the division calls "the boldest advance in 50 years." The big new "Tempest 395" V-8 power plant in these two family sports-type car gives the instant acceleration and road performance desired by the enthusiast. Both have a 122-inch wheelbase.

Striking "New Direction" styling accentuates the car's longer, lower, wide look. The low, horizontal grille is topped by dual twin head lamps and rises above the heavy bumper, which incorporates massive parking and signal lamps. A new gold, rectangular crest featuring a "V" on a grooved background above the name, PONTIAC, in block - style lettering, is positioned in the left side of the grille. Delta wing ornaments ride atop each front fender with twin windsplits continuing along the fender.

The missile - type side mouldings sweep back to concave flares in the rear fender and frame distinctive series markings. The Bonneville has, in addition, four simulated front fender louvers.

From the rear the 1958 Pontiacs will be immediately recognizable by dual twin tail lamps above oval, chromed back - up lamp ports, and the simply styled trunk lid bears chrome handles on each side of the superbly fashioned name plate.

In addition to the five - passenger Bonneville convertible and the sport coupe, Pontiac has for 1958, the Star Chief series consisting of two and four - door Catalinas, a four - door sedan with slim center pillar, and a custom Safarai station wagon. The Super Chief line includes two and four - door Catalinas and a slim pillar, four-door sedan. The Chieftain series is led by the convertible, new in this line; two and four-door Catalinas, two and four-door slim pillar sedans, and a two-seat and a three-seat, four - door station wagon.

A total of 21 solid colors and 56 recommended two - tone paint combinations are offered, some in the new acrylic lacquers, while interiors are color - matched in fabric and leather.

On 122" and 124" wheelbases, the new Pontiacs are as much as 4.5 inches lower in height, are 2.2 inches wider and as much as 8.7 inches longer overall. Passenger leg room has been increased by 4.5 inches, ample head room is retained and luggage space is enlarged.

A new sculptured instrument panel has key instruments grouped before the driver for quick, safe reading through the deeply recessed, two spoke steering wheel. A non-glare instrument panel paint protects against glare.

Leading an exceptional parade of optional equipment for the new cars is air ride suspension, new for passenger cars in the middle price range, which gives an ever-level ride regardless of load or road conditions. Pontiac's fuel injection, introduced last year, has been improved and tailored for the new, bigger engine. Super Hydra-Matic transmission, power brakes, power steering, power - operated windows, four - way power seat with a new "memo-matic" control device, which returns it to a preselected setting, are other extras, as is a new "safeguard" speedometer, which buzzes when a set speed is exceeded; a new "safe-t-track" differential, which eliminates rear wheel slip; a new split front seat back lock to prevent seat tilt on sudden stops; a new door lock warning lamp, and a new combination car and portable transistorized radio.

Notable too, is the availability of radio rear seat speakers on convertibles as well as station wagons, a special decor option on Chieftain model and a new adjustable inside sun visor. Clearly identified accessory controls are conveniently arranged on the instrument panel within easy reach.

HEADING PONTIAC'S four series of superbly styled cars for 1958 are the five passenger Bonneville sport coupe (above) and the Bonneville convertible. These two family size "dream cars" mark what the division calls "the boldest advance in 50 years." The big new "Tempest 395" V-8 power plant in these two family sports-type car gives the instant acceleration and road performance desired by the enthusiast. Both have a 122-inch wheelbase.

GARLAND, Tex., Nov. 8 (UP) —Garland police said today they had smashed a teenage vice ring with the arrest of five Garland girls, three young boys and five adult men.

The juveniles have been turned over to Dallas county juvenile authorities and four of the five men charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Police said all the juveniles had been previously in custody on one charge or another.

Four of the five men are married. Police charged the following with contributing to the delinquency of a minor: Donald Drain, 20, John Carney, 40, Neuborn Davis, 19, and Charles Childers 27. Although a charge was filed against a fifth man it later was dismissed.

The USDA Nov. 1 crop indication was 11,788,00 bales, off over 600,000 bales from the month earlier estimate and nearly 200,000 bales lower than the average of the private estimates. The trade hastened to point out that the crop has deteriorated since Nov. 1 and the next estimate will probably be lower. Ginnings to date were 5,594,454 bales compared with 9,718,000 a year ago. In other words, about 50 per cent of the estimated crop has been ginned to date compared to nearly 80 per cent a year ago. It is also significant that only about 10 per cent of current ginnings hav eentered loan compared to around 20 per cent a year ago.

Futures had apparently discounted the lower crop estimate and rallied weakly following the report. Profit taking touched off a few stops resulting in minor losses before the market rallied to close about unchanged from the previous day. Meanwhile, following another day of heavy rainfall the weather bureau forecasts clearing conditions throughout much of the belt and freezing temperatures for parts of Texas are forecast over the weekend.

COTTON

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 25 cents a bale lower to 25 cents higher today with only nearby December showing a decline.

The Department of Agriculture November estimate of the 1957 cotton crop was 11,788,000 bales. This figure was 613,000 bales less than its October forecast.

The market, generally steady during the morning, tacked on small gains after the report was issued. It was on the low side in comparison with recent private surveys. However, traders were disappointed that the market responded only mildly to the crop report and they soon turned to the selling side.

Losses at one time extended to 80 cents a bale. Renewed strength in late dealings was attributed to the possibility of frost in some sections of the western cotton belt over the weekend.

Traders also noted that the Department of Agriculture in its comment intimated that its next forecast in December will be still lower.

Cotton futures generally improved in late dealings as commission house and trade buying increased. Reports of possible frost in some parts of the Western cotton belt stimulated demand for contracts.

'ROPE IT'

WACO, Tex., Nov. 8 (UP)—The only space object that would interest Capt. Sam Gardner of the Texas Highway Patrol would have to be at the end of a rope. When his office called Garnder Thursday night about some "strange light, he replied sleepily," "when you get it roped and tied town to the ground, call me again."

Rocket Fuel Rally Falters; Stocks Drop

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—A brief rally by rocket fuel shares failed to carry through today and the stock market declined sharply enough to cancel its gains of this week.

Closing prices were at about their lows of the day and showed drops of fractions to 2 points or more among key stocks.

President Eisenhower's nation wide speech was the market's major background factor and Wall Street showed little enthusiasm for it. Prices were down from the start and the ticker tape ran late for five minutes under the flood of sell orders.

A prevalent opinion in financial circles was that Eisenhower's speech was "midlle of the road," carried no message of a big increase in spending and therefore was no stimulus. In addition, some of yesterday's rise was attributed to anticipation of the President's speech.

The high-energy fuel stocks did not stage their rally until Sen Bridges (R-NH) was quoted as saying, after leaving the White House that spending on missiles might be increased one or two billion dollars.

The rally was brief as traders cashed their profits, unwilling to be out on a limb prior to the weekend.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.70 to $155.20, with the industrials down $2.80, the rails down $1.70 to a new 1957 low and the utilities unchanged.

Based on the drop in the average the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $2,100,000,000.

Volume dwindled to 2,140,000 shares from 2,580,000 in yesterday's rising market, thus removing some emphasis from the decline.

Among the 1,161 issues traded losers totaled 625 and gainers 298 better than a 2-to-1 margin.

Corporate bonds declined in moderately active trading.

U.S. government bonds were firm in over-the-counter dealings

The New York market will be closed on Monday. However, the London futures market will be open. In rather featureless trading futures prices in both the New York and London markets made small gains with volume of trading moderately light. In New York the trade were fair early hedge sellers but London reported trade interests there were modest buyers. The futures markets appear to be predicting stable to higher prices at the Australian auction centers next week. There were no sales in Australia today but cables from South Africa indicated that auction prices there were 2½ to 5 per cent lower.

The USDA Nov. 1 crop indication was 11,788,00 bales, off over 600,000 bales from the month earlier estimate and nearly 200,000 bales lower than the average of the private estimates. The trade hastened to point out that the crop has deteriorated since Nov. 1 and the next estimate will probably be lower. Ginnings to date were 5,594,454 bales compared with 9,718,000 a year ago. In other words, about 50 per cent of the estimated crop has been ginned to date compared to nearly 80 per cent a year ago. It is also significant that only about 10 per cent of current ginnings hav eentered loan compared to around 20 per cent a year ago.

Futures had apparently discounted the lower crop estimate and rallied weakly following the report. Profit taking touched off a few stops resulting in minor losses before the market rallied to close about unchanged from the previous day. Meanwhile, following another day of heavy rainfall the weather bureau forecasts clearing conditions throughout much of the belt and freezing temperatures for parts of Texas are forecast over the weekend.

COTTON

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 25 cents a bale lower to 25 cents higher today with only nearby December showing a decline.

The Department of Agriculture November estimate of the 1957 cotton crop was 11,788,000 bales. This figure was 613,000 bales less than its October forecast.

The market, generally steady during the morning, tacked on small gains after the report was issued. It was on the low side in comparison with recent private surveys. However, traders were disappointed that the market responded only mildly to the crop report and they soon turned to the selling side.

Losses at one time extended to 80 cents a bale. Renewed strength in late dealings was attributed to the possibility of frost in some sections of the western cotton belt over the weekend.

Traders also noted that the Department of Agriculture in its comment intimated that its next forecast in December will be still lower.

Cotton futures generally improved in late dealings as commission house and trade buying increased. Reports of possible frost in some parts of the Western cotton belt stimulated demand for contracts.

'ROPE IT'

WACO, Tex., Nov. 8 (UP)—The only space object that would interest Capt. Sam Gardner of the Texas Highway Patrol would have to be at the end of a rope. When his office called Garnder Thursday night about some "strange light, he replied sleepily," "when you get it roped and tied town to the ground, call me again."

Rocket Fuel Rally Falters; Stocks Drop

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—A brief rally by rocket fuel shares failed to carry through today and the stock market declined sharply enough to cancel its gains of this week.

Closing prices were at about their lows of the day and showed drops of fractions to 2 points or more among key stocks.

President Eisenhower's nation wide speech was the market's major background factor and Wall Street showed little enthusiasm for it. Prices were down from the start and the ticker tape ran late for five minutes under the flood of sell orders.

A prevalent opinion in financial circles was that Eisenhower's speech was "midlle of the road," carried no message of a big increase in spending and therefore was no stimulus. In addition, some of yesterday's rise was attributed to anticipation of the President's speech.

The high-energy fuel stocks did not stage their rally until Sen Bridges (R-NH) was quoted as saying, after leaving the White House that spending on missiles might be increased one or two billion dollars.

The rally was brief as traders cashed their profits, unwilling to be out on a limb prior to the weekend.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.70 to $155.20, with the industrials down $2.80, the rails down $1.70 to a new 1957 low and the utilities unchanged.

Based on the drop in the average the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $2,100,000,000.

Volume dwindled to 2,140,000 shares from 2,580,000 in yesterday's rising market, thus removing some emphasis from the decline.

Among the 1,161 issues traded losers totaled 625 and gainers 298 better than a 2-to-1 margin.

Corporate bonds declined in moderately active trading.

U.S. government bonds were firm in over-the-counter dealings

The New York market will be closed on Monday. However, the London futures market will be open. In rather featureless trading futures prices in both the New York and London markets made small gains with volume of trading moderately light. In New York the trade were fair early hedge sellers but London reported trade interests there were modest buyers. The futures markets appear to be predicting stable to higher prices at the Australian auction centers next week. There were no sales in Australia today but cables from South Africa indicated that auction prices there were 2½ to 5 per cent lower.

Mississippi Cotton Loss At $20 Million

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP)—Rain, winds, frost and freeze may have knocked more than 20 million dollars from the value of Mississippi's 1957 cotton crop in the last five weeks.

How high the figure will go will depend upon damage, known to be heavy, from high winds and drenching rains which swept throughout the state last night, including the Delta where the bulk of unpicked cotton is.

Ray Converse, agricultural statistician in charge at Jackson, said the new estimate for Mississippi is 1,290,000 bales — down 110,000 bales from Oct. 1. This new estimate is based upon Nov. 1 conditions, before last night's storms.

With middling cotton selling at about $165 a bale, this loss alone would amount to $17,150,000. It is aggravated by an accompanying loss in grade, blamed on the same bad weather.

Last night's storms normally would have been less hurtful because Mississippi usually has about 80 per cent of the crop harvested by Nov. 7. But this year, a wet spring, late planting and replanting have set the crop back.

As a result, only 52 per cent of the crop had been harvested when the storms swept in, knocking bolls to the ground, bending stalks and dirtying the lint. Heavy, two-inch rains will mean a further delay in the harvest.

Not since 1913 has Mississippi had such a small proportion of her crop harvested at this date.

The loss in the monthly crop estimates was heaviest in the Delta. The upper Delta district prospect fell from 427,000 bales as of Oct. 1 to 395,000 as of Nov. 1; the lower Delta from 433,000 to 395,000.

Other districts: North central 151,000 to 140,000; northeast 93,000 to 33,000; central 106,000 to 94,000, east central 81,000 to 78,000; southwest 46,000 to 43,000; south central 43,000 to 42,000.

Lodge Gives Dimes March Drive Pledge

The group decided at a recent meeting to organize into groups and solicit contributions in the business section of the city.

The action was taken after a talk with March of Dimes Chairman Sam A. Orchard, who outlined plans for the drive.

Other Action

In other action the group heard plans for the annual Brotherhood Week which will be held in February of next year. Large plans are in the making towards making Brotherhood Week one of the highlights of the community in the spring. Full plans will be announced at a later date by Meyer Glazer, local lodge president.

The highlight of the meeting was a talk by Robert Banks, of Pine Bluff, Ark., first vice - president of District 7, B'Nai B'Rith. He pointed out the work which members of the group could do towards improving the interest in the local lodge.

Accompanying Banks to Monroe was Dr. Sheldon Blau, also of Pine Bluff, and a member of the Arkansas State Board of the B'Nai B'Rith.

The next meeting will be held at the home of the president at a time to be designated later.

7 Sentenced During Court Session Here

Theft of a pick-up truck valued at $1,000 netted Woodrow Bond, 17, a five-year term in the State Penitentiary at Angola, after he was sentenced in Fourth District Court yesterday.

Judge Jesse Heard meted out the penalty.

High point on the docket was the sentencing of Charles Oliver Lantz, 21-year-old AWOL soldier who admitted the armed robbery of Henderson's Curb Market, 2000 Jackson street, early on October 24.

Lantz, who was apprehended in Shreveport, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Two - Year Term

Lloyd Milton McWilliams drew a term of two years in the penitentiary, after changing his previous plea to guilty. He was charged with issuing worthless check for $21.42. Another charge of theft of $10 was dropped.

A 30-year-old Negro, Alfred Richardson, alias Junior Crow, will spend the next eight years at Angola, for committing simple burglary.

Theft by check of $16.50 and attempted theft of an additional $16 netted George C. Pouncey six months on each charge, with the terms to run concurrently in the parish jail.

For disturbing the peace, Mary Freeman of West Monroe and J. B. Grayson of Monroe each was fined $25 and court costs or 10 days in jail.

COUNTRY'S FREEDOM; CHRISTMAS GIFT, TOO

The foundation for the preservation of the freedom to celebrate such Christian beliefs as Christmas —this was the gift to our country on that very day in December 1776.

It happened when George Washington and his men won the battle at Trenton, Pa. That was the beginning of a long line of victories that eventually led to ultimate victory and total independence.

Industrial Group Slate Conference

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Tuesday, Feb. 4, was set as the date of Louisiana's fifth annual industrial conference yesterday.

A steering committee composed of 26 business; educational and industrial leaders of the state fixed the date for the conference at a luncheon meeting at the Capitol House.

The group also decided to stage the conference at the Bellemont Motor Hotel in Baton Rouge in 1958. The conference is jointly sponsored by the Louisiana Department of Commerce and Industry and the LSU College of Commerce.

Theme of this year's conference and the detailed program for the one - day session will be worked out by a program committee to be named by Dr. P. F. Boyer, director of the LSU Bureau of Business Research and general chairman of the conference.

Joseph S. Horan, director of research and industrial development of the Department of Commerce and Industry, told the steering committee the annual conferences are intended "to help the smaller communities of Louisiana help themselves."

The conference program is expected to include talks, panel discussions and workshop groups which will discuss successful case histories of industrial development and provide new ideas to communities on how to attract industry.

Mississippi Cotton Loss At $20 Million

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP)—Rain, winds, frost and freeze may have knocked more than 20 million dollars from the value of Mississippi's 1957 cotton crop in the last five weeks.

How high the figure will go will depend upon damage, known to be heavy, from high winds and drenching rains which swept throughout the state last night, including the Delta where the bulk of unpicked cotton is.

Ray Converse, agricultural statistician in charge at Jackson, said the new estimate for Mississippi is 1,290,000 bales — down 110,000 bales from Oct. 1. This new estimate is based upon Nov. 1 conditions, before last night's storms.

With middling cotton selling at about $165 a bale, this loss alone would amount to $17,150,000. It is aggravated by an accompanying loss in grade, blamed on the same bad weather.

Last night's storms normally would have been less hurtful because Mississippi usually has about 80 per cent of the crop harvested by Nov. 7. But this year, a wet spring, late planting and replanting have set the crop back.

As a result, only 52 per cent of the crop had been harvested when the storms swept in, knocking bolls to the ground, bending stalks and dirtying the lint. Heavy, two-inch rains will mean a further delay in the harvest.

Not since 1913 has Mississippi had such a small proportion of her crop harvested at this date.

The loss in the monthly crop estimates was heaviest in the Delta. The upper Delta district prospect fell from 427,000 bales as of Oct. 1 to 395,000 as of Nov. 1; the lower Delta from 433,000 to 395,000.

Other districts: North central 151,000 to 140,000; northeast 93,000 to 33,000; central 106,000 to 94,000, east central 81,000 to 78,000; southwest 46,000 to 43,000; south central 43,000 to 42,000.

7 Sentenced During Court Session Here

Theft of a pick-up truck valued at $1,000 netted Woodrow Bond, 17, a five-year term in the State Penitentiary at Angola, after he was sentenced in Fourth District Court yesterday.

Judge Jesse Heard meted out the penalty.

High point on the docket was the sentencing of Charles Oliver Lantz, 21-year-old AWOL soldier who admitted the armed robbery of Henderson's Curb Market, 2000 Jackson street, early on October 24.

Lantz, who was apprehended in Shreveport, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Two - Year Term

Lloyd Milton McWilliams drew a term of two years in the penitentiary, after changing his previous plea to guilty. He was charged with issuing worthless check for $21.42. Another charge of theft of $10 was dropped.

A 30-year-old Negro, Alfred Richardson, alias Junior Crow, will spend the next eight years at Angola, for committing simple burglary.

Theft by check of $16.50 and attempted theft of an additional $16 netted George C. Pouncey six months on each charge, with the terms to run concurrently in the parish jail.

For disturbing the peace, Mary Freeman of West Monroe and J. B. Grayson of Monroe each was fined $25 and court costs or 10 days in jail.

COUNTRY'S FREEDOM; CHRISTMAS GIFT, TOO

The foundation for the preservation of the freedom to celebrate such Christian beliefs as Christmas —this was the gift to our country on that very day in December 1776.

It happened when George Washington and his men won the battle at Trenton, Pa. That was the beginning of a long line of victories that eventually led to ultimate victory and total independence.

Lodge Gives Dimes March Drive Pledge

The group decided at a recent meeting to organize into groups and solicit contributions in the business section of the city.

Other Action

In other action the group heard plans for the annual Brotherhood Week which will be held in February of next year. Large plans are in the making towards making Brotherhood Week one of the highlights of the community in the spring. Full plans will be announced at a later date by Meyer Glazer, local lodge president.

The highlight of the meeting was a talk by Robert Banks, of Pine Bluff, Ark., first vice - president of District 7, B'Nai B'Rith. He pointed out the work which members of the group could do towards improving the interest in the local lodge.

Accompanying Banks to Monroe was Dr. Sheldon Blau, also of Pine Bluff, and a member of the Arkansas State Board of the B'Nai B'Rith.

The next meeting will be held at the home of the president at a time to be designated later.

Industrial Group Slate Conference

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Tuesday, Feb. 4, was set as the date of Louisiana's fifth annual industrial conference yesterday.

A steering committee composed of 26 business; educational and industrial leaders of the state fixed the date for the conference at a luncheon meeting at the Capitol House.

The group also decided to stage the conference at the Bellemont Motor Hotel in Baton Rouge in 1958. The conference is jointly sponsored by the Louisiana Department of Commerce and Industry and the LSU College of Commerce.

Theme of this year's conference and the detailed program for the one - day session will be worked out by a program committee to be named by Dr. P. F. Boyer, director of the LSU Bureau of Business Research and general chairman of the conference.

Joseph S. Horan, director of research and industrial development of the Department of Commerce and Industry, told the steering committee the annual conferences are intended "to help the smaller communities of Louisiana help themselves."

The conference program is expected to include talks, panel discussions and workshop groups which will discuss successful case histories of industrial development and provide new ideas to communities on how to attract industry.

J-H Tigers Upset Ruston Foes, 13-14

RUSTON, La. (Special) — The Jonesboro - Hodge Tigers astounded the football experts as well as most of the fans hereabouts by upsetting the previously unbeaten Ruston High Bearcats, 14-13, in a thriller here last night.

The Ruston machine, winner of eight straight this season, ground out steady yardage and was nearly three to one better than the invading J-H Tigers in first downs, but fumbles runied Ruston efforts.

It was a fumble with 30 seconds left in the game and Ruston in charge of the ball with first down on the J-H two that spelled the finish for the Bearcats. Right when it looked like the 'Cats would pull the game out of the fire, they fumbled for the seventh time, and alert J-H pounced on the ball. The Bearcats never had another chance.

Jonesboro - Hodge, a seven - time loser in nine earlier games, jumped into the lead in the first quarter when Donny Brunson crashed over right tackle from the three to climax a 73 - yard J-H drive. Troy Bryant kicked the point.

Ruston counted in the second period when Don Shows hit right tackle from the three, but the Bearcats missed the try for point and a chance to tie.

Dennis Mann scored from three yards out for J-H in the third quarter, and Bryant added the point again that meant the big difference.

In the last quarter Ruston's John Murphy sprinted left end for six and a touchdown, and Roland Jackson added the point.

Ruston gained 261 yards rushing and 33 passing against 147 on the ground and none passing for J-H. The first downs were 16-6 in Ruston's favor.

The defeat forced Ruston into a tie with Neville of Monroe for the lead in the district 2-AA championship race. Each has won two and lost one.

Yarborough Wants 'Peace' Academy

AUSTIN, Nov. 8 (UP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.) today advocated a national academy to train men to win peace as West Point and Annapolis trains them to win wars, in a speech at St Edwards University.

Yarborough said that in addition to the "crash program needed now to develop the intercontinental ballistic missile rocket," the nation needs to:

"Reinstate the educational provisions of the GI bill to all servicemen.

"Create a national science educational fund to give high school graduates with "science aptitudes" the opportunity to go to college.

"Establish a foreign service academy to "train our diplomats in the art of winning peace, just as we have West Point and Annapolis to train our soldiers and sailors in the art of winning wars."

1-AAA CLASH

West Monroe Rebels Drop 7-6 Thriller To Fair Park

SHREVEPORT, La. (Special) — Quarterback Richard Bell plunged one yard on fourth down for a third quarter touchdown and halfback Hylton Hanson booted the extra point to give Fair Park a 7-6 win over West Monroe in a penalty-marked 1-AAA conference game here last night.

Halfback Gary Lauter had sprinted 40 yards around end to the Rebel three yard line to set up the Fair Park touchdown. The determined Rebels, trying to protect a 6-0 lead, held for three downs before Bell made the TD on a quarterback sneak.

The favored West Monroe team lost 125 yards on nine penalities, 75 of them in the second quarter, which seriously hampered their offense. In the second period, they penetrated the Fair Park 20 twice before penalities and a fine Fair Park defense stopped them.

Rebel halfback Robert Perkins dashed off right tackle for a 50-yard touchdown jaunt to give West Monroe a 6-0 lead in the first two minutes of the third quarter. Quarterback Johnny Huntsman's try for the extra point was kicked wide and that meant the ball game.

In the last quarter, the losers managed to reach the Fair Park 25 but could go no further.

End James Farmer and guard Larry Green played outstanding football for West Monroe and halfback Lauter and end Mickey Maloney starred for the Indians.

The defeat cost West Monroe second place in the conference. They have played all their league games and have a one won, two lost record. Fair Park is now tied with Byrd for the conference lead with two victories and no defeats, setting up their Nov. 28 traditional game as the one that will decide the conference championship.

Fair Park and West Monroe tied in first downs with eight each. The losers completed three of eight passes and Fair Park hit on two out of four. Both intercepted one pass.

There's box-office magic in that Michigan State-Notre Dame football rivalry up for renewal at East Lansing, Mich., Saturday... it has been a sellout for nine straight years and Saturday's 76,000 will push the total well over the half-million mark for nine games since 1948.

Oklahoma's mighty Sooners are using the "two-team" system both in the air and on the ground for the Missouri game... as uusal, they'll substitute by units on the playing field and this time they're flying in two small planes, instead of the usual big one, because of a small landing strip at Jefferson City, Mo., where they're working out.

"The year before I came to West Point to coach, Army led the nation with 38 fumbles," said Harp. "So I put in a intensive no-bumble program involving instruction, contact work and psychology to whip the jinx. So we fumbled 33 times the next season."

Alphonse Halimi, the Algerian who won the world bantamweight crown against Raul Macias Wednesday night, picked up a paycheck big enough to make the big fellows envious... Halimi drew $50,000 in cash and expenses from the gate plus another $25,000 in television loot.

Neville Rambles To 31-0 Win Over Rayville Rivals

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) — Neville's Tigers ground out a potent offensive attack and threw up a bruising defense that, when combined, completely overwhelmed the Rayville Hornets, 31-0, here last night.

Halfback Gene Howard, who accounted for 148 of his team's 391 yards gained rushing, scored twice in the first half and Neville led, 12-0, when the two periods ended.

The Tigers added another in the third on Bill DePriest's six-yard ramble and turned in a two-touchdown fourth period that ended the evening.

While Neville was having little difficulty in running over Rayville, Jonesboro - Hodge was dropping Ruston, 14-13, in a victory that sent the Tigers and Bearcats into a deadlock in the 2-AA conference.

Rayville's quarterback John O'Connor gave the Tigers numerous headaches during the game as he acounted for most of his team's yards gained.

The Hornets were able to gain but 27 yards on the ground, but added 110 through the air lanes. Rayville threw 31 passes, completing seven.

DePriest scored two touchdowns for the Tigers and Joe Cage added another. The Tigers led, 18-0, at the end of the third period.

Rayville roared to the 16 in the first quarter, to the 25 in the second, to the 21 in the third and down to the 20 in the finale, but was never able to score.

It was Neville's sixth victory of the season against two loses. For Rayville, it was the Hornets' fifth loss against three wins.

Howard's first quarter touchdown came after a sustained drive from the Neville 30. Plays by Willie Ragan, Marvin Smart and Howard carried the ball to the Rayville nine from where Gene scored.

He got off on a 65 - yard run in the second period after the Tigers got rolling from their own 20. Then he scored from the two to send the Tigers into the halftime lead.

Neville was down on its own 10 in the third period, but punched away until DePriest carried it in from the six. At this point, the Tigers had failed to convert.

Ragan got away for 29 yards in the fourth period and Cage cashed in from the one. Ragan kicked the extra point.

A 44 - yard drive late in the period, sparked by a long pass play by Cage to Jimmy Sparks, was climaxed when DePriest scored from the seven.

West Monroe Rebels Drop 7-6 Thriller To Fair Park

SHREVEPORT, La. (Special) — Quarterback Richard Bell plunged one yard on fourth down for a third quarter touchdown and halfback Hylton Hanson booted the extra point to give Fair Park a 7-6 win over West Monroe in a penalty-marked 1-AAA conference game here last night.

Halfback Gary Lauter had sprinted 40 yards around end to the Rebel three yard line to set up the Fair Park touchdown. The determined Rebels, trying to protect a 6-0 lead, held for three downs before Bell made the TD on a quarterback sneak.

The favored West Monroe team lost 125 yards on nine penalities, 75 of them in the second quarter, which seriously hampered their offense. In the second period, they penetrated the Fair Park 20 twice before penalities and a fine Fair Park defense stopped them.

Rebel halfback Robert Perkins dashed off right tackle for a 50-yard touchdown jaunt to give West Monroe a 6-0 lead in the first two minutes of the third quarter. Quarterback Johnny Huntsman's try for the extra point was kicked wide and that meant the ball game.

In the last quarter, the losers managed to reach the Fair Park 25 but could go no further.

End James Farmer and guard Larry Green played ou standing football for West Monroe and halfback Lauter and end Mickey Maloney starred for the Indians.

The defeat cost West Monroe second place in the conference. They have played all their league games and have a one won, two lost record. Fair Park is now tied with Byrd for the conference lead with two victories and no defeats, setting up their Nov. 28 traditional game as the one that will decide the conference championship.

Fair Park and West Monroe tied in first downs with eight each. The losers completed three of eight passes and Fair Park hit on two out of four. Both intercepted one pass.

New Iberia's Danny de la Houssaye scored on passes of 60 and 29 yards from Wayne Waguespack, who also tossed a 44-yard scoring pass to end James Grace. Fullback Ferris DeRouen got the other tally on a buck and Sonny Moss added four conversions.

TALLULAH ON TOP

TALLULAH (Special) — Tallulah had to turn on its defensive forces in stalling off the Lake Providence Panthers here last night while Danny Neumann was rambling for two touchdowns and a 13-0 win.

The victory, however, narrowed the 2-A conference championship down to Ferriday for the Trojans, who with the Lake Providence win now stand with a 4-0 loop record.

The Trojans meet Ferriday here Nov. 22nd.

Neumann sparked a sustained drive following the opening kickoff before going the final 13 yards around end for the touchdown. Philip Scurria converted.

There was no more scoring until the third quarter when the Trojans took a bad Lake Providence punt on the Panthers' 20 and turned it into a touchdown. Neumann pounded paydirt from the four.

Lake Providence managed to get to the Tallulah 30 once, but was never able to drive any deeper into Trojan territory. Left tackle David Haggard turned in a stellar performance for the losers.

It was the fifth defeat of the season for Lake Providence against four wins. The Panthers have a 2-2 conference record. Tallulah has an over-all record of 7-2.

Natchez, 20—13

NATCHEZ, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Perry Lee Donn scored three touchdowns tonight as Natchez defeated Pascagoula 20-13 to remain unbeaten in south division Big Eight Conference play.

The victory establishes next week's game between undefeated Brookhaven and Natchez as the division title clash.

Dunn scored on a two - yard quarterback sneak for the first tally, went four yard around end for the second and raced over tackle for 19 yards for the last. Billy Priester added the extra points.

Quarterback Billy Canty scampered 67 yards for one Pascagoula touc down, and he passed to halfback Phil Scott for the other. Scott booted the conversion.

BYRD 28, BASTROP 7

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Jojo Pittman took the opening kickoff on an 84-yard touchdown jaunt and the heavily favored Byrd Yellow Jackets went on to a 28-7 triumph over the Bastrop Rams here last night.

Vaughn Evers counted twice for Byrd, first on a one yard plunge in the opening period, and again on a 20-yard drive through the middle in the third quarter. In between, Bo Campbell added a second quarter TD on a one yard plunge.

Walter Moore counted the Bastrop points, getting a touchdown on a six-yard plunge over left guard in the last quarter, and also adding the point.

Byrd had 18 first downs to three for Bastrop and rushed for 268 yards against 88 for the Rams. Bastrop completed five of 12 passes for 64 yards, and Byrd completed three of six for 55.

LAGRANGE 25-7

LAKE CHARLES, La., Nov. 8 (AP) — Halfback Sam Pontchieux sparked a LaGrange running attack in the first quarter tonight and a stout defense held French of Beaumont at bay as LaGrange defeated the Texans 25-7.

Pontchieux was the key figure in all four scoring drives and tallied the final touchdown on a one-yard smash.

Gerald Smith went over left guard for the first tally and Murphy Domingues hit right guard for the second. Don Spano capped a 52-yard march in the third period by cracking over from the one. Don Breaux booted the conversion.

The French touchdown came on a one-yard plunge through tackle by Dan Laurence. Dave Young booted the extra point.

TEHERAN, Iran, Nov. 8 (UP) — Vladimir Stogov of Russia won the first championship decided today at the world weight-lifting championships by taking the bantamweight title with a world record of 345 kilograms (759 pounds) for the three standard lifts.

DEFENNDS IOWA

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 8 (UP) — Iowa athletic director Paul Brechler today defended Coach Forest Evashevski and the Iowa Hawkeyes against charges that the team "quit" against Michigan a week ago. Brechler said the Iowa-Michigan game, tied at 21-21, was "one of the best played intercollegiate contests in years."

Spartans, Irish In Day's 'Big Football Scramble

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

During the ten years the Notre Dame-Army football rivalry was allowed to cool off, the Fighting Irish, shorn of their subway alumni, installed Michigan State as their big rival. The 24th meeting between the Irish and Michigan State's Spartons today fully deserves the Big Game designation.

For one thing, it marks the begining of one of the toughest assignments ever handed a college team. After meeting Michigan State, currently ranked fourth in the nation in The Associated Press poll, Notre Dame will go up against Oklahoma, Nov. 2, and then Iowa, No 5, on the next two Saturdays.

The game will be played before a capacity crowd for the ninth year in a row—76,000 sellout in Michigan State's double-decked Spartan Stadium.

Michigan, State, climbing back after a mid-season defeat by Purdue, is favored in this game and a strong contender for the Big Ten title. Notre Dame, thumped by Navy last week after unexpectedly winning its first four games, needs a victory in at least one of these three rough games to salvage a satisfactory season.

As a gate attraction or as a struggle for national honors, the Notre Dame-Michigan State game ranks alongside todays other tussles involving top-rank teams. And six of the teams listed in the first ten face spoilers who could wreck conference championship prospects.

The tough Texas Aggies, heading the rankings for the second week, encounter Southern Methodist. Oklahoma's team, apparently somewhat below its 1956 championship level, plays Missouri. Defense-minded Auburn, No. 3, is challenged by Mississippi State for the Southeastern Conference lead.

Iowa, the defending Big Ten champion which tied Michigan last week, now runs against rugged Minnesota. Ohio State, leading the Big Ten, counters the Purdue team which dropped Michigan State and Illinois. Tennessee, once more a Southeastern contender since Bobby Gordon has blossomed out as a tailback, runs into an improving Georgia Tech team that handhandled Duke last week.

Navy, Army and North Carolina State, rated 7, 8 and 10, respectively, aren't risking any kind of championships. Triumphant Navy encounters embittered Duke at Baltimore; Army plays the nation's passingest team, Utah. N.C. State appears a bit too strong for William and Mary.

Although Oklahoma has won 46 consecutive games and hasn't lost in 63 straight Big Eight contests, Coach Bud Wilkinson has said both strings may be ended by Missoiri. A victory likely would send the once-beaten, once-tied Tigers to the Orange Bowl.

The surprising Oregon team also is shooting for a bowl spot against Washington. A victory would assure the Webfoots of at least a tie in the Pacific Coast Conference and probably the Rose Bowl nomination.

Princeton's Ivy League lead is at stake when the Tigers play improving Harvard, and Miami (Ohio) and Marshall, both unbeaten in the Mid-American Conference, fight it out for first place.

Other top pairings in various sections include:

EAST — Pittsburgh-West Virginia, Syracuse-Holy Cross, Lehigh-VMI, Columbia - Dartmouth, Cornell-Brown, Penn - Yale, Lafayette-Rutgers.

MIDWEST — Illinois-Michigan, Northwestern - Wisconsin, Iowa State-Nebraska, Kansas - Kansas State, Oklahoma State-Wyoming, Wichita-Drake.

SOUTHWEST — Rice-Arkansas, Texas-Baylor, Texas Tech-Tulsa, Arizona-Hardin-Simmons, Arizona State-Texas Western.

FAR WEST — Air Force-Denver, Colorado State University-Colorado, Utah State-Idaho, Montana State-Montana, California-Oregon State, Southern California-Stanford, Washington State-UCLA, Fresno State-Brigham Young.

Sooner Loss Would Be Good Says Prexy

By CARTER BRADLEY

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 8 (UP)—Dr. George L. Cross, president of the University of Oklahoma, said today it probably would be a good thing for the Sooners to lose a football game because the fans have too much emphasis on winning.

Cross, in an interview, warned, "overemphasis on the winning part of the game will ultimately destroy it."

Oklahoma's 46-game winning streak goes on the block Saturday at Columbia, Mo. Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson said earlier in the week he expects Missouri to win and thus qualify for the Big Eight championship and Orange Bowl.

Wilkinson said there will be more at stake in the game than in any played during a regular season since he became coach here 10 years ago.

Cross, reviewing the decade's developments, said Oklahoma students and faculty members are not responsible for the "terrible pressure" which the Sooner team is now under. And Cross said he has greatest confidence in Wilkinson's approach to the game.

"I think the way Bud conducts football provides the young athlete an opportunity to reach his maximum potential. This attitude is presented in an atmosphere conducive to all-around development of the individual," Cross said.

Cross, who distinguished himself in 1950 with the memorable wisecrack — "I would like to see us develop a university the football team can be proud of" — said Oklahoma's athletic department budget is $862,513 this fiscal year. That covers everything—including intra-mural sports, which he wants to emphasize.

Cross said football gets $217,584 of the total athletic budget including $82,550 for football scholarships. He said football scholarships represent about half Oklahoma's athletic scholarship program, and that he had made a study of all Big Eight football programs including scholarships.

"Our figures are certainly not above the average for the conference," Cross said.

"When we don't shellack a team by five, six or seven touchdowns, the fans talk about the team slipping. It indicates a smugness and an assumption that OU should win all its football games.

"It would probably be good for everyone concerned for the university to drop a football game.

"But don't ask me to pick the team to beat us."

Stanford Grid Coach Getting Ready To Quit

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 8 (AP)—Chuck Taylor is tired of football and is planning to resign as head coach at Stanford, Walt Gamage, sports editor of the Palo Alto Times, wrote today.

"For the past three years he has told friends and members of his coaching staff that he didn't want to make a permanent career of coaching and was looking forward to the day when he could quit this crazy business," Gamage wrote in his column, "Sports Shots."

He said there was no pressure on Taylor to leave, "It's just that he's tired of the game."

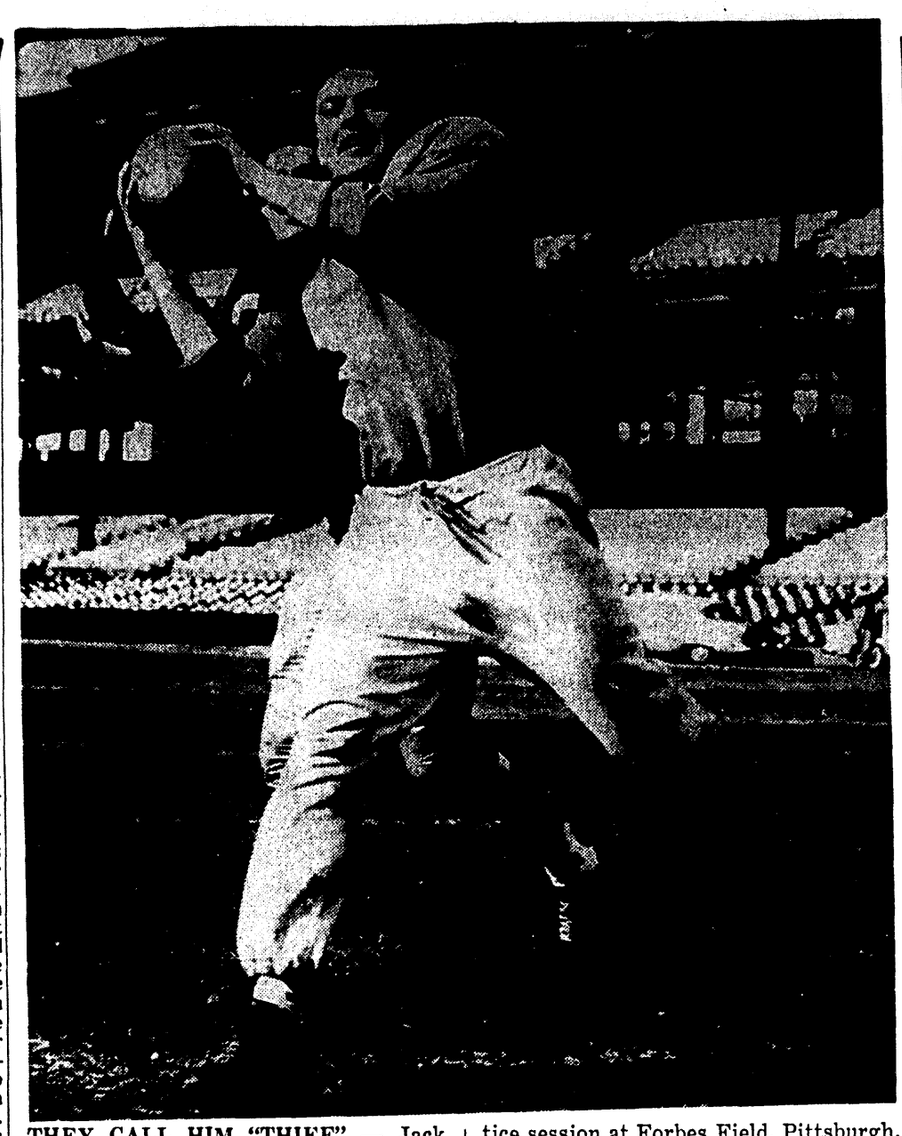

Gamage said he did not know when Taylor would resign but "We wouldn't be surprised if it was sometime during big game week." Stanford plays California here on Nov. 23.

The Times front page carried a two column picture of Taylor under a headline "planning to resign?" The caption said the resigniation would be effective after the California game, the season finale.

Taylor, head coach at Stanford since 1951, has a 4-3 record this year.

He is in Los Angeles for tomorrow's Stanford-U.S.C game and was not available for comment.

Littler, Souchak Set Pace

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 8, (UP)— Big Mike Souchak and little Gene Littler, a pair of golfdom's more consistent performers, battled the Lakewood Country Club and it's attendant distractions for five-underpar 66s to take the first-day lead in the $11,500, 54 hold Long Beach Open Golf tournament today.

Right behind this pair came three of Los Angeles Ronnie Nicol, Jerry Barber and Tommy Bolt, were next in line with four-under-par 67s. Joe Conrad, San Antonio, Tex., also had 67.

And at 68 came Babe Lichardus, Hillside, N. J., Bob Toski, Soutn Miami, Fla., Dale Andreason, Pittsburgh (who had the only eagle of the day); Cliff Whittle, Twin Falls, Idaho; Billy Booe, Bridgeport, Connecticut, Billy Casper, San Diego; Eric Monti, Los Angeles; and Howie Johnson, Akron, Ohio.

This is an easy course, as championship layouts go, and there is very little chance to get into trouble. The main hazards are a few traps and several lake holes, so the top notch shotmakers were having a field day.

Bob Toski, the former world champion playing out of South Miami, Fla., had a 68. So did the big man, George Bayer, of Dallas; and Billie Booe, Bridgeport, Conn. Jerry Robinson, Houston, Tex., had a 69.

BOTH AFTER 2ND WIN

'Bama TD Favorite Over Scrappy Wave

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 8 (AP)—Tulane's scrappy but shallow squad arrived in Mobile by bus today and worked out lightly in preparation for tomorrow's conference game with the Alabama Crimson Tide.

Both clubs will be shooting for their second wins of the waning season. 'Bama is a one-touchdown favorite to bag its second consecutive victory since 1954. The Tide won its first of the season by upsetting Georgia 14-13 last weekend.

Tulane defeated Marquette 20-6 for the only bright spot on its 1-6-0 record this season. Alabama is 1-4-1, including a 6-6 tie with Vanderbilt.

Fair and cool weather is forecast, with a high of 60 degrees expected. About 15,000 are expected in 35,000 capacity Ladd Stadium. The kickoff is at 2 p.m. (CST).

Hits Golf Ball Like Baseball

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 8 (UP)— To add a little non-golf "class" to the field in the Long Beach Open today, the promoters invited Vern Stephens, the basebal player to paraicipate.

Stephens must have thought he was still playing baseball because he lined a high fly to right and the ball landed on the top of the head of Mrs. Howard Cook. Mrs. Cook was taken to the hospital with a slight abrasion.

Sullivan's Old Belt, Shy Gems, Put On Display

HAMMOND, Ind., Nov. 8 (AP)—The long-lost championship belt once worn by the fabled John L. Sullivan, last of the bare - knuckle heavyweight boxing champn, has been found and put on display of the window of a Hammond clothing store.

James S. Delaurier, publisher of the Hammond Times, bought the memory - laden trophy from Melvin Herman, an 84 - year -old Hammond sign painter who had it stored in a warehouse. Herman bought it when the estate of Charles West was settled.

The belt was once valued at $10,000 but false gems have been used to replace the diamonds that once studded the nine gold - plated panels. Name of 355 prominent 19th century personages are engraved on the panels.

The 48-inch belt was presented to the "Boston Strong Boy" at a banquet in Boston in August, 1887. Sullivan held the heavyweight title from 1882 until he lost it to Gentleman Jim Cobrett in 1892.

Nat Fleishcr, publishr of Rini Maiazine and a friend of Sullivan, has identified the belt as genuine.

QUINTET STRONGER

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — San Jose's basketball team should be stronger this season than last with the Spartan's five top scorers returning along with three other lettermen. Diaz led the scorers last season with 392 points for a 15.7 average.

3 Top-Notch Horses Head Trenton Field

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 9 (UP)— Gallant Man, Round Table and Bold Ruler were entered today for Saturday's running of the $83,850 Trenton Handicap with "Horse of the Year" honors and the three-year-old championship hanging on the outcome.

Two outsiders, Samuel Tufano's Wise Margin and King Ranch's Beam Rider, also were named for the mile and one-quarter classic. But interest centered on the clash of the "Big Three," the first time they have come together since the Kentucky Derby last May.

Calumet Farm's Iron Liege won the Derby with Gallant Man a heartbreaking nose behind him after Willie Shoemaker "blew" the race by misjudging the finish line. Round Table was another two and three - quarters farther back in the third slot with Bold Ruler a trailing fourth.

Since the Kentucky Derby, however, Iron Liege has fallen by the wayside in the battle for 1957 racing honors. The other three have compiled impressive records.

Gallant Man, an English-bred colt of Irish ancestory owned by Ralph Lowe of Midland, Tex., has raced seven times since. He won six races, including the Peter Pan, the Belmont Stakes, the Travers, the Nassau County and the Jockey Club Gold Cup. He suffered his lone defeat since the Derby when he was second to dedicate in the Woodward Stakes. Dedicate was withdrawn from the Trenton Wednesday after pulling up lame in a workout.

Owners Express Confidence In LA Ram Coach

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8 (AP) — Owners of the Los Angeles Rams have given harassed head coach Sid Gillman a vote of confidence and assurance he will remain field boss through his present contract which expires after the 1958 season.

General manager Pete R. Rozelle made the announcement today after conferring with the owners, president Dan Reeves, Edwin Pauley, Hal Seeley and Fred Levy.

Rozelle said the owners met with Gillman last Monday but the discussion centered on how to turn a lossing season into a winning one, and was not concerned with the possible firing of the coach.

Red Sox Raise Ticket Prices

BOSTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — The Boston Red Soxs today announced a 10 cents increase in grandstand seat prices for the 1958 season.

The American League baseball club said reserved seats now will cost $2 and unreserved seats $1.50.

The Sox said increased operating expenses prompted the increase.

State Poses Last Threat To Auburn

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 8 (AP) — Powerful Auburn faces the last big hurdle between the unbeaten Tigers and a possible Southeastern Conference crown in underdog but spirited Mississippi State tomorrow.

The long series between tne tradional Dixie rivals will be played before a near sellout crowd in 44,000-seat Legion Field.

Auburn, ranked third in the nation and boasting the best defense in college football, is favored by a touchdown over the Maroons.

Auburn has defeated Tennessee, Chattanooga, Georgia Tech, Houston and Florida. Mississippi State has won over Memphis State, Arkansas State, Florida and Alabama, losing only to Tennessee on a last-minute touchdown, the Maroons were ranked 17th in this week's Associated Press football poll.

Tiger touchdown hopes ride with the running of Bobby Hoppe and Tommy Lorino, and the passing combination of Lloyd Nix to end Jimmy Phillips, also a defensive stalwart and a top All-America candidate.

Quarterback Billy Stacy leads the State offense, and upon his shoulders rest Maroon hopes of an upset. He has run 69 times for 286 yards and completed 10 of 32 passes for 211.

Auburn coach Ralph Jordan said "all of us have a healthy respect for State."

Maroon coach Wade Walker paid tribute to the Auburn defense, which he said "looks tremendous."

"They are big, strong, tough, and they don't give you any weakness to work on," he commented.

Kickoff is at 2 p.m. (CST) and the weatherman predicts nippy but dry weather with an afternoon high of 49 degrees.

Miami Comes From Behind To Win Game

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 8 (AP) —Miami's Hurricanes spotted underdog Florida State a first period touchdown tonight, then roared back in the second hall behind the passing of Fran Curci and the power running of Byron Blasko and Joe Plevel to down the Seminoles, 40-13.

Curci, the little 142-pound quarterback who once had ambitions to play football for Florida State and was turned down because of his size, ran the Seminoles dizzy in the second half with his bullet passes and runs on the option play.

Two of Curci's tosses went for touchdowns. He hit Joe Plevel with a five yard toss in the first quarter and connected with end Phil Geatz in the third quarter with a 6-yard pass.

After outplaying and outscoring the Hurricanes, 7-6, in the first half, Florida State's defense wilted and Miami poured through five touchdowns to go far out in front.

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Miami | 6 | 0 | 13 | 21 | —40 |
| Florida State | 7 | 0 | 0 | 6 | —13 |

'Bama TD Favorite Over Scrappy Wave

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 8 (AP)—Tulane's scrappy but shallow squad arrived in Mobile by bus today and worked out lightly in preparation for tomorrow's conference game with the Alabama Crimson Tide.

Both clubs will be shooting for their second wins of the waning season. 'Bama is a one-touchdown favorite to bag its second consecutive victory since 1954. The Tide won its first of the season by upsetting Georgia 14-13 last weekend.

Tulane defeated Marquette 20-6 for the only bright spot on its 1-6-0 record this season. Alabama is 1-4-1, including a 6-6 tie with Vanderbilt.

Fair and cool weather is forecast, with a high of 60 degrees expected. About 15,000 are expected in 35,000 capacity Ladd Stadium. The kickoff is at 2 p.m. (CST).

Hits Golf Ball Like Baseball

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 8 (UP)— To add a little non-golf "class" to the field in the Long Beach Open today, the promoters invited Vern Stephens, the basebal player to paraicipate.

Stephens must have thought he was still playing baseball because he lined a high fly to right and the ball landed on the top of the head of Mrs. Howard Cook. Mrs. Cook was taken to the hospital with a slight abrasion.

Sullivan's Old Belt, Shy Gems, Put On Display

HAMMOND, Ind., Nov. 8 (AP) —The long-lost championship belt once worn by the fabled John L. Sullivan, last of the bare - knuckle heavyweight boxing champn, has been found and put on display of the window of a Hamrnond clothing store.

James S. Delaurier, publisher of the Hammond Times, bought the memory - laden trophy from Melvin Herman, an 84 - year -old Hammond sign painter who had it stored in a warehouse. Herman bought it when the estate of Charles West was settled.

The belt was once valued at $10,000 but false gems have been used to replace the diamonds that once studded the nine gold - plated panels. Name of 355 prominent 19th century personages are engraved on the panels.

The 48-inch belt was presented to the "Boston Strong Boy" at a banquet in Boston in August, 1887. Sullivan held the heavyweight title from 1882 until he lost it to Gentleman Jim Cobrett in 1892.

Nat Fleishcr, publishr of Rini Maiazine and a friend of Sullivan, has identified the belt as genuine.

QUINTET STRONGER

3 Top-Notch Horses Head Trenton Field

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 9 (UP)— Gallant Man, Round Table and Bold Ruler were entered today for Saturday's running of the $83,850 Trenton Handicap with "Horse of the Year" honors and the three-year-old championship hanging on the outcome.

Two outsiders, Samuel Tufano's Wise Margin and King Ranch's Beam Rider, also were named for the mile and one-quarter classic. But interest centered on the clash of the "Big Three," the first time they have come together since the Kentucky Derby last May.

Calumet Farm's Iron Liege won the Derby with Gallant Man a heartbreaking nose behind him after Willie Shoemaker "blew" the race by misjudging the finish line. Round Table was another two and three - quarters farther back in the third slot with Bold Ruler a trailing fourth.

Since the Kentucky Derby, however, Iron Liege has fallen by the wayside in the battle for 1957 racing honors. The other three have compiled impressive records.

Gallant Man, an English-bred colt of Irish ancestory owned by Ralph Lowe of Midland, Tex., has raced seven times since. He won six races, including the Peter Pan, the Belmont Stakes, the Travers, the Nassau County and the Jockey Club Gold Cup. He suffered his lone defeat since the Derby when he was second to dedicate in the Woodward Stakes. Dedicate was withdrawn from the Trenton Wednesday after pulling up lame in a workout.

State Poses Last Threat To Auburn

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 8 (AP) — Powerful Auburn faces the last big hurdle between the unbeaten Tigers and a possible Southeastern Conference crown in underdog but spirited Mississippi State tomorrow.

The long series between tne tradional Dixie rivals will be played before a near sellout crowd in 44,000-seat Legion Field.

Auburn, ranked third in the nation and boasting the best defense in college football, is favored by a touchdown over the Maroons.

Auburn has defeated Tennessee, Chattanooga, Georgia Tech, Houston and Florida. Mississippi State has won over Memphis State, Arkansas State, Florida and Alabama, losing only to Tennessee on a last-minute touchdown, the Maroons were ranked 17th in this week's Associated Press football poll.

Tiger touchdown hopes ride with the running of Bobby Hoppe and Tommy Lorino, and the passing combination of Lloyd Nix to end Jimmy Phillips, also a defensive stalwart and a top All-America candidate.

Quarterback Billy Stacy leads the State offense, and upon his shoulders rest Maroon hopes of an upset. He has run 69 times for 286 yards and completed 10 of 32 passes for 211.

Auburn coach Ralph Jordan said "all of us have a healthy respect for State."

Maroon coach Wade Walker paid tribute to the Auburn defense, which he said "looks tremendous."

"They are big, strong, tough, and they don't give you any weakness to work on," he commented.

Kickoff is at 2 p.m. (CST) and the weatherman predicts nippy but dry weather with an afternoon high of 49 degrees.

Miami Comes From Behind To Win Game

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 8 (AP) —Miami's Hurricanes spotted underdog Florida State a first period touchdown tonight, then roared back in the second half behind the passing of Fran Curci and the power running of Byron Blasko and Joe Plevel to down the Seminoles, 40-13.

Curci, the little 142-pound quarterback who once had ambitions to play football for Florida State and was turned down because of his size, ran the Seminoles dizzy in the second half with his bullet passes and runs on the option play.

Two of Curci's tosses went for touchdowns. He hit Joe Plevel with a five yard toss in the first quarter and connected with end Phil Geatz in the third quarter with a 6-yard pass.

After outplaying and outscoring the Hurricanes, 7-6, in the first half, Florida State's defense wilted and Miami poured through five touchdowns to go far out in front.

Key To Gulf Crown May Turn Up Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three championship contenders will see action today in games that may hold the key to the Gulf States Conference title.

Pace-setting Southeastern Louisiana's defending champions are host to contending Louisiana Tech, while Northwestern State, now in a three-way tie with Tech and McNeese State in runnerup spot, takes on Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

Southeastern, which edged Tech for the GSC crown last year on the last weekend of the season, may have its hands full this year. Tech boasts a balanced attack, led by the passing of Jim McCabe and the running of Wayne Bourgeois, Paul Hynes and Billy Hughes. And the Tech defense is the GSC's best against running. Southeastern, erratic this season, could be mean, however, if everything clicks. Frankie Bourgeois, Tommy Bell and Wayne Dugas are dangerous runners and Billy Hawkins has shown he can throw.

Northwestern State is favored over SLI, which has shown scrap and a lot of talent in its inexperienced lineup. However, hard-running Charlie Tolar, who leads the conference in rushing and scoring, gives Northwestern a punch SLI can't match. Ralph Davis and Frank Foreman are fine runners and an aroused SLI team could pull an upset.

Yank Doubles Team Moves Up At Sydney

SYDNEY, Australia Nov. 8 (UP)—One doubles team from the United States walked into the third round and another led today when rain washed out the rest of the program in the New South Wales Tennis championships.

Herb Flam, 28, of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Billy Talbert, 38, of New York, non-playing captain of the U. S. Davis Cup team, moved up by default. Their opponents, veterans Adrian Quist and Geoff Brown of Australia, withdrew because of an injured shoulder muscle suffered by Brown Thursday while losing a five-set singles match to Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio.

Flam and Talbert now will face two Australian youngsters, Warren Woodcock and Neil Gibson, in the third round.

Vic Seixas, 34, of Philadelphia and Ron Holmberg, 19, of Brooklyn led Peter Frankland and Bruce Gulley of Australia, 5-2, in the first set when the rains came. Seixas and Holmberg, youngest member of the U. S. team, are the top-seeded foreign pair.

Harris' Fight Career Slows For Army Call

CUT AND SHOOT, Tex., Nov. 8 (AP)—Roy Harris, third - ranking heavyweight contender is being called to six months of active duty with the army.

Harris, owner of 22 consecutive victories since turning professional, said today he will report Nov. 18 at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Winner last week over Willi Pastrano in Miami Beach. In Houston, Harris' manager, Lou Viscusi, said negotiations for the rematch will be called off indefinitely.

The Florida match already has been postponed twice because of injuries, first by Pastrano and later by Harris.

Last June in Houston, Harris outpointed Pastrano in a match that drew a record Texas gate of $46,000.

A lieutenant in the army reserves, Harris spent six weeks in summer training at Camp Polk, La., immediately after the Pastrano fight.

A graduate of Sam Houston state college, Harris is s fourth grade schoolteacher here.

Gifford Sick, May Not Be Able To Play Sunday

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Frank Gifford, big man in the attack of the New York Giants of the National Football League, was sent home from practice today because of a heavy cold and a high fever. Coach Jim Lee Howell said Gifford might not play Sunday.

The Giants, defending their league title, are scheduled against the Chicago Cardinals in Yankee Stadium Sunday afternoon.

Gifford is the fifth Giant to become ill this week although the team was inoculated against Asian flu early this fall. The four others, none of whom has been able to practice this week, are Alex Webster, John Bookman, Dick Nolan and Bill Svoboda. All are backs except Svoboda, who is a linebacker.

In today's drills, Gene Filipski and Don Chandler were used in Gifford's spot at left half. Kyle Rote, former SMU backfield great but an end in the Giant lineup, also worked out at the position.

Lane To Appeal For Scheduling Change To Giles

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 8 (AP) — General Manager Frank Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals said today he will appeal to National League President Warren Giles a scheduling dispute between the Red Birds and the world champion Milwaukee Braves.

Lane said 1958 schedule has the Braves making their final appearance at Busch Stadium in St. Louis by July 15 and he said he had unsuccessfully tried to swap some home dates with Milwaukee.

He said the Cardinals sought to trade dates of May 7 and 8 games in St. Louis for the dates of Sept. 12 and 13, when games between the Cardinals and Braves are scheduled for Milwaukee.

Lanes said Braves General Manager John Quinn declined, claiming it would be too cold in May in Milwaukee.

"Now we're going to have to appeal to Giles to give the Cardinals relief from this unjust scheduling," Lane said.

Tulsa, Tech Tangle Today At Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 8 (UP)— Two nearly-even teams, each looking for its second victory of the season, will battle it out here Saturday when visiting Tulsa University, and Texas Tech face each other in Jones Stadium before a Tech homecoming crowd.

Tulsa holds a 9-6 bulge in the series which started with the 1942 Sun Bowl game in El Paso, and last year the Hurricanes defeated Texas Tech, 10-7.

San Jose Alumnus Raps College Head

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 8 (UP) — Dick Boyd, executive secretary of the San Jose State Alumni Association, charged today that college president John T. Wahlquist has been "evasive and nebulous" in decisions affecting the Spartans' football fortunes.

San Jose State goes into Saturday night's homecoming game with College of the Pacific sporting a record of two wins and five losses and Wahlquist has come under fire for not advocating a more liberal aid-to-athletes policy.

Boyd also said that "it is a matter of record that Dr. Wahlquist voted in favor of a heavy football schedule involving top flight teams. Coach Bob Titchenal went to Southern California to recruit athletes under the impression that certain advantages could be offered them. Then Dr. Wahlquist denied publicly in Sacramento that he had advocated any such policy."

Boyd said that "such formidable opposition" as Washington, Stanford, Oregon and Iowa State are on future schedules and that the Spartans "have little alternative but to play under NCAA rules."

Dr. Wahlquist said Thursday that San Jose State's athletic policy is guided by the Council of State College Presidents and that his school would live up to the rules "like gentlemen" until released from the code.

Items accepted by the Pacific Coast Conference such as training tables and tuition payments to athletes are barred by the council.

Vandy Frosh Take 7-0 Win

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP) —Quarterback Johnny Fergusson led Vanderbilt freshmen to a 7-0 victory over Mississippi freshmen today.

Fergusson, of Pine Bluff, Ark., climaxed a 65-yard march by plunging over from the one. Vanderbilt gained 32 yards on a pass from Fergusson to end Luther Boone of Chattanooga, Tenn. Then Fergusson made two advances of four and seven yards before scoring.

Pass interceptions ended scoring threats by each team in the second period. Mississippi drove 72 yards to the Vanderbilt 8 before center Bob Patrick snagged a pass thrown by Bobby Crespino.

Vanderbilt halfback Terry Black returned Jerry Gibbs' punt 46 yards to the Mississippi 11 and then Gibbs intercepted a Fergusson pass near the goalline.

Mississippi led in total yardage, 251 to 151, and 16 to 10 in first downs.

Tulsa, Tech Tangle Today At Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 8 (UP)— Two nearly-even teams, each looking for its second victory of the season, will battle it out here Saturday when visiting Tulsa University, and Texas Tech face each other in Jones Stadium before a Tech homecoming crowd.

Tulsa holds a 9-6 bulge in the series which started with the 1942 Sun Bowl game in El Paso, and last year the Hurricanes defeated Texas Tech, 10-7.

Ole Miss Holds Light Workout

Coach John Vaught will have an injury-free squad for the Southeastern Conference game.

San Jose Alumnus Raps College Head

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 8 (UP) — Dick Boyd, executive secretary of the San Jose State Alumni Association, charged today that college president John T. Wahlquist has been "evasive and nebulous" in decisions affecting the Spartans' football fortunes.

San Jose State goes into Saturday night's homecoming game with College of the Pacific sporting a record of two wins and five losses and Wahlquist has come under fire for not advocating a more liberal aid-to-athletes policy.

Boyd also said that "it is a matter of record that Dr. Wahlquist voted in favor of a heavy football schedule involving top flight teams. Coach Bob Titchenal went to Southern California to recruit athletes under the impression that certain advantages could be offered them. Then Dr. Wahlquist denied publicly in Sacramento that he had advocated any such policy."

Boyd said that "such formidable opposition" as Washington, Stanford, Oregon and Iowa State are on future schedules and that the Spartans "have little alternative but to play under NCAA rules."

Dr. Wahlquist said Thursday that San Jose State's athletic policy is guided by the Council of State College Presidents and that his school would live up to the rules "like gentlemen" until released from the code.

Items accepted by the Pacific Coast Conference such as training tables and tuition payments to athletes are barred by the council.

Vandy Frosh Take 7-0 Win

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP) —Quarterback Johnny Fergusson led Vanderbilt freshmen to a 7-0 victory over Mississippi freshmen today.

Fergusson, of Pine Bluff, Ark., climaxed a 65-yard march by plunging over from the one. Vanderbilt gained 32 yards on a pass from Fergusson to end Luther Boone of Chattanooga, Tenn. Then Fergusson made two advances of four and seven yards before scoring.

Pass interceptions ended scoring threats by each team in the second period. Mississippi drove 72 yards to the Vanderbilt 8 before center Bob Patrick snagged a pass thrown by Bobby Crespino.

Vanderbilt halfback Terry Black returned Jerry Gibbs' punt 46 yards to the Mississippi 11 and then Gibbs intercepted a Fergusson pass near the goalline.

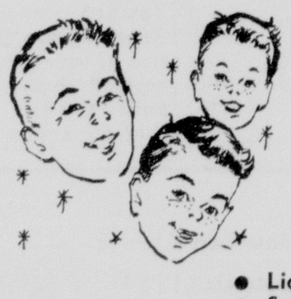

Mississippi led in total yardage, 251 to 151, and 16 to 10 in first downs.

Wetzel Lawyers Win Extension

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP)—Attorneys for a convicted killer, who has lost three appeals to the U.S. Supreme Court, have been granted an extension until Nov. 21 to file a petition for a rehearing, Mississippi Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson said today.

Patterson said a U.S. Supreme Court justice granted the extension yesterday. The original deadline had been Nov. 8.

Atty. Howard McDonnell of Biloxi, who claims William A. Wetzel, 34, was convicted on perjured testimony, said he would seek a rehearing of the last appeal, rejected three weeks ago.

Wetzel was condemned for the 1953 prison slaying of Edgar (Sonny) McGraw of McComb, who had turned state's evidence in an armed robbery case.

Officials termed the slaying gangland revenge and said neither Wetzel nor his three accomplices knew McGraw nor were involved in the armed-robbery case.

Teenagers' Own Author Bans Steady Dating

By VIVIAN BROWN

Rosamund du Jardin, author of popular books for young people, says she'd be happy if just a small percentage of the 75,000 teen agers who each year read her books took the hint that is woven through her stories—"it isn't a good idea to steady date."

"I don't come right out and say so," says Mrs. du Jardin, a sweet motherly type, "but my heroine, Tobey, indicates her experiences show steady dating isn't the greatest. In 'Class Ring', for instance, Tobey does accept a ring, then gives it back, with the boy understanding that he is still top-of-the-list, but that they must wait before coming to a definite agreement."

Mrs. du Jardin doesn't dismiss the boy from Tobey's life. Several books, and many dates later, when Tobey is a college freshman, she discovers in "The Real Thing" that the boy is the right one after all.

"I'm certainly not averse to any girl marrying young, if she knows what she is doing" Mrs. du Jardin explains. "But I do think that a girl should date a few boys before she ties herself down. Inexperience is a threat to her marriage."

It isn't just the problems that arise as the result of this inexperience, she says. Think of the fun a girl misses—dating lots of boys, that wonderful spirit of competition, waiting for the phone to ring, and a call that may not even come, and the old-fashioned dance card, more or less carried for laughs these days. How in the world can you have a dance card filled out when the idea is to dance with your steady date?"

When it comes to marriage, girls, please consider your parents, says Mrs. du Jardin, who has married off a girl and a boy of her own, and has another daughter, 19-year-old Judy, a student at Park College, Mo.

"Consult your parents when you decide to marry" she says. "If you marry without their consent it'll be another problem to work out. Parents aren't old-fashioned really. It may just take them a little while to adjust to the idea. Avoid being belligerent and they will try to understand the tensions of your generation. They above all, have your best interests at heart, and have the greater experience."

Young people should date for at least a year before getting married, Mrs. du Jardin says, they should consider every angle carefully before giving up a college education for early marriage and should not postpone having a family indefinitely, just because they marry young.

"There are special situations, of course," she says, "but my experiences with young people through fan mail, and otherwise, has led me to believe that many of their problems are due to the fact that they aren't mature enough to cope with today's changing world."

The LaVingt Book Club Hears Mrs. Brothers On The Life Of Rembrant

Members of the LaVingt Book Club of Monroe heard Mrs. D. C. Brothers speak on ths life of one of the immortal painters this week, when they met for their regular luncheon.

Mrs. Brothers, librarian of the West Monroe Branch of the Parish Library, was introduced to the club by Mrs. D. E. Bivins, the program chairman. Before showing the film, Mrs. Brothers gave some interesting and pertinent facts relative to the life of Rembrant. She explained that he had soared to the heights of fame and riches, only to die in poverty, despair and disillusionment. The film depicted the course of his life by showing the changes in the type of painting he did at various ages.

After the program, the club president, Mrs. A. D. Bernhardt, presided over a brief business session. She introduced Mrs. Hughes Mendel as a guest. Mrs. J. T. ## Teenagers' Own Author Bans Steady Dating

By VIVIAN BROWN

Rosamund du Jardin, author of popular books for young people, says she'd be happy if just a small percentage of the 75,000 teen agers who each year read her books took the hint that is woven through her stories—"it isn't a good idea to steady date."

"I don't come right out and say so," says Mrs. du Jardin, a sweet motherly type, "but my heroine, Tobey, indicates her experiences show steady dating isn't the greatest. In 'Class Ring', for instance, Tobey does accept a ring, then gives it back, with the boy understanding that he is still top-of-the-list, but that they must wait before coming to a definite agreement."

Mrs. du Jardin doesn't dismiss the boy from Tobey's life. Several books, and many dates later, when Tobey is a college freshman, she discovers in "The Real Thing" that the boy is the right one after all.

"I'm certainly not averse to any girl marrying young, if she knows what she is doing" Mrs. du Jardin explains. "But I do think that a girl should date a few boys before she ties herself down. Inexperience is a threat to her marriage."

It isn't just the problems that arise as the result of this inexperience, she says. Think of the fun a girl misses—dating lots of boys, that wonderful spirit of competition, waiting for the phone to ring, and a call that may not even come, and the old-fashioned dance card, more or less carried for laughs these days. How in the world can you have a dance card filled out when the idea is to dance with your steady date?"

When it comes to marriage, girls, please consider your parents, says Mrs. du Jardin, who has married off a girl and a boy of her own, and has another daughter, 19-year-old Judy, a student at Park College, Mo.

"Consult your parents when you decide to marry" she says. "If you marry without their consent it'll be another problem to work out. Parents aren't old-fashioned really. It may just take them a little while to adjust to the idea. Avoid being belligerent and they will try to understand the tensions of your generation. They above all, have your best interests at heart, and have the greater experience."

Young people should date for at least a year before getting married, Mrs. du Jardin says, they should consider every angle carefully before giving up a college education for early marriage and should not postpone having a family indefinitely, just because they marry young.

"There are special situations, of course," she says, "but my experiences with young people through fan mail, and otherwise, has led me to believe that many of their problems are due to the fact that they aren't mature enough to cope with today's changing world."

The LaVingt Book Club Hears Mrs. Brothers On The Life Of Rembrant

Members of the LaVingt Book Club of Monroe heard Mrs. D. C. Brothers speak on ths life of one of the immortal painters this week, when they met for their regular luncheon.

Mrs. Brothers, librarian of the West Monroe Branch of the Parish Library, was introduced to the club by Mrs. D. E. Bivins, the program chairman. The speaker presented a film on the life of Rembrant Van Rijn, the Dutch artist who lived in the early part of the seventeenth century. Before showing the film, Mrs. Brothers gave some interesting and pertinent facts relative to the life of Rembrant. She explained that he had soared to the heights of fame and riches, only to die in poverty, despair and disillusionment. The film depicted the course of his life by showing the changes in the type of painting he did at various ages.

After the program, the club president, Mrs. A. D. Bernhardt, presided over a brief business session. She introduced Mrs. Hughes Mendel as a guest. Mrs. J. T. Pink satin streamers combined with greenery and carnations extended the length of the end tables, and silver nut salvers completed the setting. At the place of the honoree was a pink-wrapped gift.

Drop The Santa Claus Role. She's A Golddigger

Dear Ann: I'm a fellow 18 and very much interested in a chick who is also a high school senior. In the last 15 months I've bought her a wrist watch for her birthday, a cashmere sweater with fur on it for Christmas and a gold locket for Valentine's Day plus other small gifts throughout the year.

We're supposed to be going steady but every time she gets a chance to date some guy who looks good to her she calls off the steady arrangement and fixes it up with me later.

I've been true blue and have treated her like a queen all this time. She tells me she thinks we both ought to date others until December 1st then go back to the steady arrangement, for the "Holiday Parties." What shall I do? — Joe.

Blow, Joe. This young golddigger has been playing you for all you're worth, and you've been worth plenty! You don't say anything about a job after school or on Saturday, so I take it you've got a direct line to Fort Knox or pa's oil wells are pumping in your name.

A high school kid shouldn't spend money like it's going out of style even it it's easy to come by. It's neither sensible nor in good taste. My advice is to get busy with other girls and drop the Santa Claus role. You'll only attract more commercial versions of Cleopatra.

Dear Ann: I'm 21 and old enough to be able to make up my own mind, but for some reason nothing adds up. Maybe you can help me.

I am in love with a boy who is in love with motorcycles. He is 25 years of age and he eats, sleeps and dreams cycles.

When we first started to date, a year and a half ago, I told him I wouldn't ride in a motorcycle and to please come for me in his car, or we could take a trolley. He talked me into trying a cycle ride and after a while, I was less afraid, but I really don't enjoy it a bit.

The thing that worries me is this. All his friends are married and he's the only single one in the crowd. They are nutty for cycles, travel in packs and spend all their extra money on the "bike" or cycle outfits.

Everyone in the crowd has two or three children, but they don't behave like parents at all. They leave their kids with grandparents and go off riding every night, attend weekend cycle conventions, races and so on. This is not my idea of marriage. He has asked me to set the date. What shall I do? — UNCERTAIN MISS.

Take a good long look at the total picture before you tie yourself up with someone whose major interest in life leaves you cold. Not only do you two not agree on a hobby but your ideas of marriage seem to be poles apart. You don't care for his friends and from your description, your criticism is valid.

Don't ask him to choose between you and the "bike." He has known for a long time how you feel and could have chosen you if he'd wanted to. If cycles mean so much to him, my advice is to tell him goodbye, and let him find a girl who wears a black leather jacket with an eagle on the back.

Dear Ann: I am interested in taking a secretarial course but I wonder if I have the qualities that will make me a good secretary. My father says he doubts it. Can you tell me briefly what qualities a good secretary should have?

I heard recently this very good definition of an ideal secretary: She should look like a girl, think like a man, behave like a lady and work like a horse.

WHY GROW OLD?

Nutrition Rules Good To Know And To Follow

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I wonder how many of you actually put into practice what you read and know about nutrition? How many of you make it a point to give your body, everyday, the foods it needs for health? Is this a hit and miss matter with you, or is it a daily habit?

If you are casual about it, you are missing one of the most exciting adventures of modern times. There seems to be no doubt that in the near future the youthful portion of life will be greatly prolonged and many chronic diseases avoided through improved nutrition. Today it is a shame not to put into practice what is already known about this science which is so important to us personally.

Today let us review a few of the primary tenets of good nutrition. During the war all of you saw the Government's Food Guide frequently, but it doesn't hurt to recall the advice it promoted.

Greens

We need the green and leafy vegetables. Two servings daily is best. One is absolutely necessary. Then we must have the citrus fruits or others which are high in vitamin C. The citrus juices or fruits are the best sources. We should also, have two or more servings of fruits and vegetables not in classifications already mentioned.

We require one serving of meat or fish or fowl daily and at least five eggs a week. We must also have our quota of bread and cereals and must have some fat in our diet.

Milk and cheese are an important part of the protein family. These are important foods for the adult as well as the child. Skimmed or fat free powdered milk is a splendid item for the reducing diet since both bring you so much health value and are so low in calorie count. Skim or fat free milk has only half the calories that whole milk has. Every reducer and most adults should have two glasses a day as a protective food.

If you once make up your mind to eat correctly, you will keep the general principles in mind when planning your menus. It really is not a complex job and will increase your zest for life.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Modern Mothers Capable Of Being Good Parent

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The young mother of today, in contrast with her own mother and her grandmother, has been exposed for three generations to what still are called the "newer" ideas in child rearing practices.

Because she has been exposed to these ideas in high school and college and because her own mother has grown up with them, it is possible for her to live with them and deviate from them in a way past generations had not the courage to do.

Why? Her grandmother took to the new ideas of child care most violently along in the early nineteen hundreds. These ideas were unique, and to her world-shaking. Her own parents belonged to the old school in which children were seen and not heard and who for misconduct got the rod often and painfully.

Were Fanatical

This first generation acted as if it had discovered babies, as indeed it had. They felt as if they and they alone knew how babies should be cared for. They abhorred spanking, held strongly to the belief that children needed infinite patience, that they should have the utmost freedom to act upon their own initiative. They could quote chapter and verse upholding these ideas.

Holt's "Care and Feeding of Infants," was their first bible, followed by Dewey, Freud and a host of others. Naturally, they had to be fanatical to break down the life - long prejudices of previous generations to these fantastic ideas.

Their own children, yours and mine, took the ideas somewhat less seriously. Cracks began to appear in the solid wall of ideas. Not having "discovered" children, as it were, they could be less serious about them. But, when they got angry and showed it, when they broke down and spanked, they considered they were wrong and felt a terrible sense of guilt and a feeling that they were failures as parents.

This present generation has lost that guilt. They are as aware as their parents and grandparents about all the authorities, Gesell, Spock, Sens and literally hundreds of others. But the ideas are no longer new. They have been lived with for three generations and have been reduced to more practical and livable proportions, not blown up to out - size by their sheer novelty.

Now young parents protect their children, make them feel secure, show their affection more openly and both praise, blame and spank. And when they do they no longer feel an awful burden of guilt.

They have learned that there are deviations from the best of practices; that being a loving parent and really trying to understand children, make it possible to do many things the older mothers would have frowned on, without ruining the children. It is the natural step forward and good to see.

The Community Sevice Club To Sponsor Scouts

Realizing that true community service is based on providing a firm foundation of youth, the Community Service Club of Ferriday voted, at a recent meeting, to sponsor Girl Scout Troops.

Mrs. Douglas Watkins, Mrs. Marion Barnette, Mrs. Fred Braillier and Mrs. A. L. Willis were asked to determine the feasibility of forming such groups. This committee obtained the services of Miss Annie Klie, Executive Director of Silver Waters Girl Scout Council, of Monroe, who appeared before a group of mothers at the Ferriday Library Club Room. Miss Klie explained the purpose of Scouting, told the history of the organization, and imparted instruction on the method of organizing a Brownie and Girl Scout Troop.

A meetng was held on Wednesday at the Ferriday Elementary School for the purpose of registering girls, in all grades from the second through the sixth, for scouting. Many mothers attended the initial meeting, bringing their daughters. All parents interested in the Girl Scout movement are urged to contact any member of the Community Service Club for further information on enrolling their children in either of the troops.

Drop The Santa Claus Role. She's A Golddigger

Dear Ann: I'm a fellow 18 and very much interested in a chick who is also a high school senior. In the last 15 months I've bought her a wrist watch for her birthday, a cashmere sweater with fur on it for Christmas and a gold locket for Valentine's Day plus other small gifts throughout the year.

We're supposed to be going steady but every time she gets a chance to date some guy who looks good to her she calls off the steady arrangement and fixes it up with me later.

I've been true blue and have treated her like a queen all this time. She tells me she thinks we both ought to date others until December 1st then go back to the steady arrangement, for the "Holiday Parties." What shall I do? — Joe.

Blow, Joe. This young golddigger has been playing you for all you're worth, and you've been worth plenty! You don't say anything about a job after school or on Saturday, so I take it you've dot a direct line to Fort Knox or pa's oil wells are pumping in your name.

A high school kid shouldn't spend money like it's going out of style even it it's easy to come by. It's neither sensible nor in good taste. My advice is to get busy with other girls and drop the Santa Claus role. You'll only attract more commercial versions of Cleopatra.

Dear Ann: I'm 21 and old enough to be able to make up my own mind, but for some reason nothing adds up. Maybe you can help me.

I am in love with a boy who is in love with motorcycles. He is 25 years of age and he eats, sleeps and dreams cycles.

When we first started to date, a year and a half ago, I told him I wouldn't ride in a motorcycle and to please come for me in his car, or we could take a trolley. He talked me into trying a cycle ride and after a while, I was less afraid, but I really don't enjoy it a bit.

The thing that worries me is this. All his friends are married and he's the only single one in the crowd. They are nutty for cycles, travel in packs and spend all their extra money on the "bike" or cycle outfits.

Everyone in the crowd has two or three children, but they don't behave like parents at all. They leave their kids with grandparents and go off riding every night, attend weekend cycle conventions, races and so on. This is not my idea of marriage. He has asked me to set the date. What shall I do? — UNCERTAIN MISS.

Take a good long look at the total picture before you tie yourself up with someone whose major interest in life leaves you cold. Not only do you two not agree on a hobby but your ideas of marriage seem to be poles apart. You don't care for his friends and from your description, your criticism is valid.

Don't ask him to choose between you and the "bike." He has known for a long time how you feel and could have chosen you if he'd wanted to. If cycles mean so much to him, my advice is to tell him goodbye, and let him find a girl who wears a black leather jacket with an eagle on the back.

Dear Ann: I am interested in taking a secretarial course but I wonder if I have the qualities that will make me a good secretary. My father says he doubts it. Can you tell me briefly what qualities a good secretary should have?

I heard recently this very good definition of an ideal secretary: She should look like a girl, think like a man, behave like a lady and work like a horse.

Nutrition Rules Good To Know And To Follow

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I wonder how many of you actually put into practice what you read and know about nutrition? How many of you make it a point to give your body, everyday, the foods it needs for health? Is this a hit and miss matter with you, or is it a daily habit?

If you are casual about it, you are missing one of the most exciting adventures of modern times. There seems to be no doubt that in the near future the youthful portion of life will be greatly prolonged and many chronic diseases avoided through improved nutrition. Today it is a shame not to put into practice what is already known about this science which is so important to us personally.

Today let us review a few of the primary tenets of good nutrition. During the war all of you saw the Government's Food Guide frequently, but it doesn't hurt to recall the advice it promoted.

Greens

We need the green and leafy vegetables. Two servings daily is best. One is absolutely necessary. Then we must have the citrus fruits or others which are high in vitamin C. The citrus juices or fruits are the best sources. We should also, have two or more servings of fruits and vegetables not in classifications already mentioned.

We require one serving of meat or fish or fowl daily and at least five eggs a week. We must also have our quota of bread and cereals and must have some fat in our diet.

Milk and cheese are an important part of the protein family. These are important foods for the adult as well as the child. Skimmed or fat free powdered milk is a splendid item for the reducing diet since both bring you so much health value and are so low in calorie count. Skim or fat free milk has only half the calories that whole milk has. Every reducer and most adults should have two glasses a day as a protective food.

If you once make up your mind to eat correctly, you will keep the general principles in mind when planning your menus. It really is not a complex job and will increase your zest for life.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Modern Mothers Capable Of Being Good Parent

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The young mother of today, in contrast with her own mother and her grandmother, has been exposed for three generations to what still are called the "newer" ideas in child rearing practices.

Because she has been exposed to these ideas in high school and college and because her own mother has grown up with them, it is possible for her to live with them and deviate from them in a way past generations had not the courage to do.

Why? Her grandmother took to the new ideas of child care most violently along in the early nineteen hundreds. These ideas were unique, and to her world-shaking. Her own parents belonged to the old school in which children were seen and not heard and who for misconduct got the rod often and painfully.

Were Fanatical

This first generation acted as if it had discovered babies, as indeed it had. They felt as if they and they alone knew how babies should be cared for. They abhorred spanking, held strongly to the belief that children needed infinite patience, that they should have the utmost freedom to act upon their own initiative. They could quote chapter and verse upholding these ideas.

Holt's "Care and Feeding of Infants," was their first bible, followed by Dewey, Freud and a host of others. Naturally, they had to be fanatical to break down the life - long prejudices of previous generations to these fantastic ideas.

Their own children, yours and mine, took the ideas somewhat less seriously. Cracks began to appear in the solid wall of ideas. Not having "discovered" children, as it were, they could be less serious about them. But, when they got angry and showed it, when they broke down and spanked, they considered they were wrong and felt a terrible sense of guilt and a feeling that they were failures as parents.

This present generation has lost that guilt. They are as aware as their parents and grandparents about all the authorities, Gesell, Spock, Sens and literally hundreds of others. But the ideas are no longer new. They have been lived with for three generations and have been reduced to more practical and livable proportions, not blown up to out - size by their sheer novelty.

Now young parents protect their children, make them feel secure, show their affection more openly and both praise, blame and spank. And when they do they no longer feel an awful burden of guilt.

They have learned that there are deviations from the best of practices; that being a loving parent and really trying to understand children, make it possible to do many things the older mothers would have frowned on, without ruining the children. It is the natural step forward and good to see.

The Community Sevice Club To Sponsor Scouts

Realizing that true community service is based on providing a firm foundation of youth, the Community Service Club of Ferriday voted, at a recent meeting, to sponsor Girl Scout Troops.

Mrs. Douglas Watkins, Mrs. Marion Barnette, Mrs. Fred Braillier and Mrs. A. L. Willis were asked to determine the feasibility of forming such groups. This committee obtained the services of Miss Annie Klie, Executive Director of Silver Waters Girl Scout Council, of Monroe, who appeared before a group of mothers at the Ferriday Library Club Room. Miss Klie explained the purpose of Scouting, told the history of the organization, and imparted instruction on the method of organizing a Brownie and Girl Scout Troop.

A meetng was held on Wednesday at the Ferriday Elementary School for the purpose of registering girls, in all grades from the second through the sixth, for scouting. Many mothers attended the initial meeting, bringing their daughters. All parents interested in the Girl Scout movement are urged to contact any member of the Community Service Club for further information on enrolling their children in either of the troops.

Ike Dedicates New Atom Headquarters

GERMANTOWN, Md., Nov. 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower dedicated the new headquarters of the Atomic Energy Commission today, using power drawn from batteries charged with nuclear energy.

The power he drew on by pressing a button unveiled a plaque: he used simple hand power in putting a trowel of mortar on the cornerstone of the 13-million-dollar building.

The building, designed to withstand blast, spies and saboteurs, rises in a rustic setting about 30 miles northwest of Washington. It is to be occupied in January, with AEC employes transferring from various buildings in the capital.

Eisenhower came to the dedication ceremony by helicopter in a 15-minute flight from Washington arriving just after a heavy rain. The rain halted during the time he made brief remarks; he returned to Washington by car.

Eisenhower told the gathering of about 2,000 that the discovery of how to harness the atom broke one of the great secrets of nature, comparable to such things as man's discovery of fire.

The building Eisenhower dedicated was built with great attention to security angles. There are 14 large concrete vaults for storing secret document as well as 20 alarm-equipped offices for similar purposes.

Seventy armed guards will patrol around the clock, guarding both the building and the 110 acres of surrounding grounds. Even the landscaping was planned with an eye to security—there will be no shrubs or bushes handy to hide a prowler.

There is a huge underground bomb shelter, designed to protect 1,800 employes during any attack on Washington. An AEC official said the building was built to stand even if "the worst thermonuclear bomb we could think of" should hit Washington.

Gremillion Comments On Suit Changes

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Louisiana Aaty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said today the federal government's action in wrapping in Texas, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida action in the offshore boundary dispute puts al lfive states "in the same boat."

The step by the federal government was anticipated, the Louisiana official added.

Louisiana claims at least 10½ miles seaward in the Gulf of Mexico as its offshore boundary, with billions of dollars in potential oil wealth in the submerged lands at stake.

The federal government recognizes only a three-mile limit for this state. The amended version by the federal government in effect challenges Texas' long standing claim to its 10½-mile border in the Gulf.

Asks Boundary Ruling

The government asked the U.S. Supreme Court to fix boundaries of all five states at three miles in the Gulf.

Under 1954 state legislation, Louisiana claimed its historic boundaries ended three leagues (10½ miles) from its coastline, which in effect pushed the border in some instances more than 27 miles seaward before of the irregular coastline.

Gremillion said the U.S. Department of Justice previously had advised the four other states that they would be included in the Louisiana case if they did not intervene themselves.

"This means," Gremillion said, "we will now have five defendants in the lawsuit and, more or less, puts us all, including Texas, in the same boat.

"I have not had an opportunity to see the complaint," he continued, "but I am sure that the other states will have to file answers and in all probability the matter will come up again for argument.

"We will continue to do all in our power to preserve and protect Louisiana's rights in this litigation," the attorney general said. "We will, of course, continue to cooperate in all ways possible with our sister states in this matter."

Passman Talks On Satellite Program

"We must hope that the awakening has not been too late, that President Eisenhower will see that the programs are carried out," Rep. Otto E. Passman said last night during a television appearance in satellite development.

"While it is disheartening that the President has not already acted with the 'high sense of urgency' which he now stresses, the actions which are finally being ordered are most certainly welcomed," Passman added.

Internal Fears Plague Syrians More Than Turks

IDLIB, Syria, Nov. 8 (UP) — A 15-hour tour of the Syrian border with Turkey today showed the Syrian government preoccupied more with the danger of internal disorder than with the still - smouldering Turkish "threat."

The Syrian army appeared relaxed. Troops were scattered more thinly along the 400-mile common frontier on the Syrian side than the Turks were on their side, it seemed. No heavy equipment or artillery could be seen on the road that hugs the border.

The Syrian guards gave the impression they were more concerned at the movement of travelers through the country. There were checkposts at five points on the road and in two towns.

Apparently, he was a member of the newly-trained home guard which recently received arms at the height of Syria's announced fear that Turkish forces would attack, with American support.

The road was blocked at several places with stone barricades heaped like obstacles on the left and right side, requiring motorists to drive slowly and carefully.

These barricades would hardly slow down tanks, but would hamper effectively anyone trying to flee the country or sneak in.

WEATHER FORECAST — Snow flurries are forecast for today over rather large area bounded by a line running from upper Mississippi Valley southeastward to Ohio Valley, thence northeastward to northern New England and westward to upper Mississippi Valley. Rain is expected for southern Oregon and southwestern Idaho. It will be colder over most of area east of Mississippi River; warmer in western Plain states. (AP Wirephoto Map)

300,000 Added To Payrolls Of Nations' Firms

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)—The nation's payrolls increased by ar estimated 300,000 workers last month, bringing total U. S. employment to 66 million, the government reported today.

The Commerce and Labor Departments said in a joint statement, however, that the increase was not as big as usual for this time of year. They also reported that unemployment was almost unchanged in October at 2,500,000 although it should have shown a season decline. This compared with 2,100,000 out of work in October, 1956.

The report said an unprecedented number of persons — 2,700,000 — lost working time last month because of illness, mainly the "sharp rise in cases of influenza and other respiratory diseases."

It attributed the job pickup to farm employment which had slumped in September. Non-farm employment, which normally rises in October, fell by 50,000 to a total of 59,100,000.

Factory employment actually dropped by 100,000 to 16,800,000 but increases in other non-farm groups partly offset the decline. October factory employment was more than 470,000 below the same date last year.

Short-term illnesses, probably including Asian flu, cut into the number of man-hours worked in October. About 1,300,000 persons were absent from their jobs during the month, a half-million more than usual.

In addition, about 1,400,000 full-time employes worked less than 35 hours because of sickness, more than double the total for October, 1956.

Job reductions were reported in such industries as steel, foundry and metal working, electrical and industrial machinery, aircraft, and household appliances. Trade, services and state and local government employment continued high.

FOR MISSILES

'Zip' Rocket Fuel Under Development

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8 (UP) — A Pittsburgh firm is producing a new "zip" fuel for missiles combining the elements of boron, carbon and hydrogen — which some observers believe powered Russia's Sputnik II into space.

The fuel is called HiCal, and is being produced at the Callery Chemical Co., research center about 30 miles north of here. Callerty is a subsidiary of Mine Safety Appliance Co., Pittsburgh.

The firm is constructing a 38 million dollar plant at Muskogee, Okla., and a four million dollar installation at Lawrence, Kan., to produce HiCal in tonnage quantities to multiply the range of missiles and jet planes.

In the fuel, hydrogen — a gas that burns with a greater heat of combustion per pound than any other pure material—is chemically locked in a liquid form. In this state it is easy to handle and transport and can be burned with greater safety.

Carbon, in addition to being combustible, is used in the compound as a stabilizer to permit easier and safer handling and use of the fuel.

HiCal of the desired quality was produced in pilot quantities four years after "Project Zip" began.

The next step was to produce a practical process to produce it in tonnage amounts and a 1,300-acre site was purchased at Muskogee for full-scale operations. The plant to employ 500 persons, is scheduled to begin opration in late 1958.

Rapides Listed As Disaster Parish

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Small Business Administration today designated two counties in Texas and one in Louisiana as disaster areas as the result of tornado damage.

They are Jefferson and Orange in Texas and Rapides Parish in Louisiana.

Owners of homes or businesses that were damaged or destroyed may apply for reconstruction loans at 3 per cent interest. Applications may be filed at the agency's offices in Houston and New Orleans.

Attorney General Rogers Sworn In

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)—William P. Rogers, one of Thomas E. Dewey's original New York "gangbusters," was sworn in today as attorney general of the United States.

A close friend of vice President Richard M. Nixon, Rogers became deputy attorney general on Jan. 23, 1953, the outset of the Eisenhower administration. He was one of Dewey's assistants when Dewey was district attorney of New York county.

Motorist Killed

LAKE CHARLES, La., Nov. 8 (AP)—Donald R. Freeman, 22, of Sulphur, died today of injuries received in a car-truck collision.

Officers said Freeman's car ran into the back of a trailer-truck that had stopped to make a turn on U. S. Highway 90 at Sulphur yesterday.

Ike Dedicates New Atom Headquarters

GERMANTOWN, Md., Nov. 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower dedicated the new headquarters of the Atomic Energy Commission today, using power drawn from batteries charged with nuclear energy.

The power he drew on by pressing a button unveiled a plaque: he used simple hand power in putting a trowel of mortar on the cornerstone of the 13-million-dollar building.

The building, designed to withstand blast, spies and saboteurs, rises in a rustic setting about 30 miles northwest of Washington. It is to be occupied in January, with AEC employes transferring from various buildings in the capital.

Eisenhower came to the dedication ceremony by helicopter in a 15-minute flight from Washington arriving just after a heavy rain. The rain halted during the time he made brief remarks; he returned to Washington by car.

Eisenhower told the gathering of about 2,000 that the discovery of how to harness the atom broke one of the great secrets of nature, comparable to such things as man's discovery of fire.

The building Eisenhower dedicated was built with great attention to security angles. There are 14 large concrete vaults for storing secret document as well as 20 alarm-equipped offices for similar purposes.

Seventy armed guards will patrol around the clock, guarding both the building and the 110 acres of surrounding grounds. Even the landscaping was planned with an eye to security—there will be no shrubs or bushes handy to hide a prowler.

There is a huge underground bomb shelter, designed to protect 1,800 employes during any attack on Washington. An AEC official said the building was built to stand even if "the worst thermonuclear bomb we could think of" should hit Washington.

Gremillion Comments On Suit Changes

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Louisiana Aaty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said today the federal government's action in wrapping in Texas, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida action in the offshore boundary dispute puts al lfive states "in the same boat."

The step by the federal government was anticipated, the Louisiana official added.

Louisiana claims at least 10½ miles seaward in the Gulf of Mexico as its offshore boundary, with billions of dollars in potential oil wealth in the submerged lands at stake.

The federal government recognizes only a three-mile limit for this state. The amended version by the federal government in effect challenges Texas' long standing claim to its 10½-mile border in the Gulf.

Asks Boundary Ruling

The government asked the U.S. Supreme Court to fix boundaries of all five states at three miles in the Gulf.

Under 1954 state legislation, Louisiana claimed its historic boundaries ended three leagues (10½ miles) from its coastline, which in effect pushed the border in some instances more than 27 miles seaward before of the irregular coastline.

Gremillion said the U.S. Department of Justice previously had advised the four other states that they would be included in the Louisiana case if they did not intervene themselves.

"This means," Gremillion said, "we will now have five defendants in the lawsuit and, more or less, puts us all, including Texas, in the same boat.

"I have not had an opportunity to see the complaint," he continued, "but I am sure that the other states will have to file answers and in all probability the matter will come up again for argument.

"We will continue to do all in our power to preserve and protect Louisiana's rights in this litigation," the attorney general said. "We will, of course, continue to cooperate in all ways possible with our sister states in this matter."

Passman Talks On Satellite Program

"We must hope that the awakening has not been too late, that President Eisenhower will see that the programs are carried out," Rep. Otto E. Passman said last night during a television appearance in satellite development.

"While it is disheartening that the President has not already acted with the 'high sense of urgency' which he now stresses, the actions which are finally being ordered are most certainly welcomed," Passman added.

Internal Fears Plague Syrians More Than Turks

IDLIB, Syria, Nov. 8 (UP) — A 15-hour tour of the Syrian border with Turkey today showed the Syrian government preoccupied more with the danger of internal disorder than with the still - smouldering Turkish "threat."

The Syrian army appeared relaxed. Troops were scattered more thinly along the 400-mile common frontier on the Syrian side than the Turks were on their side, it seemed. No heavy equipment or artillery could be seen on the road that hugs the border.

The Syrian guards gave the impression they were more concerned at the movement of travelers through the country. There were checkposts at five points on the road and in two towns.

Apparently, he was a member of the newly-trained home guard which recently received arms at the height of Syria's announced fear that Turkish forces would attack, with American support.

The road was blocked at several places with stone barricades heaped like obstacles on the left and right side, requiring motorists to drive slowly and carefully.

These barricades would hardly slow down tanks, but would hamper effectively anyone trying to flee the country or sneak in.

300,000 Added To Payrolls Of Nations' Firms

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)—The nation's payrolls increased by ar estimated 300,000 workers last month, bringing total U. S. employment to 66 million, the government reported today.

The Commerce and Labor Departments said in a joint statement, however, that the increase was not as big as usual for this time of year. They also reported that unemployment was almost unchanged in October at 2,500,000 although it should have shown a season decline. This compared with 2,100,000 out of work in October, 1956.

The report said an unprecedented number of persons — 2,700,000 — lost working time last month because of illness, mainly the "sharp rise in cases of influenza and other respiratory diseases."

It attributed the job pickup to farm employment which had slumped in September. Non-farm employment, which normally rises in October, fell by 50,000 to a total of 59,100,000.

Factory employment actually dropped by 100,000 to 16,800,000 but increases in other non-farm groups partly offset the decline. October factory employment was more than 470,000 below the same date last year.

Short-term illnesses, probably including Asian flu, cut into the number of man-hours worked in October. About 1,300,000 persons were absent from their jobs during the month, a half-million more than usual.

In addition, about 1,400,000 full-time employes worked less than 35 hours because of sickness, more than double the total for October, 1956.

Job reductions were reported in such industries as steel, foundry and metal working, electrical and industrial machinery, aircraft, and household appliances. Trade, services and state and local government employment continued high.

'Zip' Rocket Fuel Under Development

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8 (UP) — A Pittsburgh firm is producing a new "zip" fuel for missiles combining the elements of boron, carbon and hydrogen — which some observers believe powered Russia's Sputnik II into space.

The fuel is called HiCal, and is being produced at the Callery Chemical Co., research center about 30 miles north of here. Callerty is a subsidiary of Mine Safety Appliance Co., Pittsburgh.

The firm is constructing a 38 million dollar plant at Muskogee, Okla., and a four million dollar installation at Lawrence, Kan., to produce HiCal in tonnage quantities to multiply the range of missiles and jet planes.

In the fuel, hydrogen — a gas that burns with a greater heat of combustion per pound than any other pure material—is chemically locked in a liquid form. In this state it is easy to handle and transport and can be burned with greater safety.

Boron, which is found in the natural state of borax, is the most efficient carrier of hydrogen and is combustible and light.

Carbon, in addition to being combustible, is used in the compound as a stabilizer to permit easier and safer handling and use of the fuel.

HiCal has been produced in pilot plant quantities at the Callery research center, where 550 persons are employed. The Navy Department's "Project Zip" started in 1952 and until recently was a top secret.

HiCal of the desired quality was produced in pilot quantities four years after "Project Zip" began.

The next step was to produce a practical process to produce it in tonnage amounts and a 1,300-acre site was purchased at Muskogee for full-scale operations. The plant to employ 500 persons, is scheduled to begin opration in late 1958.

Rapides Listed As Disaster Parish

Attorney General Rogers Sworn In

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)—William P. Rogers, one of Thomas E. Dewey's original New York "gangbusters," was sworn in today as attorney general of the United States.

A close friend of vice President Richard M. Nixon, Rogers became deputy attorney general on Jan. 23, 1953, the outset of the Eisenhower administration. He was one of Dewey's assistants when Dewey was district attorney of New York county.

AT GROVES, TEXAS

Tornado Blows Slab Into Tree

GROVES, Tex., Nov. 8 (UP)—The tornado that struck Groves Thursday night robbed a grave of its granite headstone and carried it to a perch in a tree, mute testimony to the force of the blow.

The cross came from a cemetery that was listtered with tree limbs and heavy gravestones that were overturned by the terrific wind.

Kent DeMaret, police reporter of the Houston Press, came upon the cross in the tree as he followed a ragged line of tilted and splintered utility poles leading to the remains of the Mulkey Pharmacy.

Only Three Walls

"Only three pink stucco walls of the drug store were standing," DeMaret said. "Drugs, cosmetics, candy and fragments of the building were scattered over a square block."

Across the street from the drug store was a five-room brick home where 16-year-old Bobby Sherwood cringed beneath a dresser while the tornado swept by.

"All I heard was crashes, Bobby said, "but they kept getting louder and louder. Then, all of a sudden, it stopped and all I could hear was the rain."

Bobby ran out of the house and ran across the yard. He didn't learn until this morning that he could have been electrocuted in the darkness because the yard was criss - crossed with broken high-voltage power lines.

Every window in the Sherwood home was broken and huge pieces of rock and broken limbs littered the yard. A huge oak tree crashed and missed the house by inches.

Demaret said he found wreckage, broken branches, twisted television aerials and oddly - tilted utility poles everywhere he turned.

"We drove past the wreckage of a skating rink where the roof was blown down only minutes after some 25 skaters had left," he said.

"In some places I saw three or four houses standing less than 20 feet apart—and only one of the group damaged. Some houses were all that could be seen except splinters and personal belongings."

Mayor C. B. Draper said at least 160 homes were demolished and several times that number damaged. He said the damage would run to $5 million.

MIDDLETON SAYS

Higher Education Needs More Funds

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 8 (UP)—Higher education is absolutely essential to the nation's survival and more money must be spent for it, Dr. Troy H. Middleton, president of Louisiana State University, said today.

"Because its per capita income is comparatively low, the South—its people and its industries—must be prepared to spend relatively more on higher education," Middleton said.

Dr. W. V. Houston, president of Rice Institute, Houston, said "all those concerned with engineering education are agreed as to the necessity of a broad cultural edu-

Need Science

"It is equally important," he said, "that all citizens have enough of a scientific background to develop a balanced philosophy of life as well as to make intelligent decisions on the many political questions that scientific or engineering origin."

Dr. Richard A. Harvill, president of the University of Arizona, "the most crucial issue facing education and industry is the need for an adequate supply of highly qualified professional talent for both are competing."

Dr. John T. Caldwell, president of the University of Arkansas, said that . . . "the unique contribution of a univeristy to America must be the generation of new ideas which are the production of fundamental investigation, conducted in a bodly free environment."

Harold Vagtborg, president of the Southwest Research Institute, told the group that the future of the Southwestern economy looks bright. He said it depends on education and research.

BANDIT ROBS SAFEWAY

DALLAS, Nov. 8 (UP) — An armed bandit in dark glasses took $3,000 from a Safeway store cashier today and slipped out unnoticed by any shoppers. The robbery took place minutes after an armored car had delivered the money to the store.

'Big 80' Display To Be At Exposition

Included in the exhibits which will be shown at the Northeast Louisiana State College science exposition will be a display of illustrations and information on "Big 80," the super highway which is to cross the Twin Cities as an elevated structure.

Wayne Huckaby, district highway engineer, said he had accepted an invitation to prepare the exhibit for the exposition, slated for Dec. 13.

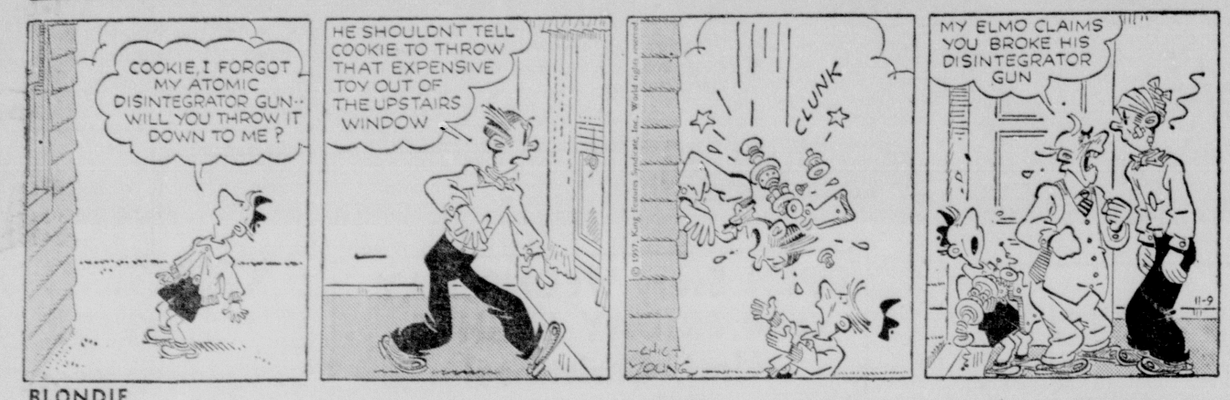

Many other displays on scientific material will be shown. Emmett Foster, who is in charge of the event, said the general public is invited to attend the exhibit.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Education Week Program Announced

CROSSETT (Special) — The Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and officials of Crossett Public Schools have completed plans for the district wide visitation program scheduled for National Education Week next week.

The local program is being called, "Citizens Vist Your Schools Week", and replaces the Chamber of Commerces' annual Education - Business Day. Invitations have been mailed to all parents of school age children in the district and arrangements are complete for transportation for patrons living in the rural areas. The general public is cordially invited to participate in the week long program by visiting at least one of Crossett's schools.

Visit Classrooms

Visitors will be met by students as they enter the building and directed to the classrooms they wish to visit. Each visitor will be asked to register and will be given a lapel button to wear throughout the week stating that he has visited the schools. Each class will be credited with a visitor and the class having the greatest number of visitors in the school will be honored by the school for this achievement.

Students from the high school will appear on several programs during National Education Week. The band will present a program before the Rotary Club, the choral group will entertain at the Company Awards Dinner, the Superintendent and a group of high school students will present an assembly program at Arkansas A. & M. College on Thursday November 14.

The theme of this the 37 annual observance of National Education Week is, An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward.

Plan now to be among those who visit the schools during American Education Week.

Tornado Blows Slab Into Tree

GROVES, Tex., Nov. 8 (UP)— The tornado that struck Groves Thursday night robbed a grave of its granite headstone and carried it to a perch in a tree, mute testimony to the force of the blow.

The cross came from a cemetery that was listtered with tree limbs and heavy gravestones that were overturned by the terrific wind.

Kent DeMaret, police reporter of the Houston Press, came upon the cross in the tree as he followed a ragged line of tilted and splintered utility poles leading to the remains of the Mulkey Pharmacy.

Only Three Walls

"Only three pink stucco walls of the drug store were standing," DeMaret said. "Drugs, cosmetics, candy and fragments of the building were scattered over a square block."

Across the street from the drug store was a five-room brick home where 16-year-old Bobby Sherwood cringed beneath a dresser while the tornado swept by.

"All I heard was crashes, Bobby said, "but they kept getting louder and louder. Then, all of a sudden, it stopped and all I could hear was the rain."

Bobby ran out of the house and ran across the yard. He didn't learn until this morning that he could have been electrocuted in the darkness because the yard was criss - crossed with broken high-voltage power lines.

Every window in the Sherwood home was broken and huge pieces of rock and broken limbs littered the yard. A huge oak tree crashed and missed the house by inches.

Demaret said he found wreckage, broken branches, twisted television aerials and oddly - tilted utility poles everywhere he turned.

"We drove past the wreckage of a skating rink where the roof was blown down only minutes after some 25 skaters had left," he said.

"In some places I saw three or four houses standing less than 20 feet apart—and only one of the group damaged. Some houses were all that could be seen except splinters and personal belongings."

Mayor C. B. Draper said at least 160 homes were demolished and several times that number damaged. He said the damage would run to $5 million.

Higher Education Needs More Funds

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 8 (UP)— Higher education is absolutely essential to the nation's survival and more money must be spent for it, Dr. Troy H. Middleton, president of Louisiana State University, said today.

He was one of the speakers at a gathering of scientists and educators at the Southwest Research Institute.

"Because its per capita income is comparatively low, the South—its people and its industries —must be prepared to spend relatively more on higher education," Middleton said.

Dr. W. V. Houston, president of Rice Institute, Houston, said "all those concerned with engineering education are agreed as to the necessity of a broad cultural edu-

Need Science

"It is equally important," he said, "that all citizens have enough of a scientific background to develop a balanced philosophy of life as well as to make intelligent decisions on the many political questions that scientific or engineering origin."

Dr. Richard A. Harvill, president of the University of Arizona, "the most crucial issue facing education and industry is the need for an adequate supply of highly qualified professional talent for both are competing."

Dr. John T. Caldwell, president of the University of Arkansas, said that . . . "the unique contribution of a univeristy to America must be the generation of new ideas which are the production of fundamental investigation, conducted in a bodly free environment."

Harold Vagtborg, president of the Southwest Research Institute, told the group that the future of the Southwestern economy looks bright. He said it depends on education and research.

'Big 80' Display To Be At Exposition

Included in the exhibits which will be shown at the Northeast Louisiana State College science exposition will be a display of illustrations and information on "Big 80," the super highway which is to cross the Twin Cities as an elevated structure.

Wayne Huckaby, district highway engineer, said he had accepted an invitation to prepare the exhibit for the exposition, slated for Dec. 13.

Many other displays on scientific material will be shown. Emmett Foster, who is in charge of the event, said the general public is invited to attend the exhibit.

British Explode Hydrogen Bomb

LONDON, Nov. 8 (UP)—Britain today exploded a nuclear weapon presumed to be a hydrogen bomb which was dropped from a plane high over the central Pacific.

Informed sources said it could be assumed the device was a hydrogen weapon. It signalled the start of a second round of test explosions in the Christmas Island area.

The ministry of supply refused to give any information on the size of the explosion, but other sources said it was part of a series of blasts in the megaton range. That indicated the bomb had an explosive force equalling at least one million tons of TNT.

At Christmas Island

The bomb was dropped on target near Christmas Island by a four-jet Vickers Valiant plane specially treated with white anti-thermal radiation paint. It also was fitted with special steel window visors to protect the crew from the flash of the bomb.

Officials said early indcations were that the fallout would be "negligible." Britain already has tested three hydrogen bombs near Christmas Island. The last explosion was on June 19.

The announcement of the test was given to newsmen a few hours after Japan had handed Britain a note "dealing with the compensation question" arising from damage through nuclear tests.

At the same time, Britain handed Japan a reply to an earlier Japanese note asking that the tests be suspended. The text of the reply was not made public but a foreign office spokesman made it clear Britin would continue testing its nuclear weapons.

Satellite Dog May Have Died

MOSCOW, Nov. 8 (UP) — The official Soviet report on Sputnik II today made no mention of its dog passenger, leading observers to believe the world's first space traveler might be dead in the metal container whirling around the earth.

Laika, the 40 - pound Arctic sledge dog encased in the half-ton shell was alive Thursday, five days after the satellite was shot 1,056 miles into space. But apparently the dog's life began ebbing. The Tass news agency report Thursday said scientists were receiving data only on the animal's main physiological functions.

Observers interpreted the agency's failure to mantion Laika today to mean scientists received nothing from the transmitters attuned to the dog.

Value To Science

There had been reports shortly after the launching last Sunday that efforts would be made to bring the dog back to earth alive. Even dead, the body would be of falue to scientists studying the effects of such space phenomena as cosmic rays on flesh and blood.

Russians, as well as westerners, had expressed anxiety and sympathy for the dop.

But scientists, interested primarily in unlocking the secrets of space, planned further animal exeriments outside the earth's atmosphere. The newspaper Pravda reported earlier this week that anthropoid apes might be sent up in the next satellite.

The satellite itself appeared to be functioning normally. The Tass communique said that at 6 a. m., Moscow time (9 p.m. CST, Thursday), the elongaged Sputnik had circled the globe in its orbit more than 82 times.

Original Sputnik Still Goes

Sputnik I, a sphere weighing 184 pounds, one-sixth the weight of the bigger satellite, still was whirling on its lower orbit and had made 530 revolutions around the earth since Oct. 4.

Its fellow-traveling rocket had lapped it three times and had made 533 revolutions.

(A Soviet scientist on a Radio Moscow broadcast heard in London said satellites might have a very practical value in the future as relay points for radio, and TV signals.

(The scientist, identified as a professor Manayev, said a Sputnik at an altitude of 600 to 900 miles would provide a "radius of action" for such signals covering "thousands of miles.")

Water Tower Falls, Hurls Man To Death

MELROSE PARK, Ill., Nov. 8 (UP)—The steel dome of a huge water reservoir collapsed today, hurling one man to his death and trapping workmen in the wreckage.

Police and firemen from three suburban Chicago towns cut loose five trapped workmen with acetyline torches. They were hospitalized, along with three other injured men. Two of them were reported in serious condition.

Rescue workers continued digging for about an hour longer until authorities were sure no workmen had been overlooked. The dead man was identified as Leonardis Hale of Indianapolis, Ind.

At least 15 men were on top of the empty, 4-million gallon reservoir, pouring concrete, when the dome collapsed. The weight of the concrete, plus high winds raking the structure, probably contributed to the breakdown, authorities said.

The men on top of the reservoir were hurled 30 feet to the ground. Persons who had been watching the work from below were also injured. The roar of the crash was heard throughout the area.

Lease-Buy Plan In Use Again By U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)—The government has reactivated its 700 million dollar lease-purchase program by calling for bids on 10 projects.

The General Services Administration, which met with little success after twice revising the program's requirements to attract investors and builders, suspended the entire program last February.

At the time GSA said the reason was to reduce inflationary pressures although all of the previous bids but one had been rejected.

In calling for investors and builders to submit bids next week the government lifted the previously restricted 4 per cent interest rate.

A GSA spokesman said, "we are seeking the lowest reasonable rate we can get without the 4 per cent limitation."

The projects and dates for inviting and opening financial bids include:

Nov. 12 and Dec. 10 — Albuquerque, N. M., federal office building, financng required—$5,800,000, with 25-year repayment.

Nov. 14 and Dec. 12 — Kansas City, Kans., U. S. Post Office and courthouse, financing required — $2,100,000, wth 25-year repayment. Green Bay, Wis., U. S. Post Office, financing required — $1,550,000, with 10-year repayment.

Nov. 18 and Dec. 17 — Gainesville, Tex., U. S. Post Office, financing required — $620,000, wth 10-year repayment.

NEW FRENCH PARTY FORMED

PARIS (UP)— A newly-formed ultra right-wing political party said today its avowed intention is to destroy the present regime in France and guillotine "traitors" if it comes to power. The new party —the 14th in France — is the Revolutionary Patriot Party founded by Jean-Baptiste Biaggi, a turbulent right-winger. Formation of the party means the emergence of an extremist right-wing group which is the direct heir to the various neo-Fascist leagues which plagued political life toward the end of the Third Republic — before the last war broke out.

Taylor drew three years on each of four burglary counts, the sentences to run concurrently, and the other three men received three years each on burglary convictions.

The four were escorted to Angola by Deputy J. R. Bell.

British Explode Hydrogen Bomb

LONDON, Nov. 8 (UP)—Britain today exploded a nuclear weapon presumed to be a hydrogen bomb which was dropped from a plane high over the central Pacific.

Informed sources said it could be assumed the device was a hydrogen weapon. It signalled the start of a second round of test explosions in the Christmas Island area.

The ministry of supply refused to give any information on the size of the explosion, but other sources said it was part of a series of blasts in the megaton range. That indicated the bomb had an explosive force equalling at least one million tons of TNT.

At Christmas Island

The bomb was dropped on target near Christmas Island by a four-jet Vickers Valiant plane specially treated with white anti-thermal radiation paint. It also was fitted with special steel window visors to protect the crew from the flash of the bomb.

Officials said early indcations were that the fallout would be "negligible." Britain already has tested three hydrogen bombs near Christmas Island. The last explosion was on June 19.

The announcement of the test was given to newsmen a few hours after Japan had handed Britain a note "dealing with the compensation question" arising from damage through nuclear tests.

At the same time, Britain handed Japan a reply to an earlier Japanese note asking that the tests be suspended. The text of the reply was not made public but a foreign office spokesman made it clear Britin would continue testing its nuclear weapons.

Youths Here For Annual Conference

Delegates to the annual youth conference of the Salvation Army from the Louisiana - Arkansas last night with a total of 175 expected to be in attendance for the confab.

The meeting opens this morning at the Virginia Hotel and will continue until noon tomorrow.

Highlighting the occasion will be the appearance of Commissioner William Davidson of Atlanta, Ga., territorial commandant whose jurisdiction includes 17 southern states, the District of Columbia and Mexico.

Davidson will speak at the Saturday night session in a meeting which will be open to the public.

Maj. Louis Mockabee of Monroe, commandant of the Ouachita Parish unit of the Salvation Army, said other dignitaries expected to attend are Col. Harold Stout of Atlanta, territorial youth director; Maj. Ted Morris of New Orleans, divisional director of youth activities for Louisiana and Arkansas, and Brigadier Harry Ward of New Orleans, division commander.

AIRLINER MAKES ROUGH LANDING IN THUNDERSTORM—A Delta Air Lines DC-7 rests on nose with tail high in air where it came to a stop after rough landing in a thunderstorm at Moisant International Airport, at New Orleans, with 73 persons aboard early yesterday. Firemen examine nose-wheel which snapped off in landing. Several passengers were reported shaken up, but no injuries were reported. The control tower said gusts of wind apparently forced the plane off course just before it made contact with the runway. (AP Wirephoto)

Satellite Dog May Have Died

MOSCOW, Nov. 8 (UP) — The official Soviet report on Sputnik II today made no mention of its dog passenger, leading observers to believe the world's first space traveler might be dead in the metal container whirling around the earth.

Laika, the 40 - pound Arctic sledge dog encased in the half-ton shell was alive Thursday, five days after the satellite was shot 1,056 miles into space. But apparently the dog's life began ebbing. The Tass news agency report Thursday said scientists were receiving data only on the animal's main physiological functions.

Observers interpreted the agency's failure to mantion Laika today to mean scientists received nothing from the transmitters attuned to the dog.

Value To Science

There had been reports shortly after the launching last Sunday that efforts would be made to bring the dog back to earth alive. Even dead, the body would be of falue to scientists studying the effects of such space phenomena as cosmic rays on flesh and blood.

Russians, as well as westerners, had expressed anxiety and sympathy for the dop.

But scientists, interested primarily in unlocking the secrets of space, planned further animal exeriments outside the earth's atmosphere. The newspaper Pravda reported earlier this week that anthropoid apes might be sent up in the next satellite.

The satellite itself appeared to be functioning normally. The Tass communique said that at 6 a. m., Moscow time (9 p.m. CST, Thursday), the elongaged Sputnik had circled the globe in its orbit more than 82 times.

Original Sputnik Still Goes

Sputnik I, a sphere weighing 184 pounds, one-sixth the weight of the bigger satellite, still was whirling on its lower orbit and had made 530 revolutions around the earth since Oct. 4.

Its fellow-traveling rocket had lapped it three times and had made 533 revolutions.

(A Soviet scientist on a Radio Moscow broadcast heard in London said satellites might have a very practical value in the future as relay points for radio, and TV signals.

(The scientist, identified as a professor Manayev, said a Sputnik at an altitude of 600 to 900 miles would provide a "radius of action" for such signals covering "thousands of miles.")

Water Tower Falls, Hurls Man To Death

MELROSE PARK, Ill., Nov. 8 (UP)—The steel dome of a huge water reservoir collapsed today, hurling one man to his death and trapping workmen in the wreckage.

Police and firemen from three suburban Chicago towns cut loose five trapped workmen with acetyline torches. They were hospitalized, along with three other injured men. Two of them were reported in serious condition.

Rescue workers continued digging for about an hour longer until authorities were sure no workmen had been overlooked. The dead man was identified as Leonardis Hale of Indianapolis, Ind.

At least 15 men were on top of the empty, 4-million gallon reservoir, pouring concrete, when the dome collapsed. The weight of the concrete, plus high winds raking the structure, probably contributed to the breakdown, authorities said.

The men on top of the reservoir were hurled 30 feet to the ground. Persons who had been watching the work from below were also injured. The roar of the crash was heard throughout the area.

Lease-Buy Plan In Use Again By U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UP)—The government has reactivated its 700 million dollar lease-purchase program by calling for bids on 10 projects.

The General Services Administration, which met with little success after twice revising the program's requirements to attract investors and builders, suspended the entire program last February.

At the time GSA said the reason was to reduce inflationary pressures although all of the previous bids but one had been rejected.

In calling for investors and builders to submit bids next week the government lifted the previously restricted 4 per cent interest rate.

A GSA spokesman said, "we are seeking the lowest reasonable rate we can get without the 4 per cent limitation."

The projects and dates for inviting and opening financial bids include:

Nov. 12 and Dec. 10 — Albuquerque, N. M., federal office building, financng required—$5,300,000, with 25-year repayment.

Nov. 14 and Dec. 12 — Kansas City, Kans., U. S. Post Office and courthouse, financing required — $2,100,000, wth 25-year repayment. Green Bay, Wis., U. S. Post Office, financing required — $1,550,000, with 10-year repayment.

Nov. 18 and Dec. 17 — Gainesville, Tex., U. S. Post Office, financing required — $620,000, wth 10-year repayment.

NEW FRENCH PARTY FORMED

PARIS (UP)— A newly-formed ultra right-wing political party said today its avowed intention is to destroy the present regime in France and guillotine "traitors" if it comes to power. The new party —the 14th in France — is the Revolutionary Patriot Party founded by Jean-Baptiste Biaggi, a turbulent right-winger. Formation of the party means the emergence of an extremist right-wing group which is the direct heir to the various neo-Fascist leagues which plagued political life toward the end of the Third Republic — before the last war broke out.

4 Men Taken To Angola Prison

Four men sentenced here recently on burglary charges to a total of 21 years in prison, were flown to Angola yesterday by the parish sheriff's department.

Sheriff Bailey Grant identified the men as Percy Williams, Walter Brisco, Huey P. Long and Charlie Taylor.

Taylor drew three years on each of four burglary counts, the sentences to run concurrently, and the other three men received three years each on burglary convictions.

The four were escorted to Angola by Deputy J. R. Bell.

ROSSELLINI CASE

Indian Consulting Lawyer On Affair

BOMBAY, India, Nov. 8 (AP)—Hari Das Gupta, Indian movie director, said today he intends to consult a lawyer about his wife's reported romance with Roberto Rossellini.

Rossellini, Italian film director, and Ingrid Bergman, the Swedish actress, obtained a legal separation in Rome yesterday after a 7-year marriage. They gave incompatability as the reason.

Rossellini has been reported en route to Paris since a Rome court granted the separation. Das Gupta's beautiful 27-year-old wife, Sonali, was said by the French airline, Air France, on Oct. 8 to have arrived in Paris two days before. Newsmen never were able to find her there, however.

Das Gupta was shooting a documentary film at studios in a Bombay suburb when news of the Rossellini - Bergman separation reached here. He was working as usual today.

One Comment

He has made but one comment since newspapers reported that Sonali, hired as a script writer by Rossellini, had left her husband and two children and was living in a hotel apartment next to Rossellini's.

At that time Das Gupta said he was bewildered by the "unexpected episode." Friends quoted him, however, as saying he was of the belief his wife was under Rossellini's "spell."

Friends of Das Gupta said today he met his wife once after she left him, and that Sonali asked for a divorce.

At that time Rossellini, who came here last December to make documentary films for the Indian government, was denying any breach with Ingrid or any romantic interest in Sonali.

Miss Bergman was in Rome today with the three children of her Rossellini union. Her friends did not know whether she would seek a divorce. A divorce would have to be obtained in another country, since the only legal provision for dissolving a marriage in Italy is by an annulment granted by the Roman Catholic Church.

Miss Bergman's divorce from her first husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, was obtained by proxy in Mexico.

One of the callers at her Rome home today was Marcella de Marchias, whose marriage to Rossellini was annuled in 1949. Renzo, Rossellini's son by this marriage, made the call with his mother.

The actress' friends said one reason for the breakup of the Bergman-Rossellini marriage was his objection to her long stage engagement in "Tea and Sympathy" in Paris which took her away from their three children.

YMCA President Here Re-Elected

Re-elected as YMCA president for the coming year was Mrs. A. E. Allen, who was named at a recent meeting of the group's board of directors.

Mrs. J. Norman Coon will be vice-president; Mrs. E. O. Hinton, secretary; Mrs. B. L. Mulhearn, treasurer, and Mrs. i. T. Landy, corresponding secretary.

Named to the board were Mrs. D. V. Loflin, Mrs. Lester Carr, Mrs. Wiliam Hochstetler and Mrs. F. J. Willey Jr.

Coleman Sees Approval Of Convention

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP)—Gov. J. P. Coleman, expressing renewed confidence that the Legislature will call a constitutional convention, said today the only issue is whether the people would be trusted to elect delegates and vote on the proposed amendment.

In his first news conference since the Legislature met in special session Nov. 5, Coleman told newsmen the people "are becoming aware of what's involved."

"How any legislator can deny the right of the people to control their own affairs is a mystery to me, and I believe the people will say likewise," he added.

The governor who says a new constitution is needed to help industrialize the state and strengthen its segregation laws said no harm could come from a constitutional convention because "the people will have the final say as to the adoption of a new constitution."

He criticized Sen. Kelly Hammond of Columbia, saying the south Mississippi senator violated his own platform when he came out against a constitutional convention on the Senate floor Thursday.

He said he understood Hammond based his opposition on the claim that the Marion County board of supervisors opposes a convention.

"If this be true," Coleman said, "what the people of Marion County have is the board of supervisors representing them instead of Mr. Hammond."

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 8 (AP)—Gov. J. P. Coleman, expressing renewed confidence that the Legislature will call a constitutional convention, said today the only issue is whether the people would be trusted to elect delegates and vote on the proposed amendment.

In his first news conference since the Legislature met in special session Nov. 5, Coleman told newsmen the people "are becoming aware of what's involved."

"How any legislator can deny the right of the people to control their own affairs is a mystery to me, and I believe the people will say likewise," he added.

The governor who says a new constitution is needed to help industrialize the state and strengthen its segregation laws said no harm could come from a constitutional convention because "the people will have the final say as to the adoption of a new constitution."

He criticized Sen. Kelly Hammond of Columbia, saying the south Mississippi senator violated his own platform when he came out against a constitutional convention on the Senate floor Thursday.

He said he understood Hammond based his opposition on the claim that the Marion County board of supervisors opposes a convention.

"If this be true," Coleman said, "what the people of Marion County have is the board of supervisors representing them instead of Mr. Hammond."
